OMETHING IS WRONG WITH THIS WORLD... BUT YOU KNOW THAT! YOU always knew it, otherwise you wouldn’t be reading these lines. You knew something was wrong, and you wanted to know what exactly. Press, television, and then internet, never lacked explanations, analyses, indications, telling you that the System is damaged, that there are elements to replace, to repair, to improve. And they have been replaced, and repaired, and improved. Over and over again. Over and over – in vain. OK, nothing’s perfect, you used to say. But one day you noticed something strange: the System improved, but – not the world. That was the day you saw that the System and the world are not the same thing. That was the day you woke up.

You have woken up, but still cannot see what exactly is wrong with the world. Because nothing has ever been wrong with the real world. What’s wrong is the virtual world, like the wool pulled over your eyes by the System to blind you. The more you invest yourself, your forces and talents, into repairing and improving that virtual world, the more you improve the System, the more you help it to better blind and enslave you.

The System is not a kind of divine superpower. It is neither above you nor elsewhere outside of you – it is inside … well, not of you, but of what it made you believe you are. It made you believe your body is all there is of you here, in this world. “Which world?” you may ask. We hope you do! Because the System is right: in its virtual, blinding, enslaving, fake world you are nothing but flesh and bones. But in the real world you are infinitely more than that! Not a mortal human, but an immortal Universal being.

Look, it’s just logical. As human beings, we need a spacesuit to stay alive outside our planet. As Universal beings, we need a similar sort of “earthsuit” to experience a journey called “life” on the planet Earth. Our bodies are such “earthsuits”.

As any example, this comparison is rough and limited, but it still shows the distance between feeling the false (waking up) and becoming aware of what’s true. What’s true is that there is no more difference between you and the world around you than between a single drop of water in the ocean and the ocean itself as a whole.

An even better example would be that of a hologram. Most of you know what one is. No matter how many parts a holographic picture is broken into, even the smallest part of it will still contain the whole picture down to the smallest detail. It’s as if every page of every book in every library in the world contained all the pages of all the books of all libraries.

What does it all have to do with the System, the Illuminati, the New World Order, wars, politics and you? Absolutely everything. Not only such a “holographic” vision of the world and of ourselves allows us to see what is called “the Big Picture”, it allows to recognize this Big Picture in every smallest “dot” of it, however insignificant and separate from other “dots” it might seem, and to see your reflection in it.

So, since you’ve woken up, it’s time to hit the road. We don’t promise this road to be an easy one. We don’t promise you’ll appreciate every step of it. We just promise this road will lead you to the truth.

IN BRIEF

The Obama factor: How to control a herd of humans

Hitler and Mussolini both had the ability to bend millions of people to their fascist will. Now evidence from psychology and neurology is emerging to explain how tactics like organised marching and propaganda can work to exert mass mind control.

Scott Wiltermuth of Stanford University in California and colleagues have found that activities performed in unison, such as marching or dancing, increase loyalty to the group. “It makes us feel as though we’re part of a larger entity, so we see the group’s welfare as being as important as our own,” he says.

Wiltermuth’s team separated 96 people into four groups who performed these tasks together: listening to a song while silently mouthing the words, singing along, singing and dancing, or listening to different versions of the song so that they sang and danced out of sync.

In a later game, when asked to decide whether to stick with the group or strive for personal gain, those in the non-synchronised group behaved less loyally than the rest (Psychological Science, vol. 20).

Meanwhile, the powerful unifying effects of propaganda images are being explored by Charles Seger at Indiana University at Bloomington. His team primed students with pictures of their university – college sweatshirts or the buildings themselves – then asked how highly they scored on different emotions, such as pride or happiness. The primed students gave a strikingly similar emotional profile, in contrast with non-primed students (Journal of Experimental Social Psychology, December 2008).

Interest in the idea of a herd mentality has been renewed by work into mirror neurons – cells that fire when we perform an action or watch someone perform a similar action. It suggests that our brains are geared to mimic our peers. “We are set up for ‘auto-copy,’” says Haidt.

Neurological evidence seems to back this idea. Vasily Klucharev, at the Donders Centre for Cognitive Neuroimaging in Nijmegen, the Netherlands, found that the brain releases more of the reward chemical dopamine when we fall in line with the group consensus (Neuron, vol. 61, p. 140). His team asked 24 women to rate more than 200 women for attractiveness. If a participant discovered their ratings did not tally with that of the others, they tended to readjust their scores. When a woman realised her differing opinion, fMRI scans revealed that her brain generated what the team dubbed an “error signal”.

This has a conditioning effect, says Klucharev: it’s how we learn to follow the crowd.

David Robson, New Scientist, 4 February 2009

EDITORIAL: THE OBAMA FACTOR, REVEALED

When it comes to Barack Obama’s popularity, are some of us just sheep following the herd? Yes, he’s got bucket loads of charisma, but we may be more susceptible to conformity than we imagine.

A recent study shows that we condition our opinions in response to those of others – when we agree with the crowd, we get a dopamine kick, and when we disagree, we feel like we’ve been punished. It’s a basic response that’s hard to resist. Once Obama’s popularity reached a critical mass, his success may have been inevitable.

Global Warming scam is a war on economic liberty

“The largest threat to freedom, democracy, the market economy, and prosperity at the end of the 20th and at the beginning of the 21st century is no longer socialism. It is, instead, the ambitious, arrogant, unscrupulous ideology of environmentalism.”

— Václav Klaus, President of the Czech Republic, current President of the EU.

Václav Klaus, the Czech Republic’s opinionated president and current president of the European Union, will keynote a session of the 2009 International Conference on Climate Change, March 8-10, in New York.

Klaus, who holds the EU presidency as it rotates among the 27 member nations, has been an outspoken and controversial skeptic about the causes and severity of global warming.

His recent book, Blue Planet in Green Shackles, argues that the debate over global warming has “become a symbol and example of the clash between truth and propaganda.” He makes the case that policies being proposed to address global warming are not justified by current science and are, in fact, a dangerous threat to freedom and prosperity around the world.

Global warming is one of several issues that Klaus, 67, advances against the prevailing view of other EU members.

James M. Taylor, senior fellow at The Heartland Institute and organizer of the conference, said, “President Klaus is a human rights warrior and a true champion of basic human freedoms. His insight into the negative correlation between heavy-handed greenhouse gas restrictions and basic human freedoms will provide a sensational addition to the 2009 International Conference on Climate Change.”

Joseph Bast, president of The Heartland Institute, producer of the event along with more than 40 co-sponsors, said, “In the past nine months, the science has grown even more convincing that global warming is not a crisis. The crisis has been cancelled by sound science and common sense.”

Klaus joins a line-up of more than 70 speakers, including the world’s climate science elite, economists, and meteorologists, including:

- José María Aznar, former prime minister of Spain;
- Dr. Jack Schmitt, American astronaut;
- Richard Lindzen, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, one of the world’s leading experts in dynamic meteorology, especially planetary waves;
- William Gray, Colorado State University, leading researcher into tropical weather patterns;
- Willie Soon, Harvard-Smithsonian Center for Astrophysics;
- Roy Spencer, University of Alabama at Huntsville, principal research scientist and team leader on NASA’s Aqua satellite.

Dan Miller, executive vice president of The Heartland Institute, a 25-year-old national nonpartisan think-tank based in Chicago, said, “All of the event’s expenses will be covered by admission fees and individual and foundation donors to Heartland. No corporate dollars earmarked for the event were solicited or accepted.”

ABOUT VÁCLAV KLAUS’ BOOK

In his provocative new book on environmental policy, Blue Planet in Green Shackles, Václav Klaus, President of the Czech Republic makes the case that policies being proposed to address global warming are not justified by current science and are, in fact, a dangerous threat to freedom and prosperity around the world.

Klaus argues that the environmental movement has transformed itself into an ideology that seeks to restrict human activities at any cost, while pursuing an impossible utopian dream of a perfectly “natural” world.

The supposed threat of human civilization against a fragile Earth has become an article of faith, especially in the realm of global warming activism.

“The largest threat to freedom, democracy, the market economy, and prosperity at the end of the 20th and at the beginning of the 21st century is no longer socialism,” writes Klaus. “It is, instead, the ambitious, arrogant, unscrupulous ideology of environmentalism.”

“Today, the global warming debate raging in both the United States and Europe has become extremely contentious. On both sides of the Atlantic, the debate has metastasized into cultural warfare against economic liberty,” writes the Competitive Enterprise Institute’s President Fred L. Smith, Jr. in the book’s foreword. “For that reason, pro-freedom voices are needed to reframe the debate to show how a free people can better address the challenges facing Western civilization. To that end, we are proud to publish Blue Planet in Green Shackles.”

MOBVIS: Mapping You Here, There and Everywhere

The MOBVIS system can recognize individual buildings in a photo you take with your camera-phone. Then it can apply icons that hyperlink to information about the building. Simply by looking at a picture, the system knows where you are and can tell what you are looking at.

MOBVIS is funded by the EU and is apparently ready to push some image-recognition technology on us, bringing us another step closer to total surveillance, and sadly there is no doubt that it will soon be a must have upgrade – for everyone.

MOBVIS partnered with Tele Atlas, a digital mapping service. Tele Atlas has a fleet of mobile mapping vans driving around the world collecting data, taking pictures of everything they pass. Together they will be able to tell you about your surroundings, or even tell you who you are standing next to:

“We will detect and recognize objects of high interest in urban scenarios, such as, buildings, infrastructure, people, and faces.”

The MOBVIS system has just been unveiled and yet to be commercialized, but it is not difficult to see what the future holds, and it’s more than just “hyperlinking reality.”

Part of their research money was put behind Human Activity Recognition with Wearable Sensors, this was to enable the MOBVIS system to track the users movements.

“Imagine simply by wearing a wristband, you could recognize the wearer’s activities, such as sitting, standing, walking, cycling, or running in real-time.”

This leads us all a bit closer to accepting a chip, for now its a “wearable sensor”, a wristband, and people will line up for them. According to the report (Human Activity Recognition with Wearable Sensors), these sensors can be used to entertain yourself better, for gamers especially. For industrial purposes, employers can keep track of their employees, add microphones and accelerometers to really know your employee’s maximum output. Of course the wearable sensor will be great for health care, maybe they would eventually become mandatory for those countries with universal health care,

“Preventing age-related diseases or severe medical conditions before they actually happen … employ long-term monitoring to detect changes or unusual patterns in a person’s daily life that may indicate early symptoms of diseases.”

Exactly how long term will they monitor? To maximize the full potential they would have to start from birth.

The ICT (Information & Communication Technologies) press release said it all: “MOBVIS has just opened a window to previously unimaginable innovations for everyday uses of mobile systems. The mobile phone will just become our personal multisensor magic wand to discover unknown stories in intuitive interaction with our environment.”

Mass-market applications may have to wait, but they are unlikely to wait too long because the technology is just too useful. Travel guidebook publishers could exploit the service to provide interactive information relevant to the user’s location at a specific point in time. Instead of hoping that a tourist buys their guide at the airport, publishers will be able to sell their service anytime and anywhere.

The most famous aspect of the project is robotic vision. Image recognition is already used to sort fruit – machines can divide produce according to degrees of quality. Face recognition, too, is a big area of research, particularly in the domain of security since the 9/11 terrorist attacks in the USA.

EDITOR’S NOTE: The name MOBVIS is well chosen: it means “mob-vision”, or “visualizing the mob”. A “physical” police state will be easier to swallow when the mob is already in the “police state of mind” and potentially agrees to be traced willingly, happily, and even pay hundreds to get those personal sensor wands…

UFO-related Data: NASA Has Been Lying For Decades

Evidence that U.S. space agency NASA has defrauded U.S. taxpayers for billions of dollars could scrap NASA’s case against UK hacker Gary McKinnon. Credible witnesses have claimed that NASA has altered or destroyed its photos containing images of UFOs. This could become a legal and public relations nightmare for NASA.

The space agency is attempting to prosecute McKinnon for hacking into NASA computer files. McKinnon has stated that he saw UFO-related files in NASA’s computers. But NASA has denied any “cover-up”.

NASA’s claim of innocence faces a serious challenge. Some of the whistleblowers are former NASA employees and contractors with inside knowledge of NASA’s operation. If NASA’s destruction of public property is confirmed, the alleged cost of McKinnon’s hacking would be insignificant compared to NASA’s annual funding of more than $17 billion. Even worse, NASA’s year 2000 mission statement boasted that it is “ethical and honest” in all that they do.

Part of NASA’s mission is to look for signs of intelligent life in outer space. So asking for more money to ‘look’ after they’ve already destroyed evidence that they ‘found’ is not going to be easy.

Among these whistleblowers are US Air Force Sergeant Karl Wolfe, former NASA employee Donna Hare, and former NASA engineer John Schuessler. Wolfe and Hare exposed some of NASA’s misdeeds at the May 9, 2001 Disclosure Project press conference in Washington, D.C. They both offered to give similar testimony before the U.S. Congress.

According to the Disclosure Project:

Donna Hare had a secret clearance while working for NASA contractor, Philco Ford. She testifies that she was shown a photo of a picture with a distinct UFO. Her colleague explained that it was his job to airbrush such evidence of UFOs out of photographs before they were released to the public. She also heard information from other Johnson Space Center employees that some astronauts had seen extraterrestrial craft and that when some of them wanted to speak out about this they were threatened.

Sergeant Karl Wolfe was in the Air Force for 4 and 1/2 years beginning in January 1964. He had a top-secret crypto clearance and worked with the tactical air command at Langley AFB in Virginia. While working at a NSA [National Security Agency] facility he was shown photographs taken by the Lunar Orbiter of the moon that showed detailed artificial structures. Photos were taken prior to the Apollo landing in 1969.

John Schuessler is a Denver area resident and retired aerospace engineer from Lockheed Martin. He worked at NASA on nearly every manned U.S. space flight since its inception. In a March 19, 2008 lecture in Lakewood, CO, Schuessler talked about seeing an unfamiliar photo from one of the Apollo moon landings. Schuessler said:

“I went to a conference in Canada, in Toronto. I think it was [19]82. A guy came up to me and said ‘I’ve got this NASA photo. Do you recognize this?’ And it was an Apollo shot. And it was an official lithograph that they release. I’ve got hundreds of these lithographs.

I didn’t have that one. And they are all numbered. They have a photograph number on them and on the back of them is printed the information about what it is. This photograph had a UFO in the background.

So as soon as I got back to Houston I went to the photo lab and told them I’d like to look at the Apollo photos. And we’re old friends you know, so they said ‘sure here’s the rack of them.’

So I went down through the rack of the Apollo photos and the numbers sequentially. And I got to a series of numbers, that this one was in the middle of, and there were no photos. They were all missing. And I said ‘well where are these photos?’ He said, ‘well it’s like all these others, the film was bad.’ And I had seen the thing first hand with the NASA printing on it so I know it came out. But it was withdrawn.”

Schuessler was also the co-founder of MUFON (Mutual UFO Network) International and its past Director. It was Schuessler’s story of the missing NASA UFO photo that was largely responsible for inspiring the ballot initiative to create an Extraterrestrial Affairs Commission in Denver.

NASA seems intent on making an example of UK hacker Gary McKinnon. In the end, the public might be intent on making an example of NASA. After all, how can NASA keep getting $17 billion a year during an economic crisis after taxpayers find out NASA has been lying to them for decades and squandering their hard-earned money? The legal experts should ask, “Is it a crime for someone to hack into a government agency that is committing a much bigger crime?”

There’s talk that McKinnon might serve up to 60-70 years in prison if found guilty. So what is the maximum sentence for NASA officials if found guilty of defrauding taxpayers?

“Earth to NASA: you have a problem!”

The chemicals detected included carbendazim, thiabendazole, imaza- alil, prochloraz, malathion and iprodione. They are mainly applied to fruit after harvest to stop it developing fungal infections and rotting. A total of 19 products were bought in the UK, all made by Coca-Cola.

Two orange drinks bought in the UK contained imazalil at 300 times the limit permitted for a single pesticide in drinking water. Two similar products contained 98 times the legal drinking water limit for thiabendazole. The average level of the total pesticide contamination of the British drinks was 17.4 parts per billion – 34.6 times the EU maximum residue level for water.

Coca-Cola GB insisted the products are safe. A spokesman said: “All of the drinks tested meet the safety regulations relating to food products made from agricultural ingredients, which include drinks with fruit juice as an ingredient. The generally miniscule levels that were detected were within the acceptable daily intake levels and these findings should reassure consumers there is no safety issue here.”

MORE PESTICIDES IN UK JUICE DRINKS

Fruit juice drinks sold in Britain contain larger amounts of pesticides than products sold elsewhere in the world, according to new research. A study sampling more than 100 drinks from 15 countries found those in Britain had the highest concentrations. The levels were on average more than 34 times greater than those permitted in drinking water, with some up to 300 times.

The Food Standards Agency said the residue levels found in the study by the University of Jaen in southern Spain were relatively low and were not considered a safety risk. There are, however, no maximum recommended limits for pesticide residues in fruit juices.

Peter Melchett, of the Soil Association, said: “The government fails to protect people from pesticides. There needs to be more work on the cumulative effect of residues and this report provides further evidence of a laissez-faire approach.” The researchers bought 102 drinks from countries including the USA, Russia, Italy, Germany, France and Switzerland.

In Britain the drinks were bought in London, Cambridge and Edinburgh. The concentrations of pesticides were compared with the levels permitted in drinking water in the EU. These are 0.1 micrograms per litre for each pesticide and 0.5 micrograms per litre for the total concentration.

The average concentration of pesticides was the highest in Britain at 17.4 micrograms per litre, ahead of 12.3 in Spain and 4.9 in France. Drinks bought in the United States, Russia and Morocco had significantly lower levels of pesticide, according to the report in the journal Analytical Chemistry.

Georgina Downs, of the UK Pesticides Campaign, said: “Children should not be exposed to these chemicals. This research should act as a serious alarm bell to the soft drinks industry.”

Why Build Your Own Community Currency System?

A Local Exchange Trading System (LETS) is a community-owned and run currency system based on a zero-sum model, as opposed to monetary systems in which the banks continuously add interest, thereby increasing the money supply. Each member’s account is usually set to start at zero; in order to trade on average half the accounts will be "in commitment" but with no interest being charged or earned at either end.

The zero-sum system enables members who engage in mutual exchange activities to record the value of that exchange, as a simultaneous plus and minus in each other’s accounts. Historically, some LETS groups keep manual ledgers, others use stand alone database systems to carry out these transactions. The next generation of networked community currency systems is changing the scene, immensely.

During WSFII (the World Summit on Free Information Infrastructures), a local currency was used to manage internal accounting between organisers, and provide attendees with food tokens in the local shops. The "Lime" (for Limehouse in London, where the event was held) was not a LETS system proper, but an event currency only usable within a discrete period of time. This seemed like excellent way of bootstrapping what could become a fully-developed local currency, because it established with local traders the idea that Limes are real, they equate to the mainstream currency, and they work for all. Once confidence is established, it becomes possible to take the currency "virtual"; so traders would not necessarily feel the need to cash out in sterling, but could keep a balance on their Limes account.

An ideal scenario: perhaps they need some help to serve behind the counter. They could connect to a local information portal and consult a directory to find someone willing to do this kind of work in exchange for Limes, which are redeemable in other local shops. This scenario may be some way into the future, but the Limes experience at WSFII laid a good foundation for proving the concept could work.

Motivations of people joining a currency community vary from needing help and being short of cash to having time on their hands and wanting to help but not really feeling they could afford to volunteer. Some people worry about the actions of the mainstream banking system, which is grounded in two things: control of the mechanism for credit creation, and control of public confidence. Many also wonder if there's a way to "open-source" the things people need from central banking systems.

Talking at WSFII, as the coordinator of LETS Link UK, I suggested that no project is more worthwhile than this to devote your energy to if you are concerned about world poverty and the monetary system which engineers it. You can protest about it, try to mitigate it or try to change the paradigm which makes it work. LETS Link is making a real effort now to bring together the people who are working on open source community currency software systems and thinking about making them work in the world.

WSFII had an event currency called the “Lime”. The “Special Edition” Lime was valid for one week, 26 September – 2 October 2005. This edition was little more than a voucher, it was backed one-to-one by real cash, and any vendor participating in the project had any Lime notes exchanged for Pounds on a regular basis.

The currency was a “scrip”, a printed note issued in 3 denominations; two Limes, one Lime and half Lime. Notes were printed onto green paper and a red stamp used as a simple counterfeit prevention mechanism.

Greenman

Involving local businesses. We described the Lime to local businesses as “food tokens”. Delegates to our conference would be given tokens which they would use to exchange for food. We gave each business about £50 as a deposit and asked them to accept 50 Limes worth of business. When the £50 was used up, we would pay them a visit and hand over more money. We mentioned that, if they were happy to accept more Limes than they had deposit for, we would reimburse them for those too. Stores were given an information sheet on how the “food tokens” worked, as well as a small “Limes Accepted Here” sign to post in their window.

Issuing the currency. To manage our accounting, and to ensure that the currency was fully backed, we “sold” Limes to core WSFII participants. These backers had funding budgets allocated for food catering in the week leading up to the event. The first run of 500 Limes was sold for £500 and this money was used to pay deposits in the stores. The core backers were then able to distribute the Limes to members from their teams. A few more runs totalling about 500 Limes were printed in the week leading up to the event.

Once the event began, we used the takings on the door to back the currency. Half of the entrance fee, £10 on day one or £5 on day two, were converted into Limes and returned to the delegate. For concession entrance, we charged £5 entrance and handed it all back in Limes. The rest of the fee was used to back the Limes handed out to conference speakers. In total, we issued a little over £2000 in Limes.

Managing the economy. Once a level of trust had been established, managing the currency became a matter of visiting participating stores once every day or two to keep our credit rating up. The store owners were all very happy and we discovered the major benefit of owning all the money – we did not need to pay for anything!

No, he’s not Bush – he’s potentially far more dangerous; and what is the use of a spirit of ‘hope’ if it’s based on a lie? In fact, what use is ‘hope’ at all?

Obama’s wife, Michelle, who I wouldn’t trust to tell me the date in a calendar factory, said that ‘everything begins and ends with hope’. Utter nonsense. Hope is a meaningless emotion because its fruits are always in the future and, by definition, never in the NOW.

Hope is like riding a carousel horse; no matter how fast you go you never get closer to the one in front. The idea, however, is to persuade you to stay on the horse, despite the evitable disappointment, in the ‘hope’ that things will change. But they don’t because the very system is designed to prevent it.

That’s the way ‘hope’ is employed by the dastardly and devious – take the crap we are giving you now in the ‘hope’ that things will get better (but we know they won’t). Barack Obama is a purveyor of ‘hope’ because his masters want the people to accept what they are given now in the hope that good times will come.

Just do what we demand, oops, sorry, Barack demands, and in return he’ll inspire you to hope that it is all leading to the Promised Land. It isn’t, but, by the time you realise that, it’s too late.

What terrifies the manipulators is that people will abandon hope, as a future, sometime-never projection, and start to demand fairness, justice and freedom now. To avoid this nightmare they need to keep those desires as something to aspire to, not to actually have. Thus, their man, Obama, sells ‘hope’ as a diversion technique, a holding position, to keep the masses from truly rebelling.

We have no job, no food on the table and our home has been foreclosed, but at least we have ‘hope’. Phew, thank goodness for that.

‘I’m hungry, mum, can I have some hope, please?’
‘I’m so sorry, darling, you can’t have hope today, only tomorrow – hope is always tomorrow.
‘So will I eat tomorrow, mum?’
‘We can hope so now, dear, but when we get to tomorrow, we can only hope it’s the next day.’
On and on it goes. That’s how ‘hope’ works. Or rather doesn’t.

Obama’s predominant mantra has been ‘change’. Indeed, his massively-funded, record-breaking campaign was based on that one word – change. This is a technique used by Bill Clinton and many others and it is highly effective because, at any point, the system ensures that most people are not happy with the way life is. So, when you don’t like the status quo, ‘change’ can be a potent message, even if, like Obama, you don’t say what it means.

It has been vital to his success, and that of his controllers, that he has never specified what his ‘hope’, ‘change’, and that other mind-control trigger-word, ‘believe’, were referring to in terms of policy and the way society in general will be affected. Hope for what? Change what? Believe in what? To answer those questions with specifics would have been fatal to Obama’s appeal.

I studied the military/government mind-control programmes and techniques in great detail for many years during the late 1990s and across 2000, and the Obama ‘phenomenon’ is the most blatant mass-mind control operation you could wish to see.

At its core the plan has been to make Obama the focus of everything you hope for, believe in and want to change. This is why it has been crucial for him not to specify and detail what is meant by his ‘hope’, ‘change’ and ‘believe’.

However, I can tell you what those words mean in the context of the Obama mind-game. They mean whatever you decide they mean or want them to mean. The idea is for you to project all that you stand for onto him and so he becomes the symbol of you and how you see the world. Specifics would destroy that ‘I am whatever you want me to be’ scenario and so you don’t get any detail, just ‘hope’, ‘change’, and ‘believe’.

They don’t want him to be seen only as ‘the Messiah’; they also want him to be Abraham Lincoln, JFK, or Buddha – anyone you choose to project on him, for he is a blank page, blank screen and empty suit. Obama is a make-your-own, do-it-yourself leader, a projection of your own mind. (If you are still asleep, that is. If you are in any way awake, he’s an open book.)

See the video How Obama Got Elected 1 to see how easy it is to manipulate the masses. It’s child’s play.

There is no more powerful way of manipulating people than to tell them what they want to hear and to keep shut about anything they wouldn’t like. Double-glazing salesmen are trained to pick up in general conversation what their target likes and dislikes and to respond accordingly in the way the product is sold. The technique is simply to tell the potential buyer what you have gleaned they want to be told.

Obama comes from the same stable, but on a massively bigger scale and with a whole network of advisors and controllers steeped in the art of manipulating minds, opinions and actions.
Obama’s written-for-him speeches are not from the heart, but from the autocue. The ‘heart’ bit comes from extensive training and his Bill Clinton-esque ability to ‘mean it when he says it’, a state of delivery that goes beyond mere acting. Tony Blair was trained in the same way. But if you take a step back and look at these people dispassionately you can clearly see the techniques they consciously employ. Blair is the most blatant fraud in the way he delivers a line, stops in mid-sentence for emphasis and looks down for fake emotional effect. Obama is a little more slick, but, from where I have been looking this past year, not much. And how have people not seen those cold eyes just above the painted smile?

You can watch his mind working, turning between autocue screens to his left and right, then straight down the camera for his key messages. From-the-heart orators don’t do that; they are too immersed in what they are feeling and saying to give even a passing thought to where they are looking or how the line is delivered.

I worked in television for more than a decade, often reading autocue while a director spoke in my ear telling me what cameras to look at. I have, since the early 1990s, spoken my truth on public stages across the world. I know, therefore, the difference between artificial autocue delivery and body language and talking from the heart without a script. Obama, I repeat, is coming from the autocue, not the heart.

Obama’s speeches are a mass of mind-control techniques and Neuro-Linguistic-Programming (NLP), and they are carefully constructed to implant beliefs and perceptions into the mind of the viewer. See here for a description of his psycho-babble, headed An Examination of Obama’s Use of Hidden Hypnosis Techniques in His Speeches.

As I keep emphasising, the whole Obama circus is an exercise in mass mind control and it has been so successful because so many people live their lives in a permanent state of trance. All of which brings me to the parallels with Nazi Germany, fascist Italy and similar regimes throughout history.

Obama may not look like Hitler, nor sound like Hitler, but the themes are just the same. Germany was in a terrible state economically and militarily in the 1930s in the aftermath of the First World War and the reparations inflicted on the country by the Rothschild/Illuminati-controlled Versailles ‘Peace’ Conference in 1919.

From amid the chaos came the man that Germans saw then in much the same way that so many see Obama today. His name was Adolf Hitler and his oratory and rhetoric, again supported by a ritualistic presentation founded on mind-control techniques, made him appear to be the German ‘messiah’, the German Obama.

Hitler promised ‘change’, ‘hope’ and something to ‘believe in’ amidst the consequences of war and financial collapse. He spoke to vast rallies of adoring followers and a mass movement emerged in support of Hitler’s vision of a new tomorrow.

As the writer Webster Tarpley points out, fascism in its true sense is not just a Police State imposed by a tiny hierarchy. It might end up like that, but first it is brought to power by a mass movement from within the people who have no understanding of what the ‘change’, ‘hope’ and ‘believe’ they are being offered really means. They just know that they want some because, as with Obama, they make it mean what they want it to mean. Only later do they see, to their horror, what they have signed up for.
Obama is far more dangerous than Bush because he can sell a line to those who are in the trance while Boy Bush could not do that on anything like the same scale. Bush was a transparent idiot with no communication skills who needed massive fraud at the polls to get him officially ‘elected’. He could never be the figurehead to inspire a mass movement of the people to support some vacuous ‘hope’, ‘change’ and ‘believe’ when they don’t even know what those words are supposed to mean.

But Obama clearly can, because he has.

One of ‘his’ (his controllers’) prime targets are the young, just as they were with the Nazis and the Hitler Youth Movement. If you think this parallel is far-fetched then have a look at this video to see how extreme Obama worship has already become for some young people.

In line with this theme, the WorldNetDaily website reported:

‘The official website of President-Elect Barack Obama, Change.gov, originally announced that Obama would “require” all middle school through college students to participate in community service programs; but after a flurry of blogs protested children being drafted into Obama’s proposed youth corps, the website’s wording was softened.

‘Originally, under the tab “America Serves”, Change.gov read, “President-Elect Obama will expand national service programs like AmeriCorps and Peace Corps and will create a new Classroom Corps to help teachers in under served schools, as well as a new Health Corps, Clean Energy Corps, and Veterans Corps.

‘Obama will call on citizens of all ages to serve America, by developing a plan to require 50 hours of community service in middle school and high school and 100 hours of community service in college every year,” the site announced.’

Obama said in a speech in July 2008 in Colorado Springs that he wanted to see a ‘civilian national security force’ that would be as powerful and well-funded as the Marines, Navy and Air Force.

As Joseph Farah, founder of WorldNetDaily, wrote:

‘If we’re going to create some kind of national police force as big, powerful and well funded as our combined U.S. military forces, isn’t this rather a big deal? I thought Democrats generally believed the U.S. spent too much on the military. How is it possible their candidate is seeking to create some kind of massive but secret national police force that will be even bigger than the Army, Navy, Marines and Air Force put together? Is Obama serious about creating some kind of domestic security force bigger and more expensive than that? If not, why did he say it? What did he mean?’

Obama meant, amid the flowery words, that he’s not in favour of either peace or freedom. He is a front-man demagogue for the same force that controlled Boy Bush, Clinton, Father Bush, Reagan, Carter, ad infinitum; but the difference is that he has been hyped to such hysterical proportions that he will be allowed to get away with far more than they were, at least until reality dawns on the mass ranks of his hypnotised supporters. And, clearly, that could take some time.

The cabal will be anxious to squeeze every minute from Obama’s honeymoon period and we can expect to see events move quickly after his inauguration in January.

When I was a journalist 30 years ago, I came across a technique that some tabloid newspaper reporters would use to get someone to speak with them. They would work in pairs with the first one knocking on the door of some distressed family who didn’t want to talk with the media. He would tell them he was from a newspaper he didn’t really work for and treat them with aggression and contempt to make them even more upset.

He would then leave and his colleague would knock on the door, tell them the real newspaper he was from, and act like Mr. Nice Guy. He would say that he understood completely how upsetting the other man must have been, but ‘if you will only speak to me exclusively I will make sure that the other man, nor anyone like him, won’t bother you again.’ They usually agreed and the scam was complete.

Much the same thing is happening with regard to Bush and Obama. The Neoconservative ‘Republican’ wing of the Illuminati controlled Bush for eight years and led the country into foreign wars and financial chaos (bad guy/problem); now the ‘Democratic’ wing, led by the infamous Zbigniew Brzezinski, has brought forth the ‘saviour’, Barack Obama, to lead us into the sunshine with ‘hope’ and ‘change’ (good guy/solution).

Hence even some more aware people say: ‘At least he’s not Bush.’

Apart from the unspecified ‘hope’, ‘change’ and ‘believe’, few have any idea what Obama’s policies will be. Public perception comes from having an ‘image’ of him, or a self-projection, not the fine print because Obama doesn’t do fine print until the votes are cast and even then he will hide it in his windbag words.

There is an ‘image’ that Obama is against war, but no he’s not. He says he’s against the invasion of Iraq, though we’ll see what he does about that in office. How can a man calling for more troops, including European troops, to be sent to Afghanistan be against war? He has also said he is prepared to bomb Pakistan and use military force to stop Iran building nuclear weapons and he has appointed Hillary ‘Let’s bomb ’em’ Clinton (Bilderberg Group, Trilateral Commission, Council on Foreign Relations) as Secretary of State and re-appointed Bush’s ‘Let’s bomb ’em’ Secretary of Defense, Robert Gates (Bilderberg Group, Council on Foreign Relations). So that’s the ‘change we can believe in’, then.

Obama isn’t against war at all and, if his controllers have their way, he will engage the US in even more foreign conflicts with the troops sent to their deaths, and the deaths of their targets, on a wave of oratory from the dark suit with the black face who would never go where he’s sending them.

He claims to be a ‘uniter’, which is exactly what Bush said about himself before he came to office, but unity in and of itself is not the issue. Nazi Germany had unity in the early years of the war, but was that a good thing? What matters is what the unity is designed to achieve and Obama’s much-vaunted ‘unity’ is to ‘inspire’ a mass movement to support the Orwellian plans of the Illuminati.

His constant rhetoric about ‘bringing people together’ can be used to justify the ‘coming together’ of the United States, Canada and Mexico in the North American Union; it can be used to concede America’s sovereignty to the ‘coming together’ of the ‘world community’ (world dictatorship); it can be used to unite the believers in their opposition and condemnation of non-believers, which is precisely what happened in Nazi Germany with the book-burning and violent suppression of those who challenged the Hitler regime.

The potential of Obama Mania is endless when it comes to selling fascism as ‘hope, change’, ‘freedom’ and a ‘New America’, or ‘New World’ [Order].

Bush and Cheney were transparent warmongers and would always have struggled to bring in the draft, the compulsory enlistment of people into the military against their will. But it would not be as difficult for Obama in the current climate. For goodness sake, he’s already talking about compulsory community service for middle school, high school and college students and creating a peoples’ army in America.

That’s why I say Obama is far more dangerous to freedom than Bush. In the last eight years Bush could only get part of the way to fascism – Obama has the potential to finish the job, for all the reasons I have mentioned and more.
You only have to look at the cabal behind Obama, and those he has already appointed to his administration team, to see what his ‘change’ is truly planned to be. His mentor, svengali and main controller is Zbigniew Brzezinski, Jimmy Carter’s National Security Advisor, and the co-founder, with David Rockefeller, of the Illuminati’s Trilateral Commission.

Brzezinski has admitted publicly that he began to fund and train what he would call today ‘terrorists’ in Afghanistan to oppose the Soviet-controlled government in the capital, Kabul, in the late 1970s. The idea, he said, was to entice the Soviet Union to invade Afghanistan to protect the Kabul regime and thus give the rival superpower ‘their Vietnam’. The plan worked at the cost of a million Afghan lives during the Soviet occupation from 1979 to 1989, a consequence that troubles Brzezinski not at all.

Brzezinski’s ‘freedom fighters’ would become known as the ‘Mujahideen’ and later the Taliban and what is claimed to be ‘Al-Qaeda’. This is the man behind ‘anti-war’, Barack Obama. It was common knowledge that President Carter would do nothing involving foreign policy without the okay from Brzezinski, the co-founder of the Trilateral Commission which chose Carter for president.

It is one of many great ironies of the Obama presidency that he is demanding massive troop reinforcements to be sent to Afghanistan to fight the Taliban terrorists who were initially armed, trained and organised by Brzezinski, the man behind Obama. As Morpheus says in The Matrix: ‘Fate, it seems, is not without its sense of irony.’

But then, in Brzezinski’s case, it is not ‘fate’, but cold calculation that has brought it all about. The Poland-born Brzezinski has a fierce hatred of Russia and that is still one of his key targets, together with China.

And if they are Brzezinski’s targets, they are Obama’s targets.

The Trilateral Commission and the wider Brzezinski network, including Illuminati fronts like the Ford Foundation, have now chosen Obama and the situation will be the same. Brzezinski will call the shots; Obama’s job is simply to sell them to the people. This is rather alarming when you think that Brzezinski wants to trigger a war involving Russia and China. ‘Obama’s’ policies come straight from Brzezinski’s books. Here is one Brzezinski quote you might recognise and it was made before Obama ran for president:

‘Needed social reassessment … can be encouraged by deliberate civic education that stresses the notion of service to a higher cause than oneself. As some have occasionally urged, a major step in that direction would be the adoption of an obligatory period of national service for every young adult, perhaps involving a variety of congressionally approved domestic or foreign good works.’

Now where have I heard that before?

As an Illuminati operative, Brzezinski’s aim is to create a world government, central bank, currency and army – a global dictatorship – underpinned by a microchipped population connected to a global computer/satellite system. He wrote a book in 1970, Between Two Ages: America’s Role in the Technetronic Era, in which he described the global society that he and the Illuminati seek to impose:

‘The technetronic era involves the gradual appearance of a more controlled society. Such a society would be dominated by an elite, unrestrained by traditional values. Soon it will be possible to assert almost continuous surveillance over every citizen and maintain up-to-date complete files containing even the most personal information about the citizen. These files will be subject to instantaneous retrieval by the authorities.’

He also said in the same book nearly 40 years ago:

‘Today we are again witnessing the emergence of transnational elites … [Whose] ties cut across national boundaries … It is likely that before long the social elites of most of the more advanced countries will be highly internationalist or globalist in spirit and outlook … The nation-state is gradually yielding its sovereignty … Further progress will require greater American sacrifices. More intensive efforts to shape a new world monetary structure will have to be undertaken, with some consequent risk to the present relatively favorable American position.’

And what does his puppet, Obama, now say that Americans have to do to bring about ‘change’? ‘Make sacrifices’. As Mrs. Demagogue, Michelle, said:
‘We need a different leadership because our souls are broken. We need to be inspired … to make the sacrifices that are needed to push us to a different place.’

You can bet that this will include sacrificing more sovereignty and freedom on the road to the global dictatorship described by Brzezinski for decades.

Brzezinski’s son, Mark, was an ‘advisor’ to the Obama campaign (doing what his father told him) and, in line with the American one-party-state, his other son, Ian, was foreign policy advisor to the McCain campaign (doing what his father told him). His daughter, the Obama-supporting Mika Brzezinski, reported the campaign for MSNBC television.

Obama has been the chosen one for a long time, a fact known only to a few in the deep inner circle, and his relationship with Brzezinski almost certainly goes back to the start of the 1980s when he attended the Ivy League, and big-time Illuminati, Columbia University where Brzezinski was head of the Institute for Communist Affairs. Obama simply will not talk in any detail about this period. He has been covertly funded and supported ever since by the Trilateral Commission and its network of foundations connecting into the Ford Foundation, for whom Obama’s mother worked.

And a question: Does anyone really believe that someone, a ‘man of the people’, would simply appear from apparently nowhere to run the slickest and best-funded presidential campaign in American history? He was chosen long ago by those who wish to enslave the very people that Obama says he wants to ‘set free’.

The sources of Obama funding read like a Wall Street Who’s Who – Goldman Sachs, UBS, Citigroup, Credit Suisse, Deutsche Bank, J.P. Morgan Chase, Morgan Stanley, and so on. No wonder he went back on his pledge to accept the limitations of public funding for his campaign and instead took the no-limit option of ‘private’ funding.

And those people are going to support a candidate who does not represent their best interests? Oh please.

Obama and his seasoned network of professional manipulators, sorry his ‘campaign team’, sold the lie that he had refused to take funding from ‘lobbyists’, those who are paid to ensure that politicians frame legislation, or block it, in the interests of their clients.

But like everything that surrounds Obama, past and present, it’s a sleight of hand and mouth. They funnelled vast sums of money into the Obama accounts through law firms that represent lobbyists and lobby groups. It provided ‘plausible denial’ about funding from lobbyists while the money poured in from lobby interests via third parties.

Then there is the Jewish financier, George Soros, the multi-billionaire associate of Brzezinski and closely involved with the funding and marketing of Obama. Soros is a former board member of the Illuminati’s Council on Foreign Relations and funds the European Council on Foreign Relations. In short, he is a major insider.

You can certainly see the Soros/Brzezinski techniques in the Obama ‘revolution’ in the United States. It was the complex and secretive network of Soros foundations and organisations, connected to the intelligence agencies of the US and Israel, that trained and funded students in the Ukraine, Georgia and elsewhere in the art of mass protest and overthrowing governments.

These manufactured protests were sold to the world as ‘peoples’ revolutions’, but it just so happened that when they were over and the old regime was removed the new leaders were those waiting in the wings all along – the puppets of Soros, Brzezinski and their associated networks.

Obama is just more of the same, a big smile with strings attached, and controlled completely by the Illuminati networks that chose him, trained him, sold him and provided his record funding. It was they who kept his many skeletons under wraps, like the gay sex and crack cocaine allegations of Larry Sinclair, and they will continue to do so as long as he jumps to their bidding.

Obama is just another Banksters’ moll prostituting himself for fame and power, and that’s why he supported the grotesque bail-out of the banking system and why he will always put their interests before the people.

His financial advisors are straight from the Wall Street ‘A’ list, including Paul Adolph Volker (Trilateral Commission, Council on Foreign Relations, Bilderberg Group), the head of the Federal Reserve from 1979 to 1987 and Illuminati to his fingertips.

Obama has made him head of the Economic Recovery Advisory Board, which is dominated by insiders, including its staff director and chief economist, Austan Goolsbee, a close Obama associate from the University of Chicago. Goolsbee is an initiate of the infamous Illuminati Skull and Bones Society at Yale University, which also includes Boy and Father Bush. It was Goolsbee who told the Canadian government not to worry about Obama’s attacks on the economic effects of ‘free trade’ agreements because his words were just to win votes in the election campaign.

Another Wall Street insider, the Zionist Timothy Geithner (Bilderberg Group, Trilateral Commission, Council on Foreign Relations), was appointed by Obama to be his Treasury Secretary. Geithner was the President of the New York Federal Reserve Bank, the most powerful in the private ‘Federal’ Reserve cartel that masquerades as America’s ‘central bank’, and he is a former employee of both the Council on Foreign Relations and the appalling Kissinger Associates.

Obama’s Treasury team locks into the inner circle around the Zionist Robert Rubin, the Director and Senior Counselor of Citigroup, co-chairman of the Council on Foreign Relations, and economic advisor to Obama. Rubin, a member of the Illuminati Bilderberg Group, was the man behind Citigroup’s strategy of expanding its risk in debt markets which forced it to be rescued by taxpayers’ money.

The very people who caused the financial crisis are being appointed by Obama to decide how to respond to it (more taxpayers’ money for them and their friends).

Rubin was Treasury Secretary to Bill Clinton and was followed in that post by Larry Summers (Bilderberg Group, Trilateral Commission, Council on Foreign Relations) – another insider appointed to Obama’s team of ‘change’. Summers is a fanatical supporter of ‘free trade’ (freedom to exploit) and ‘globalisation’ (global dictatorship) and he wrote a memo in 1991, while chief economist to the World Bank, saying that the bank should dump toxic waste in poor countries because the costs of the ensuing ill-health and death would be lower. When the memo was made public, Brazil’s then-Secretary of the Environment, Jose Lutzenburger, told Summers:

‘Your reasoning is perfectly logical but totally insane … Your thoughts [provide] a concrete example of the unbelievable alienation, reductionist thinking, social ruthlessness and the arrogant ignorance of many conventional “economists” concerning the nature of the world we live in … If the World Bank keeps you as vice president it will lose all credibility. To me it would confirm what I often said … the best thing that could happen would be for the Bank to disappear.’

Lutzenburger was dismissed shortly after writing this letter while the horrific Summers was made US Treasury Secretary by Bill Clinton and now he has been appointed to head the National Economic Council by Mr. ‘change’, hope and ‘believe’ Obama. It’s all a fairy story.

Bloomberg.com reported that the Center for American Progress (CAP), housed just three blocks from the White House, has become a major source for policy initiatives for the Obama Democratic Party. Who funds the Center for American Progress? George Soros.

It is simply the Neocon Project for the New American Century and the American Enterprise Institute under another name.

Those two organisations developed and dictated the Bush policy of war and suppression of freedom and the ‘CAP’ and others like it will do the same for Obama. The CAP will fit and Obama will wear it.

In fact, except in name and rhetoric, there is no difference in theme between the regimes of Bush and Obama. Bush policy was dictated through Illuminati ‘think tanks’ and so is Obama’s.

Bush was surrounded by slavish pursuers of Israeli interests and so is Obama. Mr. ‘Change’ has pledged his unquestioning support for Israel to the point of ‘pass the sick bag’ and his vice-president, Joe Biden (Bilderberg Group, Council on Foreign Relations), is a vehement Zionist who makes a virtue of saying he will support Israel in all circumstances.

Obama has appointed the arch Zionist
Rahm Emanuel as his chief of staff and another super Zionist Jew, Dennis Ross, to be his Middle East Policy advisor. God help the Palestinians. Ross also served in the Bill Clinton and Father George Bush administrations. Oh, plenty of ‘change’ there, then.

Rahm Emanuel, a Chicago-born Congressman, is the son of Benjamin M. Emanuel, who was a member of the murderous Jewish terrorist organisation, Irgun, which helped to bomb and terrorise Israel into existence. The Open Secrets website reports that Emanuel was the top House recipient in 2008 for election contributions from ‘hedge funds, private equity firms and the larger securities/investment industry’.

Emanuel was also appointed by Bill Clinton to the board of the mortgage giant Freddie Mac in 2000 and his tenure coincided with a stream of scandals and financial irregularities. It famously had to be bailed out by the taxpayer amid the sub-prime mortgage debacle.

Emanuel, like Obama himself, is an asset of the ‘Illinois Combine’, a cross-party network of politicians and business interests that conspires to manipulate Chicago politics for their own benefit. Even before taking over at the White House Emanuel faced calls for his resignation for alleged connections with the Rod Blagojevich scandal.

In December 2008 Blagojevich, the Illinois governor and associate of Obama, was arrested over a conspiracy involving massive corruption and moves to sell Obama’s Senate seat in Chicago made vacant by his election to the presidency. It is yet another example of the staggering web of ongoing and infamous corruption in Chicago by the very networks that spawned Obama.

A close friend of Rahm Emanuel is another clone of the Illinois Combine, the Zionist, David Axelrod, who ran Obama’s election campaign and will no doubt be highly influential in the Obama administration. Axelrod is a veteran of Chicago politics, one of the most corrupt political systems in the world and he worked for many Chicago mayors in the 1990s and on Obama’s senate campaign in 2004.

Bill Clinton took his Arkansas cabal to Washington when he became president in 1993 and Obama is uploading his Chicago mob and handing them key positions of national power and influence. And these guys don’t take prisoners.

All of this may be many things, none of them pleasant, but ‘change’ it isn’t.

Obama is a monumental fraud who talks a good story, but lives a very different one. He won his first political office as a state senator in Chicago in 1996, not through the power of his policies, but by coldly abusing the electoral process.

Instead of running against his opponents and letting the people decide, he had his cronies challenge hundreds of names on the nomination papers of his Democratic primary rivals until they were all forced off the ballot by technicalities.

He then ran unopposed. One of them, Ghais Askia, says that Obama’s behaviour belied his image as a champion of the little guy and crusader for voter rights:
‘Why say you’re for a new tomorrow, then do old-style Chicago politics to remove legitimate candidates? He talks about honour and democracy, but what honour is there in getting rid of every other candidate so you can run scot-free? Why not let the people decide?’

Why? Because he would probably have lost and Obama isn’t interested in losing by playing fair. He wants to win by any means necessary. The only voter-right he’s interested in is the right to vote for him. He has also used his hatchet-men like Axelrod to employ scandal to discredit opponents to ensure his election when the real scandal is the truth about Obama himself.

He is a classically corrupt main-chancer spawned from the Chicago political cesspit. His close connections, therefore, to seriously dodgy ‘businessmen’ and fraudsters like the now-jailed slum landlord Tony Rezko are exactly what you would expect.

Rezko, yet another snout in the trough of the Illinois Combine, has heavily funded Obama’s political career and that of the now-arrested Rod Blagojevich, and in return they have supported massive sums being paid to Rezko by Chicago taxpayers to run ‘public housing’.

These properties were then allowed to fall into such a state of danger and disrepair, including sewage running into kitchen sinks, that they were deemed unfit for habitation by the often black poor that Obama was supposed to be representing as a Senator. Some buildings were so bad they had to be demolished.

Rezko also secured appointments for his business associates to state boards and was eventually indicted for using these connections to demand kickbacks from businesses that wanted to do business with the state.

Rezko and Obama toured the $1.6 million mansion in Hyde Park, Chicago, which the Obamas bought at $300,000 below the asking price in 2005 while the Rezkos purchased the adjoining land at the full asking price. Some of this land was later bought by the Obamas. Rezko contributed a quarter of a million dollars to Obama’s political career and served on Obama’s Senate campaign finance committee, which raised more than $14 million.

Then there is Obama’s close association with the terrorists, William Ayers and his wife Bernardine Dohrn. In the late sixties Ayers co-founded the terror organisation called the Weather Underground (aka the Weathermen and similar derivatives) and launched a campaign of bombing public places like the Pentagon and the Capitol Building. Three members were killed making bombs in Greenwich Village.

In 1970 Ayers was said to have described their philosophy as:

‘Kill all the rich people. Break up their cars and apartments. Bring the revolution home, kill your parents, that’s where it’s really at …’

Mr. Ayers himself comes from the home of ‘rich people’.

Bernardine Dohrn said this about the Charles Manson murders:

‘Dig it! Manson killed those pigs, then they ate dinner in the same room with them, then they shoved a fork into a victim’s stomach.’

The case against Ayers and Dohrn was thrown out because of then illegal wire-taps and Ayers is now a professor in the College of Education at the University of Illinois at Chicago, holding the titles of Distinguished Professor of Education and Senior University Scholar.

Ayers recruited Obama to serve as chairman on the $100 million Chicago Annenberg Challenge and they worked together for seven years handing out grants to the ‘educational’ projects of people like … William Ayers. They also worked together on another tax-exempt foundation, the Woods Fund in Chicago, which awarded grants to Obama’s own Trinity United Church, home to his controversial pastor, Jeremiah Wright.

Obama’s political career was effectively launched in 1995, just after he was made chairman of the Annenberg Challenge, at a meeting at the Chicago home of … William Ayers and Bernardine Dohrn. They have been connected to his circle ever since if the truth be told.

The Chicago Annenberg Challenge, run by Obama and Ayers, didn’t fund schools directly, but instead insisted that they affiliate with ‘external partners’ who were granted the money.
These turned out to be far-left ‘community organisers’ so beloved of Bill Ayers and these groups included the Association of Community Organizations for Reform Now (or Acorn).

Obama also conducted ‘leadership training’ seminars with Acorn and its members began to become heavily involved in his political campaigns. It has also been behind efforts to ‘register voters’ (voters most likely to vote for Obama) and Nevada state officials raided Acorn’s Las Vegas office after election authorities accused the group of submitting multiple voter registrations with fake and duplicate names.

Among the major funders of Acorn …

George Soros.

Obama even refuses to prove that he was born in the United States and thus qualifies to be President. He claims to have been born in Hawaii, but his grandmother, half-brother and half-sister in Kenya all insist he was born there.

‘Mr. Clean’ Obama has a deeply dirty background, but for now no scale of evidence will stop the swooning Obama zombies from believing the hype or burst their reality bubble. That is going to take hard experience and it could take some time and a lot of disappointment before they are released from the clutches of cognitive dissonance and have to admit to themselves they have been had.

It is the same for all the black people who voted for what they thought was the first black president when, in truth, he is a man in a black mask representing the interests of the white-faced Illuminati cabal, the very families and networks that ran the slave trade.

I don’t want to be the bringer of bad news or the thwarter of dreams, but honesty demands it. The man is a trickster controlled by supertricksters. A sock puppet controlled by bigger sock puppets who serve an even greater and darker evil. To his masters, Obama is just a means to an end and if it suits them to assassinate him to trigger civil war and upheaval in the United States then that is what they will do.

Oh, dear Oprah, how will you cope when reality dawns? But, then, will it ever??

I can understand the appeal of Obama because people want him to be what he claims to be, but isn’t. They are sick of the conflict, the corruption, the struggle we call ‘life’ and they want it all to change. But Obama’s change is illusory and represents only the continued transformation of society in the image envisaged by Orwell.

We will see some apparently good things announced, like the closing of Guantanamo, to give the impression that Obama means what he says. But keep your eye on the ball and you’ll see how the agenda of the global tyranny is introduced under the guise of Obama’s ‘hope’, ‘change’, ‘believe’, ‘sacrifice’ and ‘coming together’.

It could take two years, maybe much more, before cognitive dissonance (lying to yourself) loses it current grip on the minds of the Obama faithful. Until then they will make endless excuses for him (lie to themselves) to keep the ‘dream’ alive.

But one day they will have to admit, by the power of the evidence before them, that they bought a dream and got a nightmare.

What a pity they can’t see the obvious now and save them themselves such painful disappointment.

“We the People of the United States, in Order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.”

– Preamble of the original “organic” Constitution.

“We hold these truths to be self-evident; that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights; that among these are Life, Liberty, and the pursuit of Happiness; that to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; that whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or abolish it, and to institute new government, laying its foundation on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness.”

Fourth of July 2002 has come and gone, and Americans honored the holiday with a renewed patriotic fervor that reminded me of the Bicentennial celebrations of 1976. As is customary, traditional fireworks displays took center stage and scores of people turned out to witness the dazzling show in the summer sky. With mixed feelings, I sat with friends on a crowded Pennsylvania sidewalk beneath a glittering, mesmerizing explosion of color, pondering the keen sense of sadness and betrayal that overwhelmed my spirit. Looking around at the huge crowds gathered for the annual events, I thought silently, “We are not free.” In truth, we have not been a free people for a very long time…

The date is February 21, 1871 and the Forty-First Congress is in session. I refer you to the “Acts of the Forty-First Congress,” Section 34, Session III, chapters 61 and 62. On this date in the history of our nation, Congress passed an Act titled: “An Act To Provide A Government for the District of Columbia.” This is also known as the “Act of 1871.” What does this mean? Well, it means that Congress, under no constitutional authority to do so, created a separate form of government for the District of Columbia, which is a ten mile square parcel of land.

What??? How could they do that? Moreover, why would they do that? To explain, let’s look at the circumstances of those days. The Act of 1871 was passed at a vulnerable time in America. Our nation was essentially bankrupt – weakened and financially depleted in the aftermath of the Civil War. The Civil War itself was nothing more than a calculated “front” for some pretty fancy footwork by corporate back-
The United States Isn’t a Country — It’s a Corporation

The Congress realized our country was in dire financial straits, so they cut a deal with the international bankers – (in those days, the Rothschilds of London were dipping their fingers into everyone’s pie) thereby incurring a debt to said bankers. If we think about banks, we know they do not just lend us money out of the goodness of their hearts. A bank will not do anything for you unless it is entirely in their best interest to do so. There has to be some sort of collateral or some string attached which puts you and me (the borrower) into a subservient position. This was true back in 1871 as well. The conniving international bankers were not about to lend our floundering nation any money without some serious stipulations. So, they devised a brilliant way of getting their foot in the door of the United States (a prize they had coveted for some time, but had been unable to grasp thanks to our Founding Fathers, who despised them and held them in check), and thus, the Act of 1871 was passed.

In essence, this Act formed the corporation known as the United States. Note the capitalization, because it is important. This corporation, owned by foreign interests, moved right in and shoved the original “organic” version of the Constitution into a dusty corner. With the “Act of 1871,” our Constitution was defaced in the sense that the title was block-capitalized and the word “for” was changed to the word “of” in the title. The original Constitution drafted by the Founding Fathers, was written in this manner:

“The Constitution for the United States of America”.

The altered version reads: “The Constitution of the United States of America”. It is the corporate constitution. It is not the same document you might think it is. The corporate constitution operates in an economic capacity and has been used to fool the People into thinking it is the same parchment that governs the Republic. It absolutely is not.

Capitalization – an insignificant change? Not when one is referring to the context of a legal document, it isn’t. Such minor alterations have had major impacts on each subsequent generation born in this country. What the Congress did with the passage of the Act of 1871 was create an entirely new document, a constitution for the government of the District of Columbia. The kind of government they created was a corporation. The new, altered Constitution serves as the constitution of the corporation, and not that of America. Think about that for a moment.

Incidentally, this corporate constitution does not benefit the Republic. It serves only to benefit the corporation. It does nothing good for you or me – and it operates outside of the original Constitution. Instead of absolute rights guaranteed under the “organic” Constitution, we now have “relative” rights or privileges. One example of this is the Sovereign’s right to travel, which has been transformed under corporate government policy into a “privilege” which we must be licensed to engage in. This operates outside of the original Constitution.

So, Congress committed treason against the People, who were considered Sovereign under the Declaration of Independence and the organic Constitution. When we consider the word “sovereign,” we must think about what the word means.

According to Webster’s Dictionary, “sovereign” is defined as: 1. chief or highest; supreme. 2. Supreme in power, superior in position to all others. 3. Independent of, and unlimited by, any other, possessing or entitled to, original and independent authority or jurisdiction.

In other words, our government was created by and for “sovereigns” – the free citizens who were deemed the highest authority. Only the People can be sovereign – remember that. Government cannot be sovereign. We can also look to the Declaration of Independence, where we read: “government is subject to the consent of the governed” – that’s supposed to be us, the sovereigns. Do you feel like a sovereign nowadays? I don’t.

It doesn’t take a rocket scientist or a constitutional historian to figure out that this is not what is happening in our country today. Government in these times is not subject to the consent of the governed. Rather, the governed are subject to the whim and greed of the corporation, which has stretched its tentacles beyond the ten-mile-square parcel of land known as the District of Columbia – encroaching into every state of the Republic. Mind you, the corporation has no jurisdiction outside of the District of Columbia. They just want you to think it does.

You see, you are presumed to know the law. This is ironic because as a people, we are taught basically nothing about the law in school. We are made to memorize obscure factoids and paragraphs here and there, such as the Preamble, and they gloss over the Bill of Rights. But we are not told about the law. Nor do our corporate government schools delve into the Constitution in any great depth. After all, they were put into place to indoctrinate and dumb down the masses — not to teach us anything. We were not told that we were sold-out to foreign interests and made beneficiaries of the debt incurred by Congress to the international bankers. For generations, American citizens have had the bulk of their earnings confiscated to pay on a massive debt that they, as a People, did not incur. There are many, many things the People have not been told. How do you feel about being made a beneficiary of somebody else’s massive debt without your knowledge or consent? Are we gonna keep going along with this?

When you hear some individuals say that the Constitution is null and void, think about how our government has transformed over time from a municipal or service-oriented entity to a corporate or profit-oriented entity. We are living under the myth that this is lawful, but it is not. We are being ruled by a “de facto,” or unlawful, form of government — the corporate body of the death-mongers — The Controllers.

With the passage of the Act of 1871, a series of subtle and overt deceptions were set in motion — all in conjunction and collusion with the Congress, who knowingly and deliberately sold the People down the river. Did they tell you this in government school? I doubt it. They were too busy drumming the fictional version of history into your brain — and mine. By failing to disclose what they did to the American People, the people became ignorant of what was happening. Over time, the Republic took it on the chin to the point of a knockdown. With the surrender of their gold in 1933, the People essentially surrendered their law. I don’t suppose you were taught that in school either. That’s because our real history is hidden from us. This is the way Roman Civil Law works — and our form of governance today is based upon Roman Civil Law and Admiralty/Maritime Law — better known as the “Divine Right of Kings” and “Law of the Seas,” respectively. This explains a lot. Roman Civil Law was fully established in the original colonies even before our nation began and is also known as private international law.

The government which was created for the District of Columbia via the Act of 1871 operates under Private International Law, and not Common Law, which was the law of the Constitutional Republic. This is very important to note since it impacts all Americans in concrete ways. You must recognize that private international law is only applicable within the District of Columbia and not in the other states of the Union. The various arms of the corporation are known as “departments” such as the Judiciary, Justice and Treasury. You recognize those names? Yes, you do! But they are not what you assume them to be. These “departments” all belong to the corporation known as the United States. They do not belong to you and me under the corporate constitution and its various amendments that operate outside of the Constitutional Republic.

I refer you to the United States Code (note the capitalization, indicating the corporation, not the Republic) Title 28, 3002 (15) (A), (B), (C). It is stated unequivocally that the United States is a corporation. Realize, too, that the corporation is not a separate and distinct entity from the government. It is the government. Your government. This is extremely important. I refer to this as the “corporate empire of the United States,” which operates under Roman Civil Law outside of the Constitution. How do you like being ruled by a cheesy, sleazy corporation? You’ll ask your Congressperson about this, you say? Ha!!

Congress is fully aware of this deception. You must be made aware that the members of Congress do not work for you and me. Rather, they work for the Corporation known as the United States. Is this really any surprise to you? This is why we can’t get them to do anything on our behalf or to answer to us — as in the case with the illegal income tax — among many other things. Contrary to popular belief, they are not our civil servants. They do not work for us. They are the servants of the corporate government and carry out its bidding. Period.

The great number of committees and subcommittees that the Congress has created all work together like a multi-headed monster to oversee the various corporate “departments.” And, you should know that every single one of these that operates outside the District of Columbia is in violation of the law. The corporate government of the United States has no jurisdiction or authority in any state of the Republic beyond the District of Columbia. Let this sink into your brain for a minute. Ask yourself, “Could this deception really have occurred without the full knowledge and complicity of the Congress?” Do you think it happened by acci-
Treason was committed against the People in 1871 by the Congress. This could have been corrected through the decades by some honest men (assuming there were some), but it was not, mainly due to lust for money and power. Nothing new there. Are we to forgive and justify this crime against the People? You have lost more freedom than you may realize due to corporate infiltration of the so-called government. We will lose more unless we turn away from a democracy that is the direct road to disaster – and restore our Constitutional Republic.

In an upcoming article, we’ll take a closer look at the purportedly ratified 14th Amendment and how we became “property” of the corporation and enslaved by our silence.

I am saddened to think about the brave men and women who were killed in all the wars and conflicts instigated by the Controllers. These courageous souls fought for the preservation of ideals they believed to be true – not for the likes of a corporation. Do you believe that any one of the individuals who have been killed as a result of war would have willingly fought if they knew the full truth? Do you think one person would have laid down his life for a corporation? I think not. If the People had known long ago to what extent their trust had been betrayed, I wonder how long it would have taken for another Revolution. What we need is a Revolution in thought. We change our thinking and we change our world.

Will we ever restore the Republic? That is a question I cannot answer yet. I hope, and most of all – pray – that We, the Sovereign People, will work together in a spirit of cooperation to make it happen in this lifetime. I know I will give it my best shot – come what may. Our children deserve their rightful legacy – the liberty our ancestors fought so hard to give to us. Will we remain silent telling ourselves we are free, and perpetuate the myth? Or, do we stand as One Sovereign People, and take back what has been stolen from the house of our Republic?

Something to think about – it’s called freedom.

The Field
The Quest for the Secret Force of the Universe

With an ear for human interest and eye for detail, Lynne McTaggart masterfully tells the true story in The Field of how pioneers in science and consciousness research are working to achieve a more complete understanding of the true nature of reality—an understanding which includes (rather than ignores) consciousness.

The Field describes how scientists have gradually become aware of what appears to be a unifying energy structure in our universe. This “Zero Point Field” provides us with a simpler explanation for how things work than previous overly-complex ideas require. Simplicity in science is a good thing, because it generally indicates which theories will win out as time goes by. The Zero Point Field theory demonstrates its elegant simplicity by allowing physicists to derive the famous equation $F = ma$ (rather than take it as a starting assumption), and by helping medical practitioners understand the underlying scientific basis for homeopathy.

Our scientific conceptualization of this universe has changed considerably over the last few centuries and now faces one of the biggest overhauls ever—and The Field demonstrates why the Zero Point Field is likely to be the last frontier for us to explore. The Field is packed with detailed descriptions of some of the most exciting experiments recently conducted by leading researchers in the field of consciousness such as: Cleve Backster, Jacques Benveniste, William Braud, Bob Jahn, Edgar Mitchell, Fritz-Albert Popp, Hal Puthoff, Rupert Sheldrake, Russell Targ, Elisabeth Targ, and Charles Tart.

The Holographic Universe

One of the most provocative books I have read in years. In the first few chapters Mr. Talbot describes the emerging holographic paradigm in science, drawing on David Bohm’s work in quantum physics and Karl Pribam’s work in neuroscience. I found both descriptions to be fascinating, and especially enjoyed the historical context for the work of these two seminal thinkers. As a person with a master’s degree in neuroscience and chaos/complexity theory, I found a couple of his simplifications misleading, but would give him high marks for his overall comprehension of the conclusions of Pribam and his followers.

The remaining 2/3 of the book is a discussion of how the holographic paradigm may provide a rational basis for interpreting a wide variety of phenomena located around the fringes of established science. He looks at everything from strange historical “miracles” like stigmata and appearances of the Virgin Mary to modern psychic abilities and LSD experiences, from out-of-body and near-death-experiences to UFO abductions.

The service that Mr. Talbot provides is a challenge to rethink the conventional definition of science so that it can take into account a much wider range of human experience. What he argues for is the acceptance, as valid scientific data, of the experiences of individual humans, across cultures and throughout history, that are remarkably consistent with one another. These experiences address aspects of reality that are invisible to the skeptical eye, but become obvious to the person who chooses to develop other forms of perception.

This book is a “must read” for any passionate seeker of truth.

Infinite Love is the Only Truth, Everything Else is Illusion
Exposing the dreamworld we believe to be ‘real’

What is ‘mind’ and ‘emotion’ and why do they control us? Who created religion and what are its advocates really worshipping?

These questions and so many more are explained with a coherence and simplicity rarely, if ever, seen before.

“The intuitive mind is a sacred gift and the rational mind is a faithful servant. We have created a society that honours the servant and has forgotten the gift.” – Albert Einstein.

David Icke’s narrative, supported by Neil Hague’s superb illustrations, will change the reality—the ‘life’—of everyone who has the courage to read it.
One thing Microsoft founder Bill Gates can’t be accused of is sloth. He was already programming at 14, founded Microsoft at age 20 while still a student at Harvard. By 1995 he had been listed by Forbes as the world’s richest man from being the largest shareholder in his Microsoft, a company which his relentless drive built into a de facto monopoly in software systems for personal computers.

In 2006, when most people in such a situation might think of retiring to a quiet Pacific island, Bill Gates decided to devote his energies to his Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, the world’s largest ‘transparent’ private foundation, as it says, with a whopping $34.6 billion endowment and a legal necessity to spend $1.5 billion a year on charitable projects around the world to maintain its tax free charitable status.

A gift from friend and business associate, mega-investor Warren Buffett, in 2006, of some $30 billion worth of shares in Buffet’s Berkshire Hathaway put the Gates’ foundation into the league where it spends almost the amount of the entire annual budget of the United Nations’ World Health Organization.

THE CONTROVERSIAL ‘DOOMSDAY SEED VAULT’, A NUCLEAR-BOMB-PROOF VAULT DEEP INTO THE SIDE OF a mountain in NATO-member Norway’s Svalbard, near the Arctic Circle, has begun to collect seed samples from the entire world to freeze in the newly opened facility. The Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, along with the Rockefeller Foundation, Monsanto Corporation, Syngenta Foundation and the Government of Norway, among others, have constructed what is called by BBC the ‘doomsday seed bank.’ Officially the project is named the Svalbard Global Seed Vault. It sits on the Norwegian island of Spitsbergen, part of the Svalbard island group. Now scientists connected with the project are roaming the world to collect samples of every seed variety known, using the fraudulent argument of protecting against Global Warming to obtain samples of the crop diversity of the planet. The implications are potentially more dangerous than the threat of nuclear war.

So when Bill Gates decides through the Gates Foundation to invest some $30 million of their hard earned money in a project, it is worth looking at.

No project is more interesting at the moment than a curious project in one of the world’s most remote spots, Svalbard. Bill Gates is investing millions in a seed bank on the Barents Sea near the Arctic Ocean, some 1,100 kilometers from the North Pole. Svalbard is a barren piece of rock claimed by Norway and ceded in 1925 by international treaty (see map).

On this God-forsaken island Bill Gates is investing tens of his millions along with the Rockefeller Foundation, Monsanto Corporation, Syngenta Foundation and the Government of Norway, among others, in what is called the ‘doomsday seed bank.’ Officially the project is named the Svalbard Global Seed Vault on the Norwegian island of Spitsbergen, part of the Svalbard island group.

The seed bank is being built inside a mountain on Spitsbergen Island, near the small village of Longyearbyen. It’s almost ready for ‘business’ according to their releases. The bank will have dual blast-proof doors with motion sensors, two airlocks, and walls of steel-reinforced concrete one meter thick. It will contain up to three million different varieties of seeds from the entire world, ‘so that crop diversity can be conserved for the future,’ according to the Norwegian government. Seeds will be specially wrapped to exclude moisture. There will be no full-time staff, but the vault’s relative inaccessibility will facilitate monitoring any possible human activity.

Did we miss something here? Their press release stated, ‘so that crop diversity can be conserved for the future.’ What future do the seed bank’s sponsors foresee, that would threaten the global availability of current seeds, almost all of which are already well protected in designated seed banks around the world?

Anytime Bill Gates, the Rockefeller Foundation, Monsanto and Syngenta get together on a common project, it’s worth digging a bit deeper behind the rocks on Spitsbergen. When we do we find some fascinating things.

The first notable point is who is sponsoring the doomsday seed vault. Here joining the Norwegians are, as noted, the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation; the US agribusiness giant DuPont/Pioneer Hi-Bred, one of the world’s largest owners of patented genetically-modified (GMO) plant seeds and related agrichemicals; Syngenta, the Swiss-based major GMO seed and agrichemicals company through its Syngenta Foundation; the Rockefeller Foundation, the private group who created the “gene revolution with over $100 million of seed money since the 1970’s; CGIAR, the global network created by the Rockefeller Foundation to promote its ideal of genetic purity through agriculture change.

CGIAR and ‘The Project’

As I detailed in the book, Seeds of Destruction, in 1960 the Rockefeller Foundation, John D. Rockefeller III’s Agriculture Development Council and the Ford Foundation joined forces to create the International Rice Research Institute (IRRI) in Los Baños, the Philippines. By 1971, the Rockefeller Foundation’s IRRI, along with their Mexico-based International Maize and Wheat Improvement Center and two other Rockefeller and Ford Foundation-created international research centers, the ITTA for tropical agriculture, Nigeria, and IRRI for rice, Philippines, combined to form a global Consultative Group on International Agriculture Research (CGIAR).

CGIAR was shaped at a series of private conferences held at the Rockefeller Foundation’s conference center in Bellagio, Italy. Key participants at the Bellagio talks were the Rockefeller Foundation’s George Harrar, Ford Foundation’s Forrest Hill, Robert McNamara of the World Bank and Maurice Strong, the Rockefeller family’s international environmental organizer, who, as a Rockefeller Foundation Trustee, organized the UN Earth Summit in Stockholm in 1972. It was part of the foundation’s decades long focus to turn science to the service of eugenics, a hideous version of racial purity, what has been called The Project.

To ensure maximum impact, CGIAR drew in the United Nations’ Food and Agriculture Organization, the UN Development Program and the World Bank. Thus, through a carefully-planned leverage of its initial funds, the Rockefeller Foundation by the beginning of the 1970’s was in a position to shape global agriculture policy. And shape it did.

Financed by generous Rockefeller and Ford Foundation study grants, CGIAR saw to it that leading Third World agriculture scientists and agronomists were brought to the US to ‘master’ the concepts of modern agribusiness production, in order to carry it back to their homeland. In the process they created an invaluable network of influence for US agribusiness promotion in those countries, most especially promotion of the GMO ‘Gene Revolution’ in developing countries, all in the name of science and efficient, free market agriculture.

Genetically engineering a master race?

Now the Svalbard Seed Bank begins to become interesting. But it gets better. ‘The Project’ I referred to is the project of the Rockefeller Foundation and powerful financial interests since the 1920s to use eugenics, later renamed genetics, to justify creation of a genetically-engineered Master Race. Hitler and the Nazis called it the Ayran Master Race.

The eugenics of Hitler were financed to a major extent by the same Rockefeller Foundation which today is building a doomsday seed vault to preserve samples of every seed on our planet.

Now this is getting really intriguing. The same Rockefeller Foundation created the pseudo-science discipline of molecular biology in their relentless pursuit of reducing human life down to the ‘defining gene sequence’ which, they hoped, could then be modified in order to change human traits at will. Hitler’s eugenics scientists, many of whom were quietly brought to the United States after the War to continue their biological eugenics research, laid much of the groundwork of genetic engineering of various life forms, much of it supported openly until well into the Third Reich by Rockefeller Foundation generous grants.

The same Rockefeller Foundation created the so-called Green Revolution, out of a trip to Mexico in 1946 by Nelson Rockefeller and former New Deal Secretary of Agriculture and founder of the Pioneer Hi-Bred Seed Company, Henry Wallace.

The Green Revolution purported to solve the world hunger problem to a major degree in Mexico, India and other select countries where Rockefeller worked. Rockefeller Foundation agronomist, Norman Borlaug, won a Nobel Peace Prize for his work, hardly something to boast about with the likes of Henry Kissinger sharing the same.

In reality, as it years later emerged, the Green Revolution was a brilliant Rockefeller family scheme to develop a globalized agribusiness which they then could monopolize just as they had done in the world oil industry beginning a half century before. As Henry Kissinger declared in the 1970’s, ‘If you control the oil you control the country; if you control food, you control the population.’

Agribusiness and the Rockefeller Green Revolution went hand-in-hand. They were part of a grand strategy which included Rockefeller Foundation financing of research for the development of genetic engineering of plants and animals a few years later.

John H. Davis had been Assistant Agriculture Secretary under President Dwight Eisenhower in the early 1950s. He left Washington in 1955 and went to the Harvard Graduate School of Business, an unusual place for an agriculture expert in those days. He had a clear strategy. In 1956, Davis wrote an article in the Harvard Business Review, in which he declared that “the only way to solve the so-called farm problem once and for all, and avoid cumbersome government programs, is to progress from agri-
He knew precisely what he had in mind, though few others had a clue back then—a revolution in agriculture production that would concentrate control of the food chain in corporate multinational hands, away from the traditional family farmer.3

A crucial aspect driving the interest of the Rockefeller Foundation and US agribusiness companies was the fact that the Green Revolution was based on proliferation of new hybrid seeds in developing markets. One vital aspect of hybrid seeds was their lack of reproductive capacity. Hybrids had a built-in protection against multiplication. Unlike normal open pollinated species whose seed gave yields similar to its parents, the yield of the seed borne by hybrid plants was significantly lower than that of the first generation.

That declining yield characteristic of hybrids meant farmers must normally buy seed every year in order to obtain high yields. Moreover, the lower yield of the second generation eliminated the trade in seed that was often done by seed producers without the breeder’s authorization. It prevented the redistribution of the commercial crop seed by middlemen. If the large multinational seed companies were able to control the parental seed lines in house, no competitor or farmer would be able to produce the hybrid.

The global concentration of hybrid seed patents into a handful of giant seed companies, led by DuPont’s Pioneer Hi-Bred and Monsanto’s Dekalb laid the ground for the later GMO seed revolution.4

In effect, the introduction of modern American agricultural technology, chemical fertilizers and commercial hybrid seeds all made local farmers in developing countries, particularly the larger more established ones, dependent on foreign, mostly US agribusiness and petro-chemical company inputs. It was a first step in what was to be a decades-long, carefully planned process.

Under the Green Revolution agribusiness was making major inroads into markets which were previously of limited access to US exporters. The trend was later dubbed “market-oriented agriculture.” In reality it was agribusiness-controlled agriculture.

Through the Green Revolution, the Rockefeller Foundation and later Ford Foundation worked hand-in-hand shaping and supporting the foreign policy goals of the United States Agency for International Development (USAID) and of the CIA.

One major effect of the Green Revolution was to depopulate the countryside of peasants who were forced to flee into shantytown slums around the cities in desperate search for work. That was no accident; it was part of the plan to create cheap labor pools for forthcoming US multinational manufactures, the ‘globalization’ of recent years.

When the self-promotion around the Green Revolution died down, the results were quite different from what had been promised. Problems had arisen from indiscriminate use of the new chemical pesticides, often with serious health consequences. The mono-culture cultivation of new hybrid seed varieties decreased soil fertility and yields over time. The first results were impressive: double or even triple yields for some crops such as wheat and later corn in Mexico. That soon faded.

The Green Revolution was typically accompanied by large irrigation projects which often included World Bank loans to construct huge new dams, and flood previously settled areas and fertile farmland in the process. Also, super-wheat produced greater yields by saturating the soil with huge amounts of fertilizer per acre, the fertilizer being the product of nitrates and petroleum, commodities controlled by the Rockefeller-dominated Seven Sisters major oil companies.

Huge quantities of herbicides and pesticides were also used, creating additional markets for the oil and chemical giants. As one analyst put it, in effect, the Green Revolution was merely a chemical revolution. At no point could developing nations pay for the huge amounts of chemical fertilizers and pesticides. They would get the credit courtesy of the World Bank and special loans by Chase Bank.
and other large New York banks, backed by US government guarantees.

Applied in a large number of developing countries, those loans went mostly to the large landowners. For the smaller peasants the situation worked differently. Small peasant farmers could not afford the chemical and other modern inputs and had to borrow money.

Initially various government programs tried to provide some loans to farmers so that they could purchase seeds and fertilizers. Farmers who could not participate in this kind of program had to borrow from the private sector. Because of the exorbitant interest rates for informal loans, many small farmers did not even get the benefits of the initial higher yields. After harvest, they had to sell most if not all of their produce to pay off loans and interest. They became dependent on money-lenders and traders and often lost their land. Even with soft loans from government agencies, growing subsistence crops gave way to the production of cash crops.5

Since decades the same interests including the Rockefeller Foundation which backed the initial Green Revolution, have worked to promote a second ‘Gene Revolution’ as Rockefeller Foundation President Gordon Conway termed it several years ago, the spread of industrial agriculture and commercial inputs including GMO patented seeds.

Gates, Rockefeller and a Green Revolution in Africa

With the true background of the 1950s Rockefeller Foundation Green Revolution clear in mind, it becomes especially curious that the same Rockefeller Foundation along with the Gates Foundation, which are now investing millions of dollars in preserving every seed against a possible “doomsday” scenario, are also investing millions in a project called The Alliance for a Green Revolution in Africa.

AGRA, as it calls itself, is an alliance again with the same Rockefeller Foundation which created the “Gene Revolution.” A look at the AGRA Board of Directors confirms this.

It includes none other than former UN Secretary General Kofi Annan as chairman. In his acceptance speech in a World Economic Forum event in Cape Town, South Africa, in June 2007, Kofi Annan stated, ‘I accept this challenge with gratitude to the Rockefeller Foundation, the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, and all others who support our African campaign.’

In addition, the AGRA board numbers a South African, Strive Masiyiwa who is a Trustee of the Rockefeller Foundation. It includes Sylvia M. Mathews of the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation; Mamphela Ramphele, former Managing Director of the World Bank (2000-2006); Rajiv J. Shah of the Gates Foundation; Nadya K. Shmavonian of the Rockefeller Foundation; Roy Steiner of the Gates Foundation. In addition, an Alliance for AGRA includes Gary Toenniessen the Managing Director of the Rockefeller Foundation and Akinwumi Adesina, Associate Director, Rockefeller Foundation.

To fill out the lineup, the Programmes for AGRA includes Peter Matlon, Managing Director, Rockefeller Foundation; Joseph De Vries, Director of the Programme for Africa’s Seed Systems and Associate Director, Rockefeller foundation; Akinwumi Adesina, Associate Director, Rockefeller Foundation. Like the old failed Green Revolution in India and Mexico, the new Africa Green Revolution is clearly a high priority of the Rockefeller Foundation.

While to date they are keeping a low profile, Monsanto and the major GMO agribusiness giants are believed at the heart of using Kofi Annan’s AGRA to spread their patented GMO seeds across Africa under the deceptive label, ‘bio-technology’, the new euphemism for genetically engineered patented seeds. To date South Africa is the only African country permitting legal planting of GMO crops. In 2003 Burkina Faso authorized GMO trials. In 2005 Kofi Annan’s Ghana drafted bio-safety legislation and key officials expressed their intentions to pursue research into GMO crops.

Africa is the next target in the US-government campaign to spread GMO worldwide. Its rich soils make it an ideal candidate. Not surprisingly many African governments suspect the worst from the GMO sponsors as a multitude of genetic engineering and biosafety projects have been initiated in Africa, with the aim of introducing GMOs into Africa’s agricultural systems. These include sponsorships offered by the US government to train African scientists in genetic engineering in the US, biosafety projects funded by the United States Agency for International Development (USAID) and the World Bank; GMO research involving African indigenous food crops.

The Rockefeller Foundation has been working for years to promote, largely without success, projects to introduce GMOs into the fields of Africa. They have backed research that supports the applicability of GMO cotton in the Makhathini Flats in South Africa.
Monsanto, who has a strong foothold in South Africa’s seed industry, both GMO and hybrid, has conceived of an ingenious small-holders’ programme known as the ’Seeds of Hope’ Campaign, which is introducing a green revolution package to small scale poor farmers, followed, of course, by Monsanto’s patented GMO seeds.6

Syngenta AG of Switzerland, one of the ‘Four Horsemen of the GMO Apocalypse’ is pouring millions of dollars into a new greenhouse facility in Nairobi, to develop GMO insect resistant maize. Syngenta is a part of CGIAR as well.7

Move on to Svalbard

Now is it simply philosophical sloppiness? What leads the Gates and Rockefeller foundations to at one and the same time to back proliferation of patented and soon-to-be Terminator patented seeds across Africa, a process which, as it has in every other place on earth, destroys the plant seed varieties as monoculture industrialized agribusiness is introduced? At the same time they invest tens of millions of dollars to preserve every seed variety known in a bomb-proof doomsday vault near the remote Arctic Circle ‘so that crop diversity can be conserved for the future’ to restate their official release?

It is no accident that the Rockefeller and Gates foundations are teaming up to push a GMO-style Green Revolution in Africa at the same time they are quietly financing the ‘doomsday seed vault’ on Svalbard. The GMO agribusiness giants are up to their ears in the Svalbard project.

Indeed, the entire Svalbard enterprise and the people involved call up the worst catastrophe images of the Michael Crichton bestseller, Andromeda Strain, a sci-fi thriller where a deadly disease of extraterrestrial origin causes rapid, fatal clotting of the blood threatening the entire human species.

In Svalbard, the future world’s most secure seed repository will be guarded by the policemen of the GMO Green Revolution – the Rockefeller and Gates Foundations, Syngenta, DuPont and CGIAR.

The Svalbard project will be run by an organization called the Global Crop Diversity Trust (GCDT). Who are they to hold such an awesome trust over the planet’s entire seed varieties? The GCDT was founded by the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organisation (FAO) and Bioversity International (formerly the International Plant Genetic Research Institute), an offshoot of the CGIAR.

The Global Crop Diversity Trust is based in Rome. Its Board is chaired by Margaret Catley-Carlson, a Canadian, also on the advisory board of Group Suez Lyonnaise des Eaux, one of the world’s largest private water companies. Catley-Carlson was also president until 1998 of the New York-based Population Council, John D. Rockefeller’s population reduction organization, set up in 1952 to advance the Rockefeller family’s eugenics program under the cover of promoting “family planning,” birth control devices, sterilization and “population control” in developing countries.

Other GCDT board members include former Bank of America executive presently head of the Hollywood DreamWorks Animation, Lewis Coleman. Coleman is also the lead Board Director of Northrup Grumman Corporation, one of America’s largest military industry Pentagon contractors.

Jorio Dauster (Brazil) is also Board Chairman of Brasil Ecodiesel. He is a former Ambassador of Brazil to the European Union, and Chief Negotiator of Brazil’s foreign debt for the Ministry of Finance. Dauster has also served as President of the Brazilian Coffee Institute and as Coordinator of the Project for the Modernization of Brazil’s Patent System, which involves legalizing patents on seeds which are genetically modified, something until recently forbidden by Brazil’s laws.

Cary Fowler is the Trust’s Executive Director. Fowler was Professor and Director of Research in the Department for International Environment & Development Studies at the Norwegian University of Life Sciences. He was also a Senior Advisor to the Director General of Bioversity International. There he represented the Future Harvest Centres of the Consultative Group on International Agricultural Research (CGIAR) in negotiations on the International Treaty on Plant Genetic Resources. In the 1990s, he headed the International Program on Plant Genetic Resources at the FAO. He drafted and supervised negotiations of FAO’s Global Plan of Action for Plant Genetic Resources, adopted by 150 countries in 1996. He is a past-member of the National Plant Genetic Resources Board of the US and the Board of Trustees of the International Maize and Wheat Improvement Center in Mexico, another Rockefeller Foundation and CGIAR project.

GCDT board member Dr. Mangala Rai of India is the Secretary of India’s Department of Agricultural Research and Education (DARE), and Director General of the Indian Council for Agricultural Research (ICAR). He is also a Board Member of the Rockefeller Foundation’s International Rice Research Institute (IRRI), which promoted the world’s first major GMO experiment, the much-hyped ‘Golden Rice’ which proved a failure. Rai has served as Board Member for CIMMYT (International Maize and Wheat Improvement Center), and a Member of the Executive Council of the CGIAR.

Global Crop Diversity Trust donors or financial angels include as well, in the words of the Humphrey Bogart Casablanca classic, ‘all the usual suspects.’ As well as the Rockefeller and Gates Foundations, the donors include GMO giants DuPont-Pioneer Hi-Bred, Syngenta of Basle, Switzerland, CGIAR and the State Department’s energetically pro-GMO agency for development aid, USAID. Indeed it seems we have the GMO and population reduction foxes guarding the hen-house of mankind, the global seed diversity store in Svalbard.

Why now Svalbard?

We can legitimately ask why Bill Gates and the Rockefeller Foundation along with the major genetic engineering agribusiness giants such as DuPont and Syngenta, along with CGIAR are building the Doomsday Seed Vault in the Arctic.

Who uses such a seed bank in the first place? Plant breeders and researchers are the major users of gene banks. Today’s largest plant breeders are Monsanto, DuPont, Syngenta and Dow Chemical, the global plant-patenting GMO giants. Since early in 2007 Monsanto holds world patent rights together with the United States Government for plant so-called ‘Terminator’ or Genetic Use Restriction Technology (GURT). Terminator is an ominous technology by which a patented commercial seed commits ‘suicide’ after one harvest. Control by private seed companies is total. Such control and power over the food chain has never before in the history of mankind existed.

This clever genetically engineered terminator trait forces farmers to return every year to Monsanto or other GMO seed suppliers to get new seeds for rice, soybeans, corn, wheat whatever major crops they need to feed their population. If broadly introduced around the world, it could within perhaps a decade or so make the world’s majority of food producers new feudal serfs in bondage to three or four Giant seed companies such as Monsanto or DuPont or Dow Chemical.

That, of course, could also open the door to have those private companies, perhaps under orders from their host government, Washington, deny seeds to one or another developing country whose politics happened to go against Washington’s. Those who say ‘It can’t happen here’ should look more closely at current global events. The mere existence of that concentration of power in three or four private US-based agribusiness giants is grounds for legally banning all GMO crops even were their harvest gains real, which they manifestly are not.

These private companies, Monsanto, DuPont, Dow Chemical hardly have an unsullied record in terms of stewardship of human life. They developed and proliferated such innovations as dioxin, PCBs, Agent Orange. They covered up for decades clear evidence of carcinogenic and other severe human health consequences of use of the toxic chemicals. They have buried serious scientific reports that the world’s most widespread herbicide, glyphosate, the essential ingredient in Monsanto’s Round-up herbicide that is tied to purchase of most Monsanto genetically engineered seeds, is toxic when it seeps into drinking water. Denmark banned glyphosate in 2003 when it confirmed it has contaminated the country’s groundwater.

The diversity stored in seed gene banks is the raw material for plant breeding and for a great deal of basic biological research. Several hundred thousand samples are distributed annually for such purposes. The UN’s FAO lists some 1400 seed banks around the world, the largest being held by the United States government. Other large banks are held by China, Russia, Japan, India, South Korea, Germany and Canada in descending order of size. In addition, CGIAR operates a chain of seed banks in select centers around the world.

CGIAR, set up in 1972 by the Rockefeller Foundation and Ford Foundation to spread their Green Revolution agribusiness model, controls most of the private seed banks from the Philippines to Syria to Kenya. In all these present seed banks hold more than six and a half million seed varieties, almost two million of which are ‘distinct.’ Svalbard’s Doomsday Vault will have a capacity to house four and a half million different seeds.

GMO as a weapon of biowarfare?

Now we come to the heart of the danger and the potential for misuse inherent in the Svalbard project of Bill Gates and the Rockefeller foundation. Can the development of patented seeds for most of the world’s major sustenance crops such as rice, corn, wheat, and feed grains such as soybeans ultimately be used in a horrible form of biological warfare?

The explicit aim of the eugenics lobby funded by wealthy elite families such as Rockefeller, Carnegie, Harriman and others since the 1920’s, has embodied what they termed ‘negative eugenics,’ the systematic killing off of undesired bloodlines. Margaret Sanger, a rapid eugenicist, the founder of Planned Parenthood International and an intimate of the Rockefeller family, created something called The Negro Project in 1939, based in Harlem, which as she confided in a letter to a friend, was all about the fact that, as she put it, ‘we want to exterminate the Negro population.’

A small California biotech company, Epicyte, in 2001 announced the development of genetically engineered corn which contained a spermicide which made the semen of men who ate it sterile. At the time Epicyte had a joint venture agreement to spread its technology with DuPont and Syngenta, two of the sponsors of the Svalbard Doomsday Seed Vault. Epicyte was since acquired by a North Carolina biotech company. Astonishing to learn was that Epicyte had developed its spermicidal GMO corn with research funds from the US Department of Agriculture, the same USDA which, despite worldwide opposition, continued to finance the development of Terminator technology, now held by Monsanto.

In the 1990’s the UN’s World Health Organization launched a campaign to vaccinate millions of women in Nicaragua, Mexico and the Philippines between the ages of 15 and 45, allegedly against Tetanus, a sickness arising from such things as stepping on a rusty nail. The vaccine was not given to men or boys, despite the fact they are presumably equally liable to step on rusty nails as women.

Because of that curious anomaly, Comite Pro Vida de Mexico, a Roman Catholic lay organization became suspicious and had vaccine samples tested. The tests revealed that the Tetanus vaccine being spread by the WHO only to women of child-bearing age contained human Chorionic Gonadotrophin or hCG, a natural hormone which when combined with a tetanus toxoid carrier stimulated antibodies rendering a woman incapable of maintaining a pregnancy. None of the women vaccinated were told.

It later came out that the Rockefeller Foundation along with the Rockefeller’s Population Council, the World Bank (home to CGIAR), and the United States’ National Institutes of Health had been involved in a 20-year-long project begun in 1972 to develop the concealed abortion vaccine with a tetanus carrier for WHO. In addition, the Government of Norway, the host to the Svalbard Doomsday Seed Vault, donated $41 million to develop the special abortive Tetanus vaccine.12

Is it a coincidence that these same organizations, from Norway to the Rockefeller Foundation to the World Bank are also involved in the Svalbard seed bank project? According to Prof. Francis Boyle who drafted the Biological Weapons Anti-Terrorism Act of 1989 enacted by the US Congress, the Pentagon is ‘now gearing up to fight and win biological warfare’ as part of two Bush national strategy directives adopted, he notes, ‘without public knowledge and review’ in 2002.

Boyle adds that in 2001-2004 alone the US Federal Government spent $14.5 billion for civilian biofearfare related work, a staggering sum.

Rutgers University biologist Richard Ebright estimates that over 300 scientific institutions and some 12,000 individuals in the USA today have access to pathogens suitable for biowarfare. Alone there are 497 US government NIH grants for research into infectious diseases with biowarfare potential. Of course this is being justified under the rubric of defending against possible terror attack as so much is today.

Many of the US government dollars spent on biowarfare research involve genetic engineering. MIT biology professor Jonathan King says that the ‘growing bio-terror programs represent a significant emerging danger to our own population.’ King adds, ‘while such programs are always called defensive, with biological weapons, defensive and offensive programs overlap almost completely.’13

Time will tell whether, God forbid, the Svalbard Doomsday Seed Bank of Bill Gates and the Rockefeller Foundation is part of another ‘final solution,’ this involving the extinction of the Late, Great Planet Earth.

'Climate Change' as a pretext to appropriate world seeds' treasure

As climate change is credited as one of the main drivers behind soaring food prices, the Global Crop Diversity Trust, the private organization which is responsible for maintaining the Seed Vault, is searching crop collections from Azerbaijan to Nigeria, allegedly for the traits that could defend the world agriculture against the impact of future changes. Traits, such as drought resistance in wheat, or salinity tolerance in potato, they argue, will become essential as crops around the world have to adapt to new climate conditions under forecast changes from ‘global warming.’

Beginning this past March [2008], more than 200,000 crop varieties from Asia, Africa, Latin America and the Middle East – drawn from vast seed collections maintained by the Consultative Group on International Agricultural Research (CGIAR) – were shipped to the Svalbard Global Seed Vault (SGSV), a facility capable of preserving their vitality for thousands of years.

The seeds were from varieties of rice, wheat, beans, sorghum, sweet potatoes, lentils, chick peas and a host of other food, forage and agroforestry plants. They are being safeguarded in the facility, which was created as a ‘repository of last resort for humanity’s agricultural heritage.’ The vault was officially built by the Norwegian government as a service to the global community, and a Rome-based international NGO, the Global Crop Diversity Trust, will fund its operation. It officially opened on February 26, 2008.

Unofficially, the seed vault project is one of the largest steps taken yet by the handful of GMO agribusiness giants including Monsanto Corporation, Syngenta of Basle, the Rockefeller Foundation in addition to the Gates family foundation, the world’s largest private foundation combining the wealth as well of Warren Buffett. As I described above, the project appears to be far from the innocent humanitarian enterprise its promoters claim. The key organizations involved have a long, often dirty history of fraud, intimidation and dubious methods to force the spread of patented genetically modified plant seeds into the world agriculture food chain.

Readers seeking a more detailed background on the GMO companies, the so-called Four Horsemen of the Seeds Apocalypse – Monsanto, Syngenta, Dow Chemical and DuPont – are encouraged to look further in my book, Seeds of Destruction: The Hidden Agenda of Genetic Manipulation. There I describe the decades long background of the Rockefeller Foundation, working in close concert with Monsanto and others to create the scientifically flawed technology of introducing foreign traits into the seeds of the world’s main food crops and thereby claiming grounds for exclusive patent rights to sell seeds of corn, rice, potato varieties, soybeans and countless other basic crops including cotton. GMO is a scientifically unstable technique whose long-term health impact on humans or even animals has never been independently tested by any government.

That is a result of deliberate US policy, initiated in 1992 by then-President George H. W. Bush in consultation with top officials of Monsanto. Then Bush signed an executive decree mandating the responsible federal agencies such as the Department of Agriculture, the Food and Drug Administration and others not to independently test the genetically modified seeds for possible harmful effects, but to consider them to be ‘substantially equivalent’ to conventional corn, soybeans, rice and such. That political fraud allowed Monsanto to submit GMO seed varieties for approval to plant commercially using only Monsanto-conducted test results as ‘proof’ that the seeds were safe. That was only the beginning of a policy of malign neglect on the side of the US Government regarding the dangers of GMO.

Toxic for human embryos

Compounding the dangers, the US government also refused to examine, independently, the possible harmful effects to ground water and to humans and animals of the patented chemical herbicides which had to be sold alongside the Monsanto or DuPont or other GMO seeds. The seeds were patented in effect to force farmers to buy exclusively the herbicide of the seed patent owner.

As an example, Monsanto initially held patent rights to a powerful herbicide, Roundup®, which today is the world’s most used herbicide. Monsanto developed and patented a soybean seed it names Roundup Ready®. Roundup Ready soybeans are ‘ready’ for the Roundup herbicide. The Monsanto soybean is specially developed to be resistant to Roundup herbicide, a powerful poison that kills everything it touches. That pairing of herbicide and seed gives companies promoting the GMO product a lock on both sale of patented seeds as well as their mated herbicide chemicals. All major GMO seed giants started out as chemical companies.

More alarming is the fact that, according to numerous studies worldwide, GMO crops over time need more, not less, herbicide as the weeds develop a special resistance to become ‘superweeds.’

Then a scientific study that has to date been blocked out of the public debate, suggests that the active elements in the world’s largest-selling herbicide, Monsanto’s Roundup, are toxic and get into ground water and into the human diet. The study found that Roundup had a measurable effect on human embryonic and placental cells.

The scientific study, released in the magazine, Archives of Environmental Contamination and Toxicology, in November 2006 by a group of scientists headed by N. Benachour and G. E. Seralini of the University of Caen in France, following extensive tests with rats fed a diet of plants treated with Roundup, whose active ingredient is glyphosate, showed ‘that the failure to account for the combined effects... will undoubtedly lead to the underestimation of potential hazards, especially at the endocrine disruption level, and hence to erroneous conclusions at a regulatory level regarding the risk that they provoke.’ The scientists concluded, 'Thus the toxic or hormonal impact of chemical mixtures in formulations (of Roundup – W. E.) appears to be underestimated.' Moreover, the Caen University scientists found that the toxic effects of Roundup were ‘thus amplified with time. Taken together, these data suggest that Roundup exposure may effect human reproduction and fetal development in case of contamination.’

The last statement, translated into layman’s language is that the world’s most popular herbicide has manifest impact on human embryo cells and no government is moving to call for a ban on its sale pending larger more thorough independent tests. The scientific article was buried and no one outside a tiny scientific community even knew the alarming results. The story should have been banner headline in the world press: ‘Scientists claim GMO herbicide toxic to human embryo!’

NATO gets world seed samples

The fact that GMO is a product of the Rockefeller Foundation, an organization which has been the leading world organization promoting the racist eugenics agenda since the 1920’s, and promoting population reduction programs including forced sterilization of women in Puerto Rico, Nicaragua and elsewhere in the developing world is relevant to the probable agenda of the people who placed a global seed vault on the property of a NATO country far remote from any prying of the public.

The picture gets more ominous in context of the Arctic Seed Vault of the Rockefeller Foundation, Gates, Monsanto et al. The seeds for the Doomsday Seed Vault are being gathered from select seed banks around the world established by CGIAR. This first installment from the CGIAR collections will contain duplicates from international agricultural research centers based in Benin, Colombia, Ethiopia, India, Kenya, Mexico, Nigeria, Peru, the Philippines and Syria. Collectively, the CGIAR centers maintain 600,000 plant varieties in crop gene-banks, which are regarded as the foundation of global efforts to conserve agricultural biodiversity. The seed banks are supposed to be protected from attempts of Monsanto et al to try to use the seeds for their patent efforts. There have been documented cases, however, where seed samples were illegally given to Monsanto or other GMO giants to develop GMO traits.

Now by collecting all possible seed varieties far away from prying eyes in the Arctic, the seed companies such as Monsanto who are part of the Svalbard Doomsday Seed Vault project, have at least the theoretical possibility of taking those seeds and patenting the most essential for their proliferation of GMO across the human food chain.

The Svalbard project deserves far more public attention and scrutiny.

Expendable Elite
One Soldier’s Journey into Covert Warfare

A special operations perspective on the Vietnam War and the truth about a White House concerned with popular opinion.

This true story of a special forces officer in Vietnam in the mid-1960s exposes the unique nature of the elite fighting force and how covert operations are developed and often masked to permit and even sponsor assassination, outright purposeful killing of innocents, illegal use of force, and bizarre methods in combat operations.

Dr. Mary’s Monkey
How the unsolved murder of a doctor, a secret laboratory in New Orleans and cancer-causing monkey viruses are linked to Lee Harvey Oswald, the JFK assassination and emerging global epidemics

Did inoculating millions of schoolchildren with polio vaccines contaminated by monkey viruses trigger an epidemic of soft-tissue cancers? Was a desperate effort to develop an anti-cancer vaccine diverted secretly into biological weapons? Is there a link between these covert experiments and AIDS? And do the answers to these questions connect to the intrigues swirling around the assassination of President Kennedy?

Here is a book of profound importance that helps us fathom what has really happened. The grisly homicide of a nationally-known surgeon in 1964 New Orleans sets the stage for a chilling exposé of scientists and spooks in shadowy hidden laboratories. What they did then … affects our world today!

When New Orleans native Ed Haslam began his investigation into the curious life and shocking death of the brilliant Tulane medical professor Dr. Mary Sherman, he couldn’t have imagined that this inquiry would connect some of the city’s most prominent citizens to the Mafia, and to forces high inside the U.S. government – nor that these new discoveries would ultimately change our understanding of a fateful November day in Dallas. But they have!

The True Story of the Bilderberg Group

Unravel one of the best-kept secrets in political history.

Delving into a world once shrouded in complete mystery and impenetrable security, this investigative report provides a fascinating account of the annual meetings of the world’s most powerful people – the Bilderberg Group.

Since its inception in 1954 at the Bilderberg Hotel in the small Dutch town of Oosterbeek, the Bilderberg Group has been comprised of European prime ministers, American presidents, and the wealthiest CEOs of the world, all coming together to discuss the economic and political future of humanity.

The press has never been allowed to attend, nor have statements ever been released on the attendees’ conclusions or discussions, which have ramifications on the citizens of the world.

Using methods that resemble the spy tactics of the Cold War – and in several instances putting his own life on the line – the author did what no one else has managed to achieve: he learned what was being said behind the closed doors of the opulent hotels and has made it available to the public for the first time.

Daniel Estulin is an award-winning investigative journalist and has been researching the Bilderberg Group for more than 14 years. He is the host of two radio shows in Spain.

The infamous NASA (National Aeronautics and Space Administration) Blue Beam Project has four different steps in order to implement the New Age religion with the Antichrist at its head. We must remember that the New Age religion is the very foundation for the new world government, without which religion the dictatorship of the New World Order is completely impossible. I’ll repeat that: Without a universal belief in the new age religion, the success of the New World Order will be impossible! That is why the Blue Beam Project is so important to them, but has been so well hidden until now.

SERGE MONAST AND ANOTHER JOURNALIST, BOTH OF WHOM WERE RESEARCHING PROJECT BLUE BEAM, died of “heart attacks” within weeks of each other, although neither had a history of heart disease. Serge was in Canada. The other Canadian journalist was visiting Ireland. Prior to his death, the “unknown” commandos abducted Serge’s daughter in an attempt to dissuade him from pursuing his research into Project Blue Beam. His daughter was never returned… – Ken Adachi, Educate-Yourself.org

The first step in the NASA Blue Beam Project concerns the breakdown (re-evaluation) of all archaeological knowledge. It deals with the set-up, with artificially created earthquakes at certain precise locations on the planet, of supposedly new discoveries which will finally explain to all people the “error” of all fundamental religious doctrines. The falsification of this information will be used to make all nations believe that their religious doctrines have been misunderstood for centuries and misinterpreted. Psychological preparations for that first step have already been implemented with the film, 2001: A Space Odyssey, the StarTrek series, and Independence Day, all of which deal with invasions from space and the coming together of all nations to repel the invaders. The later films, such as Jurassic Park, deal with the theories of evolution and claim God’s words are lies.

What is important to understand in the first step is that those earthquakes will hit at different parts of the world where scientific and archaeological teachings have indicated that arcane mysteries have been buried. By those types of earthquakes, it will be possible for scientists to rediscover those arcane mysteries which will be used to discredit all fundamental religious doctrines. This is the first preparation for the plan for humanity because what they want to do is destroy the beliefs of all Christians and Muslims on the planet. To do that, they need some false “proof” from the far past that will prove to all nations that their religions have all been misinterpreted and misunderstood.

THE BIG SPACE SHOW IN THE SKY

The second step in the NASA Blue Beam Project involves a gigantic ‘space show’ with three-dimensional optical holograms and sounds, laser projection of multiple holographic images to different parts of the world, each receiving a different image according to predominating regional national religious faith. This new “god’s” voice will be speaking in all languages.

In order to understand that, we must study various secret services’ research done in the last 25 years.

The Soviets have perfected the advanced computer systems, even exported them, and fed them with the minute physio-psychological particulars based on their studies of the anatomy and electromechanical composition of the human body, and the studies of the electrical, chemical and biological properties of the human brain. These computers were fed, as well, with the languages of all human cultures and their meanings. The dialects of all cultures have been fed into the computers from satellite transmissions.

The Soviets began to feed the computers with objective programs like the ones of the satellite transmissions. Computers will coordinate the satellites and software already in place will run the sky show. Holographic images are based on nearly identical signals combining to produce an image or hologram with deep perspective which is equally applicable to acoustic ELF, VLF and LF waves and optical phenomena. Specifically, the show will consist of multiple holographic images to different parts of the world, each receiving a different image according to the specifications.
cific national, regional religion. Not a single area will be excluded. With computer animation and sounds appearing to emanate from the very depths of space, astonished ardent followers of the various creeds will witness their own returned messiahs in convincing lifelike reality.

Then the projections of Jesus, Mohammed, Buddha, Krishna, etc., will merge into one after correct explanations of the mysteries and revelations will have been disclosed. This one god will, in fact, be the Antichrist, who will explain that the various scriptures have been misunderstood and misinterpreted, and that the religions of old are responsible for turning brother against brother, and nation against nation, therefore old religions must be abolished to make way for the new age new world religion, representing the one god Antichrist they see before them.

Naturally, this superbly staged falsification will result in dissolved social and religious disorder on a grand scale, each nation blaming the other for the deception, setting loose millions of programmed religious fanatics through demonic possession on a scale never witnessed before. In addition, this event will occur at a time of profound worldwide political anarchy and general tumult created by some worldwide catastrophe.

The United Nation even now plans to use Beethoven’s “Song of Joy” as the anthem for the introduction for the New Age one world religion.

If we put this space show in parallel with the star wars program we get this: combination of electromagnetic radiation and hypnosis which have also been the subject of intensive research. In 1974, for instance, researcher G. F. Shapits, said of one of the research proposals that, “...in this investigation it will be shown that the spoken words of the hypnotist may also be converted by electromagnetic energy directly and to the subconscious part of the human brain without employing any mechanical device for receiving or transcording the message, and without the person exposed to such influence having a chance to control the information input consciously. It may be expected that the rationalized behavior will be considered to have been taken out of their own free will.”

Anyone investigating so-called “channeling” phenomena right now would be wise to take this area of research into consideration. It will be noted that those who think of themselves as 'channellers' has escalated rapidly since this type of research was conducted. It is uncanny how similar their messages are, despite which entity they claim to be their source of divine guidance. It would suggest any individual considering the credibility of channelled information should be discerning and critically evaluate where the message they are receiving originates, and if the messages are specifically beneficial to the new world order.

The Sydney Morning newspaper published an item on March 21st, 1983 which announced that the Soviets were invading the human mind, the article having been submitted to the foreign editor by Doctor Nathan Abnuengy, assistant professor in the faculty of agriculture in Asia. It is worth quoting the article at length even though his grammar is a little old. This article relates to the Soviets who created the supercomputer we were discussing earlier and which is really important because these types of computers can be run through satellites and through space. The computers were fed with all the different languages and their meanings, the dialect of all peoples were fed to the computers with objective programs. But we are no longer talking about the Soviets; we are talking about the United Nations, the minions of the New World Order, who are feeding the computers with the necessary information.

The editor of the column in which the article appeared even states that the piece made points too important to ignore. I think it is possible that the persons who have created this mega-mind-control-program could sell the software to an organization and not be aware that the client might use the program and data to enslave all of humankind. Just imagine how far they have advanced since that article was published!

ARTIFICIAL THOUGHT AND COMMUNICATION

The advancement of techniques propel us toward the third step in the Blue Beam Project that goes along with the telepathic and electronically augmented two-way communication where ELF, VLF and LF waves will reach each person from within his or her own mind, convincing each of them that their own god is speaking to them from the very depths of their own soul. Such rays from satellites are fed from the memories of computers that have stored massive data about every human on earth, and their languages. The rays will then interlace with their natural thinking to form what we call diffuse artificial thought.

That kind of technology goes into the 1970s, 1980s, and 1990s research where the human brain has been compared to a computer. Information is fed in, processed, integrated and then a response is formulated and acted upon. Mind controllers manipulate information the same way a computer for grammar manipulates information. In January 1991, the University of Arizona hosted a conference entitled, “The NATO Advanced Research Workshop on Current and Emergent Phenomena and Biomolecular Systems.” What does that mean exactly? It means this: We refer to one paper that was delivered at the conference which stands out for its different attitude towards the development under discussion at that time. It was, in effect, a protest and chilling warning to the attending scientists about the potential abuse of their research findings.

Their findings, of course, stated that the United States has already developed communications equipment which can make the blind see, the deaf hear and the lame walk. It can relieve the terminally ill from pain without the use of drugs or surgery. I’m not talking about science fiction. A man might retain the use of all his faculties right up to the moment of his death.

This communications equipment depends upon a completely new way of looking at the human brain and neuromuscular systems and radiation pulses at ultra-low frequencies. Some of this equipment is now operational within the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), and Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI). It will never be used to make the blind see, the deaf hear and the lame walk because it is central to the domestic political agenda and foreign policy of George Bush and his puppet-masters of the New World Order.

Domestically, the new communications equipment is being used to torture and murder persons who match profiles imagined to be able to screen a given population for terrorists; to torture and murder citizens who belong to organizations which promote tolerance and peace and development in Central America; to torture and murder citizens who belong to organizations who oppose the development and deployment of nuclear weapons, and to create a race of slave cult automatons, or what is popularly called “the Manchurian Candidates.”

Overseas experimentation is taking place on hostages held by the United States and Canada, Great Britain, Australia, Germany, Finland and France. Additionally, there has been a long series of bizarre suicides among British computer scientists, all of whom have had some connection to the United States Navy.

What is possible to ask before such a psychology of terror is this: would any government, corporation or psychiatrist wilfully promote such horror today? The answer is quite obviously, “Yes.”

Government agencies and the corporations that work with them toward New World Order are prepared to promote anything that will help them achieve their objective of total social control.

As for the question of why. For one thing, if you terrify the public and make them fear for their safety, they will allow you to implement draconian law enforcement practice, disarm them and keep extensive records on them, and they only have to tell you that it is all to protect you, of course. Secondly, it promotes the decay of the present democratic forms of political systems and leads societies to search for alternative methods of political ideology. Of course, the alternative has already been planned.
It is called the New World Order and it will not have your safety or interests at heart. As George Bush said: “Read my lips.” Fear has always been used by powerful elite to control and subjugate the masses.

The old maxim, “divide and conquer,” is being played out to the limit worldwide to ensure that everyone is frightened for their personal safety, and to be suspicious of everyone else. This, too, is mind control.

To go further in regard to the new technology which is at the base of the NASA Blue Beam Project, we have to consider this statement by psychologist James V. McConnell which was published in a 1970s issue of Psychology Today. He said, “The day has come when we can combine sensory deprivation with drug hypnosis and astute manipulation of reward and punishment to gain almost absolute control over an individual’s behavior. It should then be possible to achieve a very rapid and highly effective type of positive brainwashing that would allow us to make dramatic changes in a person’s behavior and personality.”

Now, when we talked before about that kind of ray and the telepathic and electronically augmented communication, the kind of rays that are fed from the memories of computers which store massive data about humans, human language and dialects, and we said that the people will be reached from within, making each person to believe that his own god is speaking directly from within his or her own soul, we refer to that kind of technology and that kind of thinking that same psychologist was espousing, that is: we should be trained from birth that we should all do what society wants us to do rather than what we want to do for ourselves; that because they have the technology to do it, no one should now be allowed to have their own individual personality.

This statement and these ideas are important because it is the basic teaching of the United Nations that no one owns his or her own personality. And that same psychologist claims that no one has any say-so about the kind of personality they acquire and there is no reason to believe you have the right to refuse to acquire a new personality if your old personality is considered “antisocial.”

What is important in this declaration is that the New World Order will be set up over the current system, meaning the old way of thinking and behavior and religion will be considered the “old” and incorrect way of thinking and that they can change it at one of the eradication camps of the United Nations to make sure that anyone with this “antisocial” behavior will be disposed of quickly so that other modified individuals will be able to fulfill the needs and agendas of the new world order without being distracted by the truth.

Could this be the greatest mind control project ever?

The NASA Blue Beam Project is the prime directive for the New World Order’s absolute control over the populations of the entire earth. I would suggest you investigate this information carefully before dismissing it as fanatic lunacy. If we go further in the different reports we have presented, we find that the mind-control operations and technology include a transmitter that broadcasts at the same frequency as the human nervous-system, which transmitter is manufactured by the Loral Electro-Optical Systems in Pasadena, California.

Loral, a major defense contractor, has previously conducted research on directed energy weapons for Lt. Gen. Leonard Perez of the US Airforce who was searching for a weapon that could implant messages into the minds of the enemy while urging his own troops on to superhuman deeds of valor! The device employs electromagnetic radiation of gigahertz frequencies (microwaves) pulsed at extremely low frequencies (ELF). It is used to torture people both physically and mentally from a distance.

Weapons of this type are thought to have been used against a British woman protesting the presence of American cruise missiles at Greenham Common Airbase during the 1970s. This weapon can be used to induce total sensory deprivation by broadcasting signals into the auditory nerve at such high power that it blocks the ability of the individual to hear themselves think!

The process employed by such ELF technology are described in various US Defense Department publications, including one entitled, “The Electromagnetic Spectrum and Low Intensity Conflict,” by Captain Paul E. Tyler, Medical Commandant, US Navy, which is included in a collection entitled, “Low Intensity Conflict and Modern Technology Edict,” by Lt. Col David G. Dean, USAF. The paper was delivered in 1984 and the collection published 1986 by Air University Press, Maxwell Airforce Base, Alabama.

Another pulse microwave device can deliver audible signals directly to an individual while remaining undetectable to anyone else. The technology is very simple and can be built by using an ordinary police radar gun. The microwave beam generated by the device is modulated at audio frequencies and can broadcast messages directly into the brain. Now here we come to the NASA Blue Beam Project. The broadcasting of subliminal two-way communication and images from the depths of space correspond directly to that kind of technology.

In his book, The Body Electric, Nobel Prize nominee Dr. Robert O. Becker describes a series of experiments conducted in the early 1960s by Allen Frie, where this phenomena was demonstrated as well as later experiments conducted in 1973 at the Walter Reed Army Institute of Research by Dr. Joseph C. Sharp who personally underwent tests in which he proved he could hear and understand messages delivered to him in an echo-free isolation chamber via a pulsed microwave audiogram, which is an analog of the word’s sound vibration beamed into his brain. Becker then goes on to state, “Such a device has obvious application for covert operations designed to drive a target crazy with unknown voices or deliver undetectable instructions to a programmed assassin.”

Now figure out when we hear that voice from the New World messiah who would be speaking from space to all of the sane (?) people of the earth who might give instructions to zealots and religious fanatics, we would see hysteria and social mayhem on a scale never witnessed before on this planet. No police forces in the world, even as a combined front, could deal with the disorder that will follow!

A 1978 book entitled Microwave Auditory Effect and Application, by James C. Lynn, describes how audible voices can be broadcast directly into the brain. This technology could actually allow the blind to see and the deaf to hear. Instead, it has been turned into a weapon to enslave the world.

Allen Frie also reports that he could speed up, slow down or stop the hearts of isolated frogs by synchronizing the pulsed rate of a microwave beam with the heart itself. According to Dr. Robert Becker, similar results have been obtained using live frogs, which shows that it is technically feasible to produce heart attacks with rays designed to penetrate the human chest.

[EDITOR’S NOTE: Both the author of this report and his colleague died of “heart attacks” only days apart. We should mention also that Dr. Becker does not participate in such research.]

It has been demonstrated that focused ultra high frequency (UHF) electromagnetic energy beams can be used to induce considerable agitation and muscular activity or induce muscular weakness and lethargy. Microwaves can also be used to burn human skin and aid the effect of drugs, bacteria and poisons or affect the function of the entire brain. These effects were all revealed at length by the CIA on September 21, 1977 in testimony before the Subcommittee on Health and Scientific Research. Dr. Sidney Gottlieb who directed the MK-Ultra program at that time, was forced to discuss the scope of the CIA’s research to find techniques of activation of the human organism by remote electronic means. So this is something that exists right now, that has been pursued to its highest degree, that can be used from space to reach any person, anywhere on the face of the earth.

If we go deeper in that process of mind control over the people we find that the equipment and technology has been used to influence politics in a much more direct fashion. Michael Dukakis, the Democrat candidate running against George Bush in the 1988 election was targeted with microwave technology in order to impede his public speaking performance once the public opinion polls showed he posed a serious threat to Bush’s election prospects. He also claims that the equipment was used against Kitty Dukakis and drove her to the brink of suicide. In the Disneyland world of US politics, a presidential candidate with problems such as these, would obviously lose their race to the White House.

In the December 1980 edition of the US Army journal, called the Military Review, a column by Lt. Col. John B. Alexander, entitled “The New Mental Battlefield: Beam Me Up, Spock,” provides further insight into the technical capabilities at the disposal of the controller. He writes: “Several examples will demonstrate areas in which progress have been made. The transference of energy from one organism to another; the ability to heal or cause disease to be transmitted over a distance, thus inducing illness or death from no apparent cause; telepathic behavior modification which includes the ability to induce hypnotic states up to a distance of 1,000 kilometers have been reported.

The use of telepathic hypnosis also holds great potential. This capability could allow agents to be deeply planted with no conscious knowledge of their programming.”

In movie terms, the Manchurian Candidate lives, and does not even require a telephone call.

“Other mind-to-mind induction techniques are being considered. If perfected, this capability could allow the direct transference of thought via telepathy from one mind or group of minds to a select target audience. The unique factor is that the recipient will not be aware that thought has been implanted from an external source. He or she will believe the thoughts are original.”

This is exactly what we were talking about.

The third step in the NASA Blue Beam Project is called the Telepathic Electronic Two-Way Communication. Lt. Col. Alexander’s article continues:

“If it is possible to feed artificial thought into the multigenic field via satellite, the mind control of the entire planet is now possible. An individual’s only resistance would be to constantly question the motivation behind their thoughts and not act upon thoughts which they consider to be outside their own ideological, religious and moral boundaries.”

Once again, it is wise to consider how television, advertising, modern education and various types of social pressure are used to manipulate those boundaries. It has been reported by Lt. Col. Alexander who said, in the summary of his Military Review article: “The information on those kinds of technologies presented here would be considered by some to be ridiculous since it does not conform to their view of reality.”

But some people still believe the world is flat.

Now, this means a lot, because if people do not believe this kind of technology is possible, or that it is science fiction, those people put themselves in great jeopardy, because on the night when those thousand stars will shine from space, during the night when the New Messiah will be presented to the world, they will not be prepared and will have no time to prepare to save themselves against that kind of technology. They don’t believe and they won’t take time to prepare.

This is exactly what happens to people who are convinced by Satan into believing that he doesn’t exist, so they have no defence against him.

UNIVERSAL SUPERNATURAL MANIFESTATIONS VIA ELECTRONICS

The fourth step concerns the universal supernatural manifestation with electronic means. It contains three different orientations.

One is to make mankind believe that an alien (off-world) invasion is about to occur at every major city on earth in order to provoke each major nation to use its nuclear weapons in order to strike back. This way, the United Nations Court will require that all those nations which launched nuclear weapons to disarm when the invasion is shown to have been false. And how will the United Nations know that the invasion was false? They will have staged it, of course.

The second is to make the Christians believe that the rapture is going to occur with the supposed divine intervention of an alien (off-world) civilization coming to rescue earthlings from a savage and merciless demon. Its goal will be to dispose of all significant opposition to the implementation of the New World Order in one major stroke, actually within hours of the beginning of the sky show!

The third orientation in the fourth step is a mixture of electronic and supernatural forces. The waves used at that time will allow “supernatural forces” to travel through optical fibers, coaxial cables (TV), electrical and phone lines in order to penetrate to everyone at once.
through major appliances. Embedded chips will already be in place. The goal of this deals with global Satanic ghosts projected all around the world in order to push all populations to the edge of hysteria and madness, to drown them into a wave of suicide, murder and permanent psychological disorders. After the Night of the Thousand Stars, worldwide populations will be ready for the New Messiah to re-establish order and peace at any cost, even at the cost of abdication of freedom.

PHASING OUT CASH AND INDEPENDENCE

The techniques used in the fourth step is exactly the same used in the past in the USSR to force the people to accept Communism. The same technique will be used by the United Nations to implement the new world religion and the New World Order.

A lot of people ask when this is going to happen and how they will accomplish the visions of the Night of a Thousand Stars, and the events that will point to the days when it will begin. According to the many reports we have received, we believe it will begin with some kind of worldwide economic disaster. Not a complete crash, but enough to allow them to introduce some kind of in-between currency before they introduce their electronic cash to replace all paper or plastic money. The in-between currency will be used to force anyone with savings to spend or turn in their cash because they understand that people who have money and are not dependent upon them might be the very ones who will mount an insurrection against them. If everyone is broke, no one can fund a war of any kind: paper currency will cease to exist. This is one of the first signs.

But to implement the worldwide electronic money system, everyone in the world who might have money in the future, will have to have a way to transfer money electronically. Before that time, everyone will have spent, before the year 2,000, all of their cash, reserves and assets. Everyone has to be 100 percent dependent upon the Council for their existence.

To prevent any kind of independence, the New World Order has already implanted microchips in wild animals, birds, fish, etc. Why? They want to make certain that the people who will not accept the New World Order will not be able to hunt or fish anywhere in the world. If they try, they will be tracked and traced by satellites, then hunted down and imprisoned or killed.

The New World Order is already changing the laws of all nations to make everyone dependent upon a single food and vitamin supply. They are changing laws about religion and psychiatric disorders in order to identify anyone who is potentially threatening to the NWO. Those who are found defective will be sent to eradication camps, where their organs will be taken and sold to the highest bidders. Those who are not killed outright will be used as slave labor or used in medical experiments.

The goal of a dictatorship is to control everyone, everywhere on the planet, ruthlessly and without exception. That’s why the new technology being introduced everywhere is a technology for the control of the people. The technology of the 1940s and 1950s was used to help the people have an easier and more productive life. The new technology is designed and built to track down and control people everywhere. This technology is being manufactured for a specific purpose and to refuse to see and recognize that purpose, which is to enslave the entire populations of the world, is to deny the emergence of the Antichrist and the establishment of the New World Order religion and government.

If you cannot see, if you cannot learn, if you cannot understand, then you and your family and friends will succumb to the fires of the crematoria that have been built in every state and every major city on earth, built to deal with you. No one is safe in a totalitarian police state!
There are three cities (city-states) across this planet that share striking similarities and play a crucial role in the global governmental system we have long been living under. The three city-states (along with the role they serve) are as follows: City of London (finance), Washington DC (military) and Vatican City (religion).

The aforementioned city-states are sovereign, corporate entities not connected to the nations they appear to be part of. In other words, the City of London (that is the square mile within Greater London) is not technically part of Greater London or England, just as Vatican City is not part of Rome or Italy. Likewise, Washington DC is not part of the United States that it controls.

These sovereign, corporate entities have their own laws and their own identities. They also have their own flags. Seen below is the flag of Washington DC. Note the three stars, representing the trinity of these three city-states, also known as the Empire of the City. (There is also high esoteric significance to the number 3.)

Washington DC was established as a city-state in 1871 with the passage of the Act of 1871, which officially established the United States as a corporation under the rule of Washington, which itself is subservient to the City of London. Corporations are run by presidents, which is why we call the person perceived to hold the highest seat of power in the land “the president.” The fact is the president is nothing more than a figurehead for the central bankers and transnational corporations (both of which themselves are controlled by High Ecclesiastic Freemasonry) that really control this country and ultimately call the shots.

Washington DC operates under a system of Roman Law and outside of the limitations established by the US Constitution. Therefore, it should not be a surprise that the name Capitol Hill derives from Capitoline Hill, which was the seat of government for the Roman Empire. If you look at the wall behind the podium in the House of Representatives, you will notice that on either side of the US flag is the depiction of bundles of sticks tied together with an axe. These are called fasci, hence the root word of fascism. This was the symbol of fascism in the Roman Empire, as it was under the Nazis and still is today. It is not a coincidence that these symbols are featured on the floor of Congress.

Any American who thinks they are living in a free country does not have a clue. The fact is that the United States corporation is controlled from the City of London, by the Crown, which is not the British Monarchy as many believe, but rather the private corporation that is the inner ‘City of London’ itself, also commonly known as “The City” or “The Square Mile.” This square mile that makes up the center of Greater London has its own mayor, laws, courts, flag, police force and newspaper. It is the heart of the global financial system.

Vatican City also has its own mayor (called the Governatorate), laws, flag, postal service, newspaper, radio and television stations, and even its own prison.

Another thing these three city-states have in common are their own obelisks.

Obelisks are tall, four-sided shafts of stone which taper at the top in a pyramidal fashion. The obelisk is phallic in its appearance and represents the male penis. It is symbolic of the Egyptian sun god, Ra, and is an ancient symbol of male energy and generation (G) in Freemasonry.

Vatican obelisk. Located in St. Peter’s Square, the Vatican obelisk was moved from Egypt to its current location in 1586. The circle at the base on the obelisk represents the female vagina and thus male/female duality.

Also notice the lines extending from the circle, forming a Union Jack as seen on the British flag.

London obelisk (aka Cleopatra’s Needle). Located on the banks of the River Thames, this obelisk was transported to London and erected in 1878 under the reign of Queen Victoria. The obelisk originally stood in the Egyptian city of On, or Heliopolis (the City of the Sun). The Knights Templars’ land extended to this area of the Thames, where the Templars had their own docks. Either side of the obelisk is surrounded by a sphinx, also symbolism dating back to the ancient world.

Washington obelisk (aka Washington Monument): Standing at 555 feet, the Washington Monument is the tallest obelisk in the world and also the tallest standing structure in Washington DC. The monument’s cornerstone, a 12-ton slab of marble, was donated by the Grand Lodge of Freemasons. Like the Vatican obelisk, the Washington monument too is surrounded by a circle denoting the female. The reflecting pool in front of the monument signifies the ancient Masonic/Kabbalistic dictum, as above – so below.

So how are these three cities ultimately connected?
We must first go back to the Knights Templar and their initial 200-year reign of power. The Knights Templar were first called “the Poor Fellow-Soldiers of Christ and the Temple of Solomon.” This is a blatantly misleading title, considering the immense wealth and power of the Templars, who operated 9,000 manors across Europe and owned all the mills and markets. It was the Templars that issued the first paper money for public use in Europe, establishing the fiat banking system we know today.

In England, the Templars established their headquarters at a London temple, which still exists today and is called Temple Bar. This is located in the City of London, between Fleet Street and Victoria Embankment.

The aforementioned “Crown,” to be exact, is the Knights Templar church, also known as the Crown Temple. It is the Crown Temple that controls the legal/court system of the US, Canada and many other countries. All bar associations are directly linked to the International Bar Association and the Inns of Court at Crown Temple in the City of London.

Anytime you hear somebody refer to the Bar Association, they are talking about a British/Masonic system that has nothing to do with a country’s sovereignty or the constitutional rights of its people. This is why, when you go to court in the US, you see the US flag with a gold fringe, denoting international rule.

The government of the United States, Canada and Britain are all subsidiaries of the crown, as is the Federal Reserve in the US. The ruling Monarch in England is also subordinate to the Crown. The global financial and legal system is controlled from the City of London by the Crown. The square mile making up the center of Greater London is the global seat of power, at least at the visible level.

The Temple Bar consists of what are called Inns of Court. There are four Inns of Court as follows: Inner Temple, Middle Temple, Lincoln’s Inn and Gray’s Inn. It is believed that the Inner Temple controls the legal system of Canada and Britain while the Middle Temple controls the legal system of the United States, though all Inns are themselves controlled by the same few at the top.

Most Americans (and people in general) believe the US declared independence from Britain when this is simply not the case. Of the signatories to the Declaration of Independence, at least five of them were Temple Bar attorneys, all of whom had sworn allegiance to the Crown. Alexander Hamilton was one of the Middle Crown agents during the formation of the US and was assigned to set up the American banking system on orders from the Crown, to control the United States. In fact a ‘State’ is a legal entity of the Crown. This is why we also have the State of Israel.

Furthermore, of the members of the Constitutional Convention that signed the completed US Constitution, seven were Middle Inn Templars who had also pledged allegiance to the Crown. Therefore, it is no coincidence that today copies of both the Declaration of Independence and US Constitution hang on the wall in the library of of the Middle Temple in London.

To put it all in context, it is the Crown that controls the global financial system and runs the governments of all Commonwealth countries, and many non-Commonwealth Western nations as well. The Crown traces back to the Vatican, which is headed by the Pope, who is the figurehead for the real powers that be behind the curtain, some of which are known but many of which are completely unknown to the general public.

For the New World Order, a world government is just the beginning. Once in place they can engage their plan to exterminate 80% of the world’s population, while enabling the “elites” to live forever with the aid of advanced technology.

For the first time, crusading filmmaker Alex Jones reveals their secret plan for humanity’s extermination: Operation ENDGAME.

Jones chronicles the history of the global elite’s bloody rise to power and reveals how they have funded dictators and financed the bloodiest wars – creating order out of chaos to pave the way for the first true world empire.

✔ Watch as Jones and his team track the elusive Bilderberg Group to Ottawa and Istanbul to document their secret summits, allowing you to witness global kingpins setting the world’s agenda and instigating World War III.

✔ Learn about the formation of the North America transportation control grid, which will end U.S. sovereignty forever.

✔ Discover how the practitioners of the pseudo-science eugenics have taken control of governments worldwide as a means to carry out depopulation.

Monsanto, the world’s largest producer of genetically engineered products, claims their patented GM seeds and bovine growth hormone (BGH) will increase worldwide production of agricultural, dairy, meat, and Bi cotton and can eradicate world hunger and poverty.

However Monsanto (maker of Agent Orange), is frequently described as the “Gestapo” and “Mafia” by farmers who use their products due to their use of pressure tactics, attempts at corruption, misleading reports, and collusion with the American government.

The World According to Monsanto pieces together the true, unsettling story of how the clean, green image conveyed by the company’s advertising serves as a smoke screen for Monsanto’s quest for market supremacy – to the detriment of global food security, public health and environmental stability.

The impact of seeing this film is enormously powerful and motivating. Educate yourself and alert others about the health dangers of GMOs.

“A film that should be seen as widely as possible … scrupulous, thorough and damming.” – Malcolm Fraser, Montreal Mirror.

“War means blind obedience, unthinking stupidity, brutish callousness, wanton destruction, and irresponsible murder.”

Few things are more sickening than the way governments program their citizens in military training camps, then send them away to die in some war. Even though not every government forces its citizens into military duty through conscription, every single government in the world does have some military force, just waiting to unleash its fury. The mere idea of a facility where people are taught by the state how to become efficient killing machines is nauseating.

It has been made very clear to us that we do not own our own bodies. Apparently we cannot decide for ourselves if we want to smoke a joint, or charge/pay money for sex. But lo and behold! The state will use our bodies as cannon fodder without thinking twice! We are but food for a military machine which never ceases to hunger. Our government will send us to every shit-hole in this godforsaken world to shoot people who disagree with our beloved politicians. Either that, or the government is interested in the piece of dirt which the other country is occupying. One can never have too much dirt!

“But fear not!” say our mighty leaders. “The families of our fallen brave soldiers will not go unrewarded, for they will be sent a thank-you letter from the government, explaining what a heroic death our brave soldier faced, and what a tremendous resource he has been in this fight."

– Timothy Leary.
"None are more hopelessly enslaved than those who falsely believe they are free.”
– Johann Wolfgang von Goethe.

against evil. By using his own body as a shield, he managed to protect the very land he stood on from being hit by an artillery shell!” The letter, of course, is written by a brainwashed worker-bee, and not by any of those politicians who sent the soldier to Shitghanistan in the first place.

At our brave soldier’s funeral men in uniform play bugles and fire shots into the sky. And, as they fold the flag and place it on the coffin, tears of pride come to every eye. Oh, what a sight to behold. Oh, how patriotic.

Those who survive the war have been blessed with either the lack of some body part, a damaged psyche, or both. The war veterans are haunted by images of death and murder that have been burned permanently into their memories. Sure, a scar on the body might attract some female attention, but a missing arm doesn’t quite have the same effect. Who wants anything to do with crazy, one-armed Joe who throws himself on the ground every time a car door closes?

The process of becoming a government killing machine is a well-calculated textbook case of brainwashing. Humans behave differently depending on what environments and people they are exposed to. The environment of the military is one of great discipline and obedience. Should you fail to comply with orders, you are punished, or, even worse: the entire platoon is punished so that you will suffer from being ostracized by the others.

Contact with friends and family is reduced to a bare minimum in order not to expose the mind to anything but the orders shouted out by one’s superiors. At first, people will usually despise their superiors, but, since humans want positive feedback and compliments, they will eventually do their utmost to please their officers by following every command (this resembles the Stockholm syndrome, in which captives start to sympathize with their captors).

Furthermore, everyone is dressed the same way, eats and sleeps at the same time, and does every activity together, all in order to reduce their individuality as much as possible. For as long as the training takes place, submission to authority and the importance of patriotism is being drilled into the minds of the soldiers. The new reality that the conscripts are facing is so radically different than what they are used to, that they are forced to change their personalities and value systems overnight.

Weapons training is designed so that the initial resistance towards shooting other human beings is overcome. Over and over the soldiers are trained to fire at “enemies”, until it becomes almost a reflex. In war – to strengthen the conditioning of following orders – medals are given out to those who manage to murder the most people, or to be the most obedient slaves. You can even get a medal for getting shot – there sure is something to fit everyone. Although the government refuses to admit it, the military is one of the most efficient brainwashing facilities that exists, bearing much resemblance to kidnapping, hostage taking, and organized and ritualized religion.

Those who decide to start a war are never the same as those who pay for it. As far as I know, no political leader has ever participated in a war since the time horses and swords were used. It would be a sight indeed to see George W. Bush, Saddam Hussein, Adolf Hitler, or some other political nuts, running around like confused monkeys – bombs blasting around them – shouting out orders that no one could make any sense of. (“Nein, you sheissekopf, ze other way, ze other way!”)

The decision for war having been made, the politicians sit back and watch the statistics; how many of our guys died, and how many of the enemies’ guys died? This is what humans are reduced to: statistics – figures on a piece of paper. The politicians sit at their board meetings – all dressed up to look important – and discuss the fate of our lives like we are puppets they can control as they please. They have no respect whatsoever for human lives or freedom, regardless of what they say.

We, as citizens, are the ones who have to pay for the wars, in form of taxes or/and by participating ourselves. It’s completely absurd that those who do not have a say about the war are the same people who are expected to finance it and fight it. The greedy politicians don’t use their own money, even though their pockets are full. Instead, they steal it from us and then send us away to die. Thus, governments finance all of their wars with theft, and then execute their victims. Any military defense/offence undertaken by the state costs billions of dollars each year, and all of that money comes directly from us.

Those who decide on a war must also be held fully responsible for the consequences. This means that all leaders who have decided to start a war are mass murderers on a tremendous scale. They all have blood on their hands, and many of them are responsible for thousands and thousands of deaths – some even "Disobedience, in the eyes of anyone who has read history, is man's original virtue. It is through disobedience that progress has been made, through disobedience and through rebellion.” – Oscar Wilde.

When a common enemy is found, those who together, war also serves the same purpose. Like catastrophes and disasters bring people less prone to rebel or question authority. Just “we against the world,” “we against you,” “we are right everybody else is wrong” mentality, people become (the one who received the electric shocks was just an actor and only faked being shocked) as long as an authority figure – a man in a lab coat – took full responsibility for the consequences. It only took a couple of minutes to brainwash ordinary people into becoming murderers.

Some important lessons can be drawn from this: always question authority, never accept anything at face value, and always think critically. It doesn’t matter if millions and millions of people all agree on the same matter; they can be – and most likely are – wrong. Question everything, even this book. Criticize this book as much as you can, then ask yourself what you agree and disagree with, and why. Are your beliefs really your own, or are they just what is commonly accepted as truth?

Soldiers are celebrated in the media by exposing themselves in books, interviews, and on talk shows. But instead of pity, the soldiers receive a standing ovation. “This man has shot more bad guys than anyone else in this room. Give him a round of applause.” Soldiers are celebrated as war heroes, and war is looked upon with pride, not fear. Few things can cause people to feel such an emotional rush of patriotic unity as war. This was true thousands of years ago, is true today, and will be true for as long as governments exist.

The same people that condemn kidnappers also celebrate conscription since they believe in the importance of protecting “freedom.” The general acceptance of forcing human beings to become murderers is obscene. To draft unwilling people into the military is exactly the way to make people less free.
same as kidnapping, and should, according to the libertarian view, be treated as such. Those governments who force people into conscription are nothing but slave traders, plain and simple, and they should be prosecuted and thrown in jail as the criminals they are.

Every government and every God-worshipping religion is an oxymoron, and the way humans are sent to die for either their country or their God certainly takes the prize. Killing other human beings during war becomes not only legal, but also virtuous. If you were to kill another human being for a personal reason – let’s say adultery – you will go to jail. But go to another country and shoot people you don’t know, for reasons you don’t understand, and voilà, you will be awarded a medal.

This is not to say that killing people for personal matters should be legal, but why are governments and their soldiers allowed to murder other human beings without any consequences? What gives them the right?

From the gladiator games of ancient Rome to the Hollywood-produced movies of today, it is easy to see how violence always has been seen as entertainment for humans. Watching an action movie is one thing, but the reality of war is quite different. There is no background music, or happy ending where the war hero walks off in one piece into the sunset. Bombs and mines blow legs off, bullets are so large that they can make a head explode, and idiotic scientists are constantly bragging about how they improve weapons to cause the maximum amount of damage. Rockets, cluster bombs, atom bombs, AK-47’s, chemical warfare, etc., ad infinitum. The scientists and the military are so proud of their accomplishments. The day they can wipe out the entire human race with a single bomb will be a great day indeed!

There is nothing heroic or admirable about war. When the war is over, nothing has been settled and nothing has been accomplished. The only thing it can bring is death and suffering. Those who died will be mourned by their families, then turned into a statistic in the history books.

No one really remembers those who actually fought the wars, but rather the asshole who sent them there to die.

In war, both sides always believe themselves to be the ones who are right. They can all justify their own actions based on what they believe. But regardless of who is right and who is wrong, thousands and thousands of people still die. Is it really possible to justify dropping bombs on civilians by simply calling it fighting for freedom? War is the same as mass murder, and the governments are the ones responsible. No matter who is right and who is wrong, it always means death.

Nationalism and patriotism are ugly words, are they not? To love one’s country is equally as absurd as to love one’s impotency. No country on the face of this Earth is worthy of being called free. Hence, those who call themselves nationalists and patriots are all worshipping fascisms and oppression.

The height of patriotism is to die for one’s country. But what exactly are these pathetic martyrs trying to prove? That the piece of land they live on is more important than their own lives? That their nation’s leader is right, and everybody else is wrong? Even some of those who protest wars call themselves patriots. But why, I ask, do they love their country if they find it to be oppressive? What exactly is there to love if humans are treated like cattle?

A nation is simply an idea, a name, a symbol, and a history of submission called culture – all held together by a government which tries to make the abstract into something concrete. That’s it, no more, no less. To die for something as absurd as that, one must truly be a madman. There is nothing to be proud of for living in a certain country. Liberty is something that should be taken for granted, not something to thank politicians for. Freedom is a natural human right!

We are born into a certain country simply by chance. And for this reason only, we are supposed to love, worship, and even die for that country. Why should we love the rules and the rulers simply because of chance? What exactly is there to love about a country? Is not love for oneself, one’s family and friends, more important?

Nationalism and patriotism both lead to tunnel vision, racism, and hate, while causing the entire nation to be seen as one. The acts of unity can be seen everywhere, from soccer teams whose rivals are other countries, to crowds of people cheering for their newly elected dictator. And nations fuel this patriotism by building statues and monuments to celebrate the conformity and submission of their people.

The elitist attitude that governments have is no different from children fighting over who’s the rightful owner of a toy. Thus, every political leader has regressed to having the mentality of a six year old child. Or, maybe they never grew up at all.

It is very rewarding to know your true enemies. If you read and study Niccolò Machiavelli’s book, The Prince, along with the biographies of Adolf Hitler, Benito Mussolini, and the like, it is easy to see how these madmen think and reason.

When you are done, try to find parallels to your own government. The quote below is taken from one of Hitler’s closest men, Hermann Göring, during the Nuremberg trials. This asshole even admits how easy it is to manipulate people by simply creating a common enemy and a sense of patriotism. Ironically, his statement has served as one of the most useful insights into how governments really operate and function.

“Naturally the common people don’t want war; neither in Russia, nor in England, nor in America, nor in Germany. That is understood. But after all, it is the leaders of the country who determine policy, and it is always a simple matter to drag the people along, whether it is a democracy, or a fascist dictatorship, or a parliament, or a communist dictatorship. Voice or no voice, the people can always be brought to the bidding of the leaders. That is easy. All you have to do is to tell them they are being attacked, and denounce the pacifists for lack of patriotism and exposing the country to danger. It works the same in any country.”

– Hermann Göring.

War will not exist if there is no state, no government, and no political rulers. And this fact alone should make anyone at least consider the abolition of their government. When there is no state, there won’t be any reason to invade other countries, since no one benefits from war except those in power. Besides, no one would be in the position to conscript people, declare war, or decide which country is good and which is hostile.

No tax money would be stolen from us and used to finance the murdering. And those who cry about not having anyone to protect us from other countries are more than ready to buy their own equipment and play guerrilla warfare in the woods. That way, military defense becomes completely voluntary and unregulated by any government, which means that there won’t be any more nuclear bombs or chemical warfare. The libertarian axiom of not initiating violence will then be upheld, and people can finally be freed from the enslavement of war.

This monumental 7 volume tractate leaves no stone of the World History unturned. After 30 years of research prominent Russian mathematician Academician Doctor Professor Anatoly Fomenko and team deliver abundant proof that:

- All methods of dating of ancient sources and artefacts are erroneous;
- Ancient Rome, Greece and Egypt can be reliably dated to X-XIII century A.D.;
- Jesus Christ may have been born in 1153 and crucified in 1186 A.D. in Rome;
- The Apocalypse was written on the Isle of Patmos after the 1st October 1486 A.D.;
- The Old Testament was compiled after The New Testament as a rendition of Middle Ages...

Live at Brixton Academy
By David Icke. 2008, UFO TV. 3 DVD set.

*David Icke has written 16 books and traveled to over 40 countries since 1990. His research exposes the Big Brother fascist dictatorship predicted by George Orwell in his book, 1984, and charts the history of the ‘Illuminati’ with their connections to unseen forces in other dimensions. Icke refers to this as the ‘Reptilian Agenda’.*

This program reveals how a Hidden Hand is behind world-changing events like the attacks of 9/11 and the manufactured wars in the Middle East, as part of a mass mind manipulation technique he has dubbed problem-reaction-solution.

✔ Who controls the geopolitical forces that govern the world today?
✔ How is covert control over a society achieved and concealed?
✔ What is the motivation and purpose behind global world domination?
✔ How much death and destruction can we expect to see in the future?
✔ How can we break free from the false controls of a fascist dictatorship?

David Icke provides stunning answers to these questions and more, including the details about his first psychedelic encounter with ayahuasca, the extraordinary visionary brew which is used for medicinal purposes by the shamans of the Amazon.

A devastating expose of the myths and lies in the official conspiracy theory about 9/11

This shocking film brings together an account of the 9/11 tragedy that is far more logical than the one we’ve been asked to believe.

Gathering stories from the mainstream press, reports from other countries, the work of other researchers, and the contradictory words of US government officials, David Ray Griffin presents a case that leaves very little doubt that the attacks of 9/11 need to be further investigated.

Disturbing facts emerge that put into serious question the official story and reveal an enormous deception. Packed with bonus features, expert analysis, in-depth commentary and unforgettable conclusions about this tragic event in American history.

WMD: Weapons of Mass Deception

WMD: Weapons of Mass Deception investigates collusion between the military, giant media companies and the government.

It goes inside the ‘media war’, and explains why Senator Robert Byrd was right in saying ‘The media fell for it, hook, line and sinker’. Schechter adds an outsider’s perspective to an insider’s experience in turning the cameras on the role the news networks played in distorting news and turning the military campaign into ‘mili-tainment’.

Schechter’s film includes never-before-seen footage from Iraq, insider information about Pentagon information warfare strategy and a report about torture at Baghdad’s notorious Abu Ghraib prison that predates the US network stories by eight months. The film investigates the embed program, ‘infil-trates’ Fox News and takes a global approach to analyzing coverage.

A year in the making, WMD represents guerrilla filmmaking without any backing from major media conglomerates.

As timely as today’s headlines, the film demonstrates how millions of people were suckered into supporting an unwinnable war. WMD encapsulates why the big government/big media alliance succeeded and why it is so dangerous to a functioning democracy.

The film was critically savaged as unpatriotic when it was first offered but is now required viewing for journalists, historians and sociologists.

Illuminati Reveal Crazy Apocalyptic Agenda

By Henry Makow Ph.D.

The world may soon resemble Jonestown if a sick illuminati plan to “harvest” souls in 2012 comes to pass. For a week in October, a person claiming to be a “generational member of a ruling Bloodline family” answered questions on AboveTopSecret forum. Using the moniker “Hidden Hand,” he gave a convincing explanation of the demented Cabalist beliefs motivating the Illuminati. He described how they find this world consciousness (“third density”) to be “very constricting and uncomfortable” and want to be united again with Lucifer (“the One,” the “Creator.”) This will require them to stage an apocalyptic human sacrifice (“Harvest of Souls”) in 2012...

“Thrust in your sickle and reap, for the time has come for you to reap, for the harvest of the earth is ripe.”

– Revelations 14:15

The background according to “Hidden Hand” is this. Yahweh had been running a “benign dictatorship” in the Garden of Eden. He made a pact with the Luciferians (Illuminati) to introduce evil into the world, so man will have Free Will to choose between right and wrong, and thus evolve spiritually. Yahweh didn’t expect man would choose evil. As result, the Illuminati rule the world but now find it a tedious place. They intend to create the intense evil (selfishness, “negative polarity”) required for them to rendezvous with their spaceship, as it were. Remember, this is an insane satanic cult which just happens to control the planet. At the “Harvest” evolved souls will enter the “Fourth Density” with the Illuminati and enjoy a “Golden Age,” while everyone else’s soul will be transported to a “replica earth” where they will continue to “work on themselves.” The scenario is reminiscent of the “Left Behind” series, where Christians suddenly disappear into heaven, and non-believers are left behind to face the Tribulation. I don’t think this is a coincidence.

MANDATORY: NIKE RUNNING SHOES

In an excerpt from over 60 pages, “Hidden Hand” says:

“Yes, the noonday Winter Solstice Sun of December 21, 2012 is the time when the Lord of the Harvest shall return. You might know him as Nibiru. Read up on the Mayan Prophesies and Calendrical events for more detail upon how the actual Galactic and Universal Cycles work.”

“There will be dramatic changes to your climate and weather conditions over the next few years, as the time of the Great Harvest approaches. You will see wind speeds surpassing 300 miles per hour at times. There will be raging tsunamis and widespread devastation; and a solar emission in late 2009 early 2010 that will cause major melting of the ice caps, and subsequent drastic rise in sea levels, leaving many (international) metropolitan areas underwater... San Francisco and Damascus, will be uninhabitable by the end of 2010, possibly even sooner. Again, it depends upon certain ‘forces’ at play, and which time lines are activated. Humanity, though utterly unconscious of the fact, has a significant part to play in this. You (as a collective consciousness of the planet) are choosing the Negative Polarization by default, by the quality of your thoughts and actions. Thought is creative energy, focused. You get exactly what you put out.”

Decide for yourself whether this information is valid. It fits into the puzzle picture I have assembled about a long-term Cabalist plan to deliberately fulfill prophesy and initiate an apocalypse. For example, “Historian Demands Action on Powerful Doomsday Cults”3, “What Every Jew and Non-Jew Should Know”4, “Independent Historian Unveils Cabala Conspiracy”5, and “Illuminati Rebel Issues Dire Warning”6.
“Hidden Hand” explains:

“The End of this [26,000 year] Cycle, heralds literally, a New World Age, and a New Creation. A new Heaven, and a new Earth, and is the time of the Great Harvest. Smaller Cycles yield a Harvest, and then life continues on the planet as normal. Great Cycles yield a Great Harvest, and the end of current life on the 3rd Density. See it as a kind of ‘Cosmic jet wash’ and deep clean, while the planet takes a rest and re-generates herself… When this Life-Cycle Ends, ‘All things will pass away, and All things shall be made new.’

“So, December 21, 2012 A.D., is not the day where all of a sudden the lights go out, and everything will suddenly change, rather, we are now in the process of this transition, from one World Age to the next. The changes are underway and will continue steadily accelerating as we head towards the culminating date. The 26,000 year cycle is composed of five lesser cycles, each of which are 5,125 years in duration. Each of these five cycles is considered its own World Age or Creation Cycle. Our present great cycle, 3113 B.C. – 2012 A.D., is called the Age of the Fifth Sun.

“If we do not have a Negative Harvest, we are bound with you for another cycle… We need a Negative Harvest, so that we can create our 4th Density Earth, and clear our Karmic Record…”

EVIL IS “FOR YOUR OWN GOOD”
(i.e. EVIL IS GOOD)

“Hidden Hand” says the Illuminati create “War, Hatred, Greed, Control, Enslavement, Genocide, Torture, Moral Degradation, Prostitution, Drugs, all these things and more,” for our own good.

“In all these Negative things, we are providing you with tools. But you do not see it. It is not what we do, but how you react to it, that is important. We give you the tools. You have the Free Will choice how you will use them. You have to take responsibility. There is only One of Us here. Understand that, and you will understand the Game.

“Understand, that we have to be Negative. That’s what we were sent here to be. It is our contract, and it has always been to help you, by providing the “Catalyst” I spoke of earlier. Being Negative is very hard for us, not on a physical level, (the characters we play enjoy our roles, as we’re programmed that way), but on a Spiritual level, it is hard. We surpassed the lowly negative vibrations eons ago. We are Light, and we are Love. It is a very hard thing for us to do Spiritually, to create all this Negativity, but we do it because we love you, and it is for your highest good, ultimately. You could say, that it is our Sacrifice that we have made, in order to be of Service to the One Infinite Creator, and to you, our Brothers and Sisters in the One.”

Just so there is no doubt whom the Illuminati worship:

“Our Creator, is the one you refer to as ‘Lucifer’, ‘The Light Bearer’ and ‘Bright and Morning Star.’ Our Creator is not ‘The Devil’ as he has been spuriously portrayed in your bible. Lucifer is what you would call a ‘Group Soul’ or ‘Social Memory Complex,’ which has evolved to the level of the Sixth Density, which in effect, means that he (or more accurately ‘we’) has evolved to a level sufficient that he (we) has attained a status equal or arguably ‘greater’ than that of Yahweh (we have evolved higher than him). In appearance, were you to gaze upon Lucifer’s fullest expression of our Being, the appearance would be that of a Sun or a ‘Bright Star.’ Or, when stepping down into a Third Density vibration, we would appear as what you may term an ‘Angel’ or ‘Light Being’

“Hidden Hand” says the media plays a major role in creating the negative meme and making us unwitting collaborators.

“Why do you think the Media is so important to us? You have (as a society), in your hypnotized comatose state, given your Free Will consent to the state your planet is in today. You saturate your minds with the unhealthy dishes served up for you on your televisions that you are addicted to, violence, pornography, greed, hatred, selfishness, incessant ‘bad news,’ fear and ‘terror.’ When was the last time you stopped, to think of something beautiful and pure? The planet is the way it is, because of your collective thoughts about it. You are complicit in your inaction, every time you ‘look the other way’ when you see an injustice. Your ‘thought’ at the subconscious level of creation to the Creator, is your allowance of these things to occur. In so doing, you are serving our purpose.”

CABALA

The Illuminati dogma is pure Cabalism (Occultism) which sees chaos and destruction as a prerequisite to change. The Creator as “sparks” trapped in our bodies which requires that the world be smashed in order to release Him. “Hidden Hand” tells forum members:

“You are indeed what you call ‘Divine Souls’; you are sparks or seeds of The One Infinite Creator. You are Life Itself (Light), remembering and learning who you really are (we came here to help you to do this) and yes, currently, you are trapped (or more accurately ‘Quarantined’) within the ‘matter’ of this planet you call Earth.

“You can thank your Creator Yahweh for that. You are the ‘offspring’ or individuations of his Group Soul (or Social Memory Complex). Macrococsmically speaking, you are Yahweh. The ‘Karmic’ effect of his imprisoning us in his Astral Planes, also has an impact upon you. I cannot be more specific on this, without impinging on the Law of Confusion. You must work it out for yourselves.”

For an evil does, “Hidden Hand” spent most of his time coaching forum members on avoiding the Illuminati traps and listening to their “inner voice” so they will be released from the wheel of reincarnation during the “Great Harvest.”

“You will never be ‘free’, for as long as you are incarnating on this planet. The very nature of your being here is indication of that. There is a reason why you are here, and ‘here’ is very likely not really where you think ‘here’ is. How do you become free? By working out where you are, and coming to an understanding of why you are here. You are fast running out of time to do so before the coming Harvest. Those that don’t make it will have to repeat the cycle.”

By the end of the week, most of the forum members are eating out of the guru’s hidden hand. The exception is, ironically, a “lower level mason” who accuses him of rehashing New Age theology. The guru acknowledges that the “Ra material” and “the Law of One” are 85-90% accurate. He says the “Ra material” is “very similar to the knowledge my Family has, and have passed down for many many generations.”

A Christian reader correctly sees “an elaborate ruse to ‘make the devil look good.’ I don’t think there would be many conservative Christians that would be able see the difference between the biblical Lucifer and the Lucifer you purport to be a part of.”

But she asks for his advice in overcoming this obstacle.

NEW INFORMATION ABOUT THE ILLUMINATI

“Hidden Hand” claims to belong to one of 13 Bloodlines that have ruled the world from the dawn of time. They are “Houses” performing functions like organs in a body, which is the “Family” united in the common cause. They all have an area of specialty: military, government, spiritual, scholarship, leadership, and sciences. They hold key positions in all of these main areas. With the addition of a complicit Media machine and ownership of financial establishments, all bases are covered.

Writing in October, he said a certain faction wanted to call off the US election. “If nothing happens to Obama, he will win. Remember, behind the scenes, there is only one party. Our Party, ‘Democracy’ is an illusion which is created to uphold your slavery. Whichever side ‘wins’ – the Family wins. There are many possibilities and alternative ‘scripts.’ All of them lead toward the ultimate implementation of the overall blueprint of our Creator” [i.e. Lucifer.]

He says he is only a “regional” leader (as opposed to national or international) but his information is that, barring “unforeseen disruptions,” there will be “a new currency by the end of 2008 – early 2009, along with a new Union of nations. January has been spoken of in some circles, as the latest, though there are plans underway which could even bring this to fruition much earlier than initially hoped for. It depends upon the results of other upcoming events as to how this will play out.”

Asked if “911” was the creation of a “star gate,” he replied, “No, it was a ritual human sacrifice. That, and the obvious catalyst for the so-called ‘War on Terror’.”

He confirms that “Svali” was “a part of the Family, at the lower levels, from the German lines, I believe. As I understand, she did reveal a lot of truth about the lower levels, but she was only regional level in the Earth lines, so not that high. She certainly would not have had anything like the ‘bigger picture’.”

He says the Rothschilds, etc., belong to “Earth-based” bloodlines. “The Earth lines are not aware of the entire picture. They themselves are not of our Lucifer Group Soul, and as far as they are aware, they are out to ‘rule the world,’ to control and enslave, and create as much suffering and negativity as is humanly possible. That’s what they ‘get out of the deal.’ World domination. You’d have to say with that in mind, they’re doing a great job. But one of the things they don’t know or understand, is that our (Venusian power lines) agenda, is ultimately for the highest good of all concerned, in providing you with the catalyst. If they were aware of this Truth, there is a slight risk that they would not have done their jobs properly, and they would miss out on joining us in our 95% negative Harvest. They are aware of the Harvest, and the need for them to attain the 95%, to get out of 3rd Density, and that is all the motivation they need to help us achieve our ultimate aims.”
ILLUMINATI STRUCTURE

“Starting at the bottom level, you have what we call ‘local cell groups’ or ‘family clusters.’ There will be anything from, say, five to thirty or so of these, depending upon the size of the town or city in question. Each local area has its own council, comprised of local leaders representing the six disciplines of learning. There is also either a High Priest or High Priestess of the Order, who serves their local community.

“Above this, you have the regional council, with the leader of each local council representing their specific areas. Then the national council, in the same vein, with the leaders of the regional councils sitting to represent their regions.

“Then you have the Supreme World Council above them all, with the national leaders representing their countries. Above this is another group I cannot mention, who liaise with the ‘Hidden Hands.’

“Then above this, there are many other levels of leadership, purely from the power lines (the ones that are not of this planet). The Supreme World Council only know as much as is ‘handed’ down to them from us.

“In our power lines, we have a similar structure, with local and regional groups, etc., though most of us are living in entirely ‘different’ types of communities than you would understand. All I shall say is that we are not ‘surface dwellers.’

CONCLUSION: OUR SURVIVAL IS AT STAKE

In his own terms, “Hidden Hand” is credible, but I regard him as insane, pretending to purity and talking about “service to others” while wreaking incalculable misery and mayhem on humanity. He offers invaluable insight into the hypocritical Illuminati mindset, always dressing their evil in pretensions of public service. For example, Communism is Satanism posing as working class rebellion.

To inflict so much suffering and depravity under the pretext of “testing” mankind and furthering evolution is preposterous. Aren’t there enough tests in life without the Illuminati’s hidden hand on the scale? If instead the Illuminati had exercised a positive influence, spiritual evolution would have taken place at an amazing pace. Retarding human evolution, not advancing it, is their real agenda. They want us to be their cattle.

I believe the harbor is best reached by setting your course and avoiding the rocks. In contrast, the Illuminati steer the vessel onto the rocks, as many times as it takes to sink it. This sick Cabalist dogma is behind the blank gaze of our politicians and newscasters.

It’s time to admit that humanity is under constant stealth attack by a sadistic and dangerous Satanic cult. Obviously, it is well organized and funded and has subverted every institution.

It’s time we set aside occultism and used common sense. It’s time we adopted simple morality, as in “Do unto others as you would have them do unto you.”

Unless we wrest control of this planet from the Illuminati, we are doomed, like Rev. Jones’ followers at Jonestown. And we will deserve our fate.

“Hidden Hand” is right: “You are complicit in your inaction, every time you ‘look the other way’ when you see an injustice.” Let’s be “service oriented” and reject the Illuminati – their phony terror, fascist government and Satanic religion. Let’s throw their kool-aid in their face.

Two years ago (January 2007), Illuminati defector Leo Zagami issued this warning:

“The cosmic alignment on the 21st of December 2012 gives you 6 years to prepare… So it’s about time you all wake up and fight for your right to stay free under one God before they take complete control and start persecuting the true believers in the one God… Get your swords and get ready to fight to defend your faith or perish… This is a war against Satan, so please wake up in the Western countries or you might wake up in a nightmare one morning in December 2012.

“From 2010 you will start feeling the big changes in the air more and more, but in 2012 you will have the clear evidence of the end of this civilization in front of your eyes… the total NAZIFICATION of the western countries by 2010 before the economic situation starts to badly crack for everyone. Then social tension will hit a peak never seen before, and internal conflicts could eventually become in 2012: CIVIL WAR!”

If, as mystical tradition tells us, the Earth is a living system, how might she be doing that most fundamental process of life known as breathing? Might evidence for the Earth’s breathing not be witnessed as oscillations in the flow of subtle energies through and between the Earth and the Cosmos?

This was the thinking of Russian astrophysicist Vladislav Lugovenko. And in the course of a lifetime of research, he has devised experiments that detect and measure just such an oscillation in this flow. Moreover, his experiments have been replicated.

During the past decade, Lugovenko’s experimental data has revealed not only that the Earth breathes – with striking similarities to the breathing patterns of human beings – but that her breathing is dynamically affected not only by events in the Cosmos but also by human thought.

What is this “breathing” of the Earth?

First of all, Lugovenko has found, there is a daily rhythm. The breathing is quiet at night. Then, as the Earth spins toward the sunrise, the particular pattern and amplitude of that day moves like a wave around the earth, varying gradually according to other influences like sun spots, meteorological disturbances, earthquakes, and human activity.

There are seasonal fluctuations. For example, the Earth’s breathing is quieter in the winter. And there appear to be longer breathing cycles – periods of years – that seem to be affected by celestial bodies such as comets.

The following chart shows the fluctuation in the Earth’s breathing during the period between 1997 and 2002.
Lugovenko defines the breathing of the Earth as “the temporary variations of a cosmo-terrestrial field,” and refers to both “global” and “local” breathing.

“Global” breathing consists of all possible methods of receiving, processing, and obtaining energy from external Space through a complex system of grids and chakras of different calibers. “Local” breathing is a measurable change of width of zones of regular Hartmann or Curry grids.

The concept of a universal Space energy that people can use to realize supersensory phenomena has deep roots in cultures of all peoples. Sacred Indian and Buddhist texts describe this same ancient Space energy and designate it with the mystical syllable “ohm.” This syllable causes an oscillation in the brain that enables various chakras to accept Space energy.

We call the interaction of this energy with the Earth a “cosmo-terrestrial field,” which is defined as the substance by which the biopower interaction between Space and Earth takes place. The cosmo-terrestrial field is a phenomenon on the boundary between the thin (unmanifest) world and the material (manifest) world.

The cosmo-terrestrial field has many interesting properties, including whirlwind movement, resonance, and virtually instantaneous distribution over vast distances (at least within the limits of the Solar System).

This energy can be perceived by highly sensitive people and by specially created equipment. Each contributor gives his own determination of the qualities of the field that he researches.

HOW IS IT MEASURED?

Because such measurement is a new endeavor for Western science, and because the definitions and units of measure are still being worked out, researchers have each been creating their own means to measure this energy.

Lugovenko uses two primary means. The first is through a pair of sensors – one copper (placed over a positive vortex) and one nephrite stone (placed over a negative, or dark, vortex). Each of these sensors is suspended by wire over a radial graph, and they both move in opposite directions – that is, one goes clockwise and the other goes counterclockwise.

At intervals determined by how quickly the direction and amplitude are changing, Lugovenko observes and records the time and the position of the sensors in his lab book.

Lugovenko’s second means of measurement is the use of dowsing rods and a pendulum, the accuracy of which he has verified through years of comparing his dowsing results with readouts from electronic instrumentation. He uses copper dowsing rods to locate the positive and negative energy vortexes.

When I visited Lugovenko’s home outside Moscow, he demonstrated his technique to me. First, he set his intention, then started walking across the room holding the dowsing rods so they pointed in front of him.

About five feet from where he had his instrumentation set up, the rods abruptly separated so they pointed out to each side.

Then he handed the rods to me, and I was able to obtain the same results.

Lugovenko also links with other observers around the world, enabling him to compare and validate his results globally.

I asked him why, as a senior scientist at a prestigious research institute, he was conducting these experiments at his home. With a wry smile, he answered (through a translator), “We used to have the most advanced instrumentation, but with Perestroika, budgets were reduced, and this line of research was cut. So I continue it at home, because it is important.”

VARIATIONS IN THE EARTH’S BREATHING

After charting the general characteristics of the breathing of the Earth, Lugovenko started examining the variations and anomalies. The indented text below is excerpted from two of his translated articles:

1. Solar activity:

The maximal activity of breathing of the Earth occurs when there is a minimum of solar activity.

2. The Hale-Bopp comet:

Just the first inhalation of the Earth after its night’s sleep is very interesting. It sets the tone of intensity for the whole day, and essentially depends on how close the current period is to the longest day of the year (June 22 in the Northern Hemisphere). The nearer the date is to June 22, the more powerful is the first morning’s inhalation of the planet. Since 1992, this effect has become stronger each year – until 1997.

Before the appearance of the Hale-Bopp comet, the usual period of breathing of the Earth for average latitudes was 30 to 40 minutes. By the end of March 1997, it had decreased to about one minute! The value was so slight that it became difficult to measure. For almost a whole year, the Earth breathed very frequently.

People felt this. In the most intense days (at the close of March and beginning of April, when the comet Hale-Bopp was especially close to the Earth and to the Sun) there were many calls for first aid, and many complained of poor health.

3. Religious holidays and prayer:

Dr. Prabakar Poddar, director of the Institute of Application Geophysics in India, reports repeatedly that the maximum positive readings of the cosmo-terrestrial field near Madras occur on religious holidays.

Note: Lugovenko found startling shifts in the cosmo-terrestrial field as a result of the World Peace Meditation in Baghdad in October 2002 (see the sidebar just below).

WHAT ARE THE IMPLICATIONS?

Lugovenko offers clear scientific documentation that the Earth “breathes,” and that her breathing is reactive to stimulation – this being one of the definitions of what constitutes life.

Even more significantly, he has shown that the breathing of the Earth is responsive to human intention; that humanity, through our thoughts and prayers, radically impacts the Earth.

Investigation at the World Summit on Peace and Time, June 22-27, 1999

At the World Summit on Peace and Time (WSPT) in Costa Rica in 1999, one of the researchers made a number of experiments and investigations of the biofields and cosmo-terrestrial field in Costa Rica.

From June 22 to 28, 1999, in San Jose, we recorded the temporal variations of the cosmo-terrestrial field by means of torsion-type sensors. We recorded the angle of torsion of each sensor. One of them, made of the stone nephrite, was put in a Hartmann’s dark zone cross-section. The second, a copper sensor, was put in light zone cross-sections.

During the first three days of the Summit, June 22 to 24, temporal variations of the cosmo-terrestrial field were normal and the coefficient K was 1-2. But after June 24, the situation changed considerably. Ratio K at 6:25 a.m. exceeded the norm by more than 100 percent (from 10 to 24). This testifies to the same kind of considerable increase of Cosmos/Earth bioenergy contact that is usually distinctly displayed during religious holidays.

We believe that Dr. Ashok, Director of Global Dialogue Institute, was correct in saying, “The work of WSPT Commissions gradually comes to the point that the Cosmos/Earth dialogue … becomes deeper and deeper.”

Interestingly, the information about this was withdrawn after two years.

Investigation on the World Peace Meditation on Baghdad, October 2002

In the beginning of October 2002, we learned that a world peace meditation would be executed at 21:00 Moscow time on October 12: a vigil for true and permanent peace all over the world. This meditation was initiated by James Twyman in connection with events in Iraq.

We hypothesized that the breathing of the Earth would vary in some way under the influence of this meditation of so many thousands of people. Expecting that there would be a high-powered flow of worldwide vibrations, we measured the variations of the breathing of the Earth. And this flow really did take place!

The breathing of the Earth was measured near Moscow, using special torsion-type sensors at two different points in one room. Simultaneously, the flow of breathing of the Earth over Baghdad was measured by the experimenter using a pendulum over a map of Iraq.

At 20:45 Moscow time, the copper sensor began smoothly rotating back and forth with an amplitude of 7 to 8 degrees. The sensor continued continuously rocking, until 22:30, when the experimenter stopped recording for the night.

The following text (not necessarily the subheadings) is taken from a paper published by V.N. Lugovenko, M.I. Orlyuk, and N.A. Yudina (see footnote 2). Through demonstrating how human activity affects the Earth’s breathing, the examples they describe give us yet another evidence of the positive effect of global meditation and prayer.
Prior to 21:00, the pendulum over Baghdad indicated negative energy over the city. At 21:00, it indicated zero [it was still]. Then, 15 minutes later, the energy abruptly changed to a large positive indication. It was still showing the positive indication when it was measured the following morning at 8 a.m.

A Similar Meditation on February 9, 2003

A similar collective meditation with more participants was made on February 9, 2003, at 20:00 Moscow time. Approximately the same effect was observed once again. The copper sensor showed an amplitude of 10 degrees within one hour after the beginning of the meditation, but then measurements were stopped (N.A. Yudina carried out observations in Troitsk of Moscow Region.).

Dr. M.I. Orlyuk made observations in Kiev, Ukraine, at the same time, with the help of a stone sensor. With that sensor, he observed rotations of 80 degrees at 20:50.

Another researcher, scientist Richard Benishal, was taking readings at the same time on a Biometer, a device that measures the vitality or life-force of a person or place in angstrom units. Angstroms are units of light that all living beings and physical places emit. If there is dis-ease or low energy, the Biometer registers a low reading, with the opposite for high energy. Benishal said that a neutral reading would normally be around 6500 angstroms, but that he has seen readings as high as 7000 after powerful meditations have taken place in an area. However, the reading for the area of the vigil’s focus was between 9000 and 9500. Richard said he had never seen such a high reading before.

These examples show that collective meditations cause very strong changes of biopower in the ambient space. These changes are felt by all people who have increased sensitivity. The closer the people are to the source of such variations, the more strongly those variations are felt. If all meditating people direct their thoughts into one place, that is where it is felt the most.

Our experience measuring the influence of collective meditations on torsional sensors shows that, with large numbers of people simultaneously meditating, strong vibrations arise in the cosmo-terrestrial field, which noticeably influence the breathing of the Earth. With these sensors, the fluctuations also can be registered.

Some Conclusions

These remarkable experiments demonstrate that a great number of meditating people gives rise to such a high-power vortex in the cosmo-terrestrial field that it is registered quite reliably with the help of special instrumentation. Thus the effects of large group meditations can be quantitatively recorded with high objectivity.

This fact will encourage not only spiritual people to join such meditations, but also anyone else who sincerely wants peace and happiness on Earth.

NOTES:

1 Curry and Hartmann grids are electromagnetic grids on the Earth. The Hartmann grid is approximately 8 inches by 7 feet, and runs north-to-south and east-to-west. Curry grids run diagonally to Hartmann grids, with about three meters between the lines. Where the two grids intersect, there is evidence of very strong negative disturbance. Both grids can be distorted by geological fault lines, underground water, and mining.

Amazing as it might seem, when used correctly, the immune system can use this killer to only attack those germs, bacteria, viruses, molds, and other microorganisms that are harmful to the body. It does not affect friendly bacteria, including the intestinal flora, nor healthy cells.

MMS is the greatest solution to mankind’s diseases and ills now known, and it is not a drug. If you will go over the data here, and read my book, and read the success stories provided, I believe you will be convinced enough to try it. That is all I ask.

Up to this time, I have not yet had a doctor read my book and read the success stories and then say that he didn’t believe it. The reason for this is not the success stories as anyone can write up a bunch of success stories, but the book tells of chemistry. Chemistry doesn’t lie. Science is science and doctors have enough understanding of science and chemistry that they know there is no point in arguing that chemistry doesn’t work.

MMS is the purest of all things that you might take. Drugs and even nutrients have dozens of different combinations of chemicals and different elements. That’s generally the reason for side effects. There are just any number of things that can happen from a drug, and even from a nutrient.

Look at any drug formula. Some times the formula is a foot long. But not so MMS. It is only two simple items once it is dissolved in water. It consists of the type of harmless chlorine that is in table salt, and oxygen. There is some sodium, before it is dissolved in the water, but that becomes harmless it is so small.

There is nothing else, and this combination results in the most powerful killer of pathogens known to man. It has been used in stock yards to kill pathogens on meat and on slaughtered chickens; it has been used to sterilize hospital floors and benches and to kill pathogens in water works without killing friendly bacteria for over 70 years. Now this same formula is used in the body, and the same situation results. No damage is done to the body, but the pathogens are destroyed.

In its powerful form MMS is chlorine dioxide that reverts back to harmless chloride and neutralized oxygen. It leaves nothing behind to build up.

Take your time. Learn what you can. Read my book and you will know that a new age has come to mankind. I didn’t bring it. I was lucky enough to discover what many men were already doing, they were using MMS under different names. What I was lucky enough to discover was a way to bring the information to the general public instead of it lying dormant in hospitals and clinics not being used.

Well, I sort of invented it in that I discovered it cured malaria while I was in the jungle, but I soon found that others have been using it sparingly on certain diseases for as long as 20 years or more. The fact is, it treats almost all diseases, including the so called incurable diseases. I’m just glad I was able to bring it to the public. So now find out for yourself.

When you purchase the book (download for $12.95 or hard copy for $24.95) keep in mind that the money beyond expenses will go to overcome malaria in a country of Africa or to help distribute books in the Americas.
CONTINUING STORY OF THE MMS

In Mina I continued sending emails to everyone I could think of. I sent emails to the president of the U.S., to Bill Gates, to various people who did humanitarian things, to all of the TV shows that did humanitarian things, such as Oprah. I continued to send out free bottles of MMS as well as I sold the 4 ounce bottles with 325 doses for $20 each or for $5 to anyone living in town. Later when I doubled the strength, I sold the 4 ounce bottles with 450 doses for the same price.

As time passed, people talked to me about various problems I continued to find new uses for the MMS. All of my life I have had trouble with my teeth. Most of my teeth were missing and I wore dentures. My gums were quite soft and my teeth were somewhat loose in the gums. They often got sore and at that particular time they started to hurt and I thought I would have to have one or two pulled. Then I finally decided that I should brush my teeth with the MMS. I used 6 drops of MMS and 1/2 teaspoon of vinegar swirled together in a glass and then I waited the 3 minutes and added 1/3 glass of water and used that to brush my teeth. Again I was amazed. All of the infection and soreness disappeared in hours. Within a week my gums had hardened up. When I finally did go to have a tooth pulled, it took the dentist a full hour to pull the tooth. My gums were so tough and the tooth was so well imbedded into my jaw bone he simply couldn’t just grab it with his pliers and pull. It wouldn’t come out. I’m not sure I should have had it pulled. It looked perfectly healthy when it was finally out. The dentist was more surprised than I was.

Since that time there have been a number of other people who began to use the MMS for oral hygiene. All that have used it have had the same results, a much healthier mouth. There have been a number of people who were able to fix their abscessed teeth merely by brushing with MMS.

I am sure Arnold was working hard to get the money for our next trip to Africa. My contention was always that if he would provide me with enough money for a round trip airplane ticket and some living expenses then I would travel anywhere. I would talk to the various government agencies and hospitals until I found some place to do clinical trials. Arnold’s contention was that we could not go anywhere in Africa until we had an invitation. According to Arnold there was always plenty of money but his insistence that we needed an invitation kept us immobile for years. Peter Mwangi secured an invitation from one hospital in Kenya to go do clinical trials in Kenya. Remember, Peter was my driver in Kenya and Uganda who I trained in dispensing the MMS. We could have done the clinical trials of 100 malaria patients with before and after blood tests for less than $20,000 including my travel expenses. The money was available, but Arnold would not allow me to go to Kenya. Instead, he wanted to help Floyd Hammer and his wife who had various projects going on in Tanzania but who could not get clinical trials for months. It finally proved out that he never did get clinical trials. A clinical trial was what we wanted at the time. We could have had it through Peter, but we were going to do it Arnold’s way regardless of the results.

Time after time for over a year, Floyd Hammer was provided money from our Malaria Solution Foundation and he never gave us any information back as to its use. We helped them buy a pickup truck and shipped a large container of food supplies to Tanzania. When Floyd wrote a report to his people in the U.S. he never acknowledged that we helped at all. He talked about treating malaria patients, but he never acknowledged that he was using the MMS to treat the patients. Finally Arnold just said that he wasn’t going to send them any more money. But if I could have had that same money, I would have completed the clinical trials in Kenya and would have had the proof that everyone was asking for. I continued to very discreetly say that giving Floyd money was not helping but it took over a year before Arnold would listen.

The other thing that I tried to get Arnold to do was simply hire Peter Mwangi, my driver who was proficient with the dispensation to continue treating and passing out the MMS. He was traveling to hospitals which were willing to try the MMS. He could have been traveling to churches, orphanages, hospitals, and clinics. They trusted him and many were willing to use the solution. In the same amount of time that we fooled around with Floyd, Peter would have helped thousands of people and dozens of places would have used the MMS. Unfortunately, nothing I suggested was considered. Hiring Peter, a local instead of someone from the U.S., would have been ridiculously cheap. We would not have had to pay for his airplane ticket; he would have worked for less than $100 a month. We would have had to pay for gasoline, some operating expenses, and have shipped him plenty of MMS. His expenses were 1/10 that of a foreigner or missionary. He would have gotten done exactly what we wanted to do. Arnold didn’t trust Peter but he never met him. I worked with him every day for an entire month. We were good friends by the time I left. On the other hand, Floyd took our money, which was thousands and didn’t even say thanks. The money we paid Floyd got absolutely nothing done so far as we could tell.
Arnold kept making mistake after mistake while all the time saying that everything had to be done his way. He hired the kid who finally made such trouble for us that he prevented us from getting a legal nonprofit Malaria Solution Foundation. Arnold hired several people to create our Web Site. After they had worked almost a year on it, it was still a very poor site. Then he hired another man to do our site, paid him up front and never got a thing for his money. All the while our site never got done. It has been six years since Arnold said he was going to get a web site set up. As I write these lines we still don’t have one. He sent thousands of dollars to Floyd Hammer and we never received any acknowledgment or data concerning the malaria people helped with our MMS. With the money Arnold continued to lose, I could have had a number of clinical trials completed in Kenya with the proof that we needed to show others. Even though he flunked again, he continued to adamantly insist that everything must be done his way. He continued to claim that the people who were going to sponsor us would only do so if he was in total control. Arnold actually prevented the MMS from being used distributed while all the time proclaiming to be getting it done. Arnold continued to tell me that although I was on the board of the Malaria Solution Foundation it was going to be operated like a corporation. Basically, he said that he was the president and things were going to happen the way he specified. Arnold and John continued to say that I had no say in the way things were being run. There was no arguing with either one of them. If there was any discussion about the events of the past weeks or past year, they would both get together and tell me my memory was wrong. When there was any discussion and I tried to say something they would just start shouting. I could not get any ideas across. Everything went quietly so long as I kept my mouth shut. I could have left, and I should have, but there was always the promise that they would have the money to get to Africa to prove out the MMS so that the world would accept it. I kept my mouth shut because that promise always hung there in front of me. To be completely fair, when I finally returned from Africa the last time, Arnold called me with several questions concerning how to do things. He stated he wanted my input, but as things continued he would do things as he wanted regardless of my input. Up to this point, Arnold had been the only game in town for me. Then I realized I could write this book.

I made a contract with the World Health Organization (WHO)

Before my trip to Kenya and Uganda I had written quite a few letters to the World Health Organization which, evidently, didn’t want to appear like they were not interested. They returned one of my letters saying that they had a program in which they tested various drugs that might have some effect on malaria. They were interested in the MMS, they wrote. After some discussion they sent me a contract to sign. We negotiated a bit, changed some points, and I finally signed their contract. I sent them a bottle of the MMS. About a year and a half later, after I returned from Africa, I finally got a letter from them stating that they were testing my solution in a separate lab. They had contracted with a doctor to do the testing for them. I was enthused to learn that the doctor was actually of doing the testing. But he tested it on mice and reported it simply didn’t work. I was amazed, but he reported that it wouldn’t cure mice or even improve their condition. There was nothing more I could say as I wasn’t present when the testing was done. So at that time 35,000 human field patients were back to health, but it wouldn’t cure a mouse? Sorry, but I don’t believe him.

There is a country in Africa that won’t even allow WHO to come across its borders. It seems to me that WHO, if they were really interested in helping the world as they claim to be, would have at least given the MMS a comprehensive test. That’s especially true after they were informed of the successes in Kenya and Uganda. At that time over 35,000 people had been successfully treated in the field, based on reports that said that everyone went away feeling good. I also informed the doctor of our field work but he was not interested. Had they been even slightly interested they would have invited me over to help them with the testing. The doctor doing the testing didn’t have the slightest idea what the MMS is about. He didn’t understand it. He didn’t understand the vinegar activation and he didn’t understand what the chemicals were. He didn’t want to know. He preferred to use my solution without knowing what it was. My evaluation of his disinterest is that he just wanted to prove it didn’t work and that was that. Let me say it again, he was absolutely totally disinterested in the fact that 35,000 malaria patients had been successfully treated in the field. I talked to him at length on the phone, but again, he showed total disinterest. Obviously, all WHO wanted was a doctor’s signature that said that the MMS didn’t work.

There was also a doctor in Israel who also tested MMS, and said it wouldn’t work. But guess what, he refused to use vinegar to activate the MMS. He said that acetate was the same thing so he used only acetate. Well the fact is that acetate is not the same thing as vinegar. Chemically it’s totally different, but he simply would not use vinegar as he obviously believed he knew best.

Jim Humble at the Life Link Medical Center in Kampala, Uganda.
I thought you might like to see the contract that I had with WHO. The contract is several pages long and there really isn’t enough room here to show it, but they (WHO) sent a letter along with the contract. I have included that letter below. If you are really interested in seeing the contract just write me and I will send you a copy of the contract. You could even come by my place and view the actual contract.

At this time Arnold began pushing his ideas about the MMS. He said that I could not give any more away. We went through that same thing from time to time. He wanted us to keep control of every bottle. I am sure, from Arnold’s point of view; he believes that he was the man who got everything in Africa going. He continued to meet people and groups that just might finance us to go to Africa. I continue to live out here on the desert and Arnold continued to not allow me to meet any of the people who might finance us in Africa. I wrote this paragraph today simply because I gave two local people one bottle of MMS each. Arnold found out and there was a long discussion about how I might go to jail because of it. Today I just got a call from Arnold as he was leaving San Francisco after talking to one more prospective donor, another one he would not let me meet.

Out here in the desert, only writing emails to Africa, I was able to get help for over 5,000 people with malaria since March of 2004 by making friends in Africa. Arnold had done nothing during this time except talk about what he is going to do in Africa. Nothing had happened. According to him, he had unlimited money (at least in the millions) to handle Africa and I had just my Social Security check.

One day in the desert, about one year after coming back from Uganda, while working on the roof I fell off and broke my neck. I was rushed to the hospital in the nearby city, but they didn’t have the necessary equipment so they flew me by airplane to Reno. Finally, they opened my neck up and put a titanium screw into the 2nd cervical in my neck (the same bone that the actor who played Superman broke). You should see the screw. It looks like a 1-1/2 inch wood screw. I also broke my back at the same time. My back healed quite quickly but my neck refused to heal. The doctor left the bones not quite touching. The screw should have had another 1/2 turn. Six months went by and still no healing. The doctor was insisting that he open my neck back up and put two more screws in place. The Veterans Hospital said that I must have another operation as well, but they had another idea of how to do it. However, they couldn’t get to it for another six months. I was left between a rock and a hard place or a broken neck.

Finally a friend in Canada, Michael Haynes, suggested that I look into magnetism. In my search of the Internet I found a group of clinics that were using a new theory of magnetism and that the clinics were having really great results. The cost was very high. After getting as much evidence of the new technology and as much data on the old technology as I could find I bought some of the strongest magnets now available. In fact, they are so strong that they are dangerous. They can squash a finger or cut it off when being handled improperly. The new technology works on the basic concept that magnetism must have a completed magnetic circuit through the body in order to get maximum healing power.

During this time I continued to communicate with as many people in Africa as I could plus sending emails to various organizations. With the magnets I bought; I constructed a steel curved piece that would allow for a completed magnetic circuit through my neck with the South Pole nearest the broken bone. I put the magnets in place for a total of five days and nights sitting up all night to make sure they were exactly in place. At the end of five days my neck began to swell up. I went back to the doctor and had another x-ray. The bone was completely healed. The doctor removed my neck brace. He said that I didn’t need it any more. He said he was glad that he decided to wait before giving me the operation. He didn’t remember that I was using magnets. He didn’t care and he wasn’t interested. In fact, he would have preferred to give me the operation. He didn’t decide to wait before giving me the operation. I didn’t get the operation because I refused it. If he had his way, I would have had the operation.

I don’t know what all the magnetic circuit does, but I do know that the extremely strong magnets cause the area to swell with blood and turn red. No doubt the extra blood aids in the healing. The x-rays before and after proved that the bones healed in the five days that I kept the magnets in place. I was mainly relieved that if the opportunity came to return to Africa, my neck was healed and I could go.

If you have problems with getting bones to heal, look into the magnetic side of healing bones.

As time passed, a man from Guinea called; he wanted us to go to that country to help the people there. He said that he was a friend of the first lady and that he could get us approved by the government. He had told the first lady about us, they were anxious for us to come to Guinea. Arnold finally took me to meet him so we talked. Things were being set for us to go. I called this man from Guinea and then all hell broke loose as Arnold told me that I was never to talk to this man again. He would never allow me to talk to any-
Arnold told me. So we didn’t go to Guinea. I can’t tell you something that we could not accept. At least that is what the terms of our every move in Guinea, which it was simply things turned out, this man decided he was going to dictate and screaming that I so hate and cannot take part in. As one that he considered his contact. There was the hollering and screaming that I so hate and cannot take part in. As things turned out, this man decided he was going to dictate and screaming that I so hate and cannot take part in. As one that he considered his contact.

Chino goes to Sierra Leone West Africa

A very active young fellow by the name of Chino contacted me and stated that he would like to know more about the MMS (We were calling it the Malaria Solution at that time). I met Chino in Beatty, Nevada, about March 2005. I explained how the MMS worked, mixed some doses and had him take it.

Chino explained that his family in Sierra Leone owned a large gold mining concession along the main river there. He explained that the malaria was so bad that everyone in his family had malaria. Many people there had died of malaria. He said that he needed as much of the MMS as I could furnish him. I said I would try to get him as much as possible. We had decided to charge a price that any African could afford at that time, which was about 10 cents. I explained the price and he said that he could get the money. I furnished him with 20 bottles at that time which could treat about 200 persons per bottle or a few more because more than 1/2 people treated were children. I gave them to him free of charge, but he insisted that he would pay in the near future.

About two months later he visited me in the desert. He had been to Sierra Leone and treated about 1,000 people in the village and the area where his family lived. He said that more people were there waiting for him to bring more bottles of the MMS. He explained that it was not possible to charge anything for the MMS that he gave the people. He said that the minute he began selling doses for any amount of money, the government would come, take the money, and the MMS. That’s the way it is in East Africa. The government wants all the money and all the business. If you give the stuff away, there is no money in it and the government is not interested. The only way to make it work is bring it into the country and give it away without charge.

Otherwise the government will take it and sell it only to those who can pay large sums for the treatment. His assessment of the situation was that to furnish it for freely was the only way that the people of Sierra Leone would ever get the MMS. But he said that he had people in the U.S. who would furnish the money. I didn’t ask him for money even though he kept saying that he would pay.

I put together 100 bottles with 450 doses each. Then Chino and I traveled to Reno and shipped the bottles to Sierra Leone. He paid for the shipping with a credit card. I asked for no money only that he give us a signed letter from each person that was treated and helped who had malaria. He then left to go back to Sierra Leone to begin helping more people. He later returned from Sierra Leone after helping an additional 5,000 malaria victims. This trip took about three months. He had a camera and his cousin took a number of pictures of the people during the process. When he returned he did not have any letters signed, but he did have the pictures. Later he asked for more bottles. We never refused any of his requests for bottles even though he did not bring the signed letters. I have included pictures of his work in Sierra Leone.

John continued to talk about furnishing the money for us to go to Africa. Arnold said we couldn’t go until we had an invitation. Because they had money and kept talking about financing a trip to Africa to do clinical trials done, I kept quiet. They relied on my desire to see the people of Africa helped. Thus, they could take my technology, allow me no say at all, and pay me nothing but expenses for the trip, which of course, was really nothing. They assured the sponsors that no one (me) would be receiving payment for the technology. They said that the sponsors wanted all of their money to go toward helping people in Africa. I couldn’t really argue against that. How could I be so selfish as to want some return for my technology? The fact is though; I never knew who the “sponsors” were.

I finally realized that although they were ensuring that the money went towards treating people in Africa, they were also using my technology to become known in the country of Malawi. They were then working towards several different business ventures there including mining and a new rice technology that would furnish rice protein worldwide. I’m not included in any of that. I don’t want to be. I figure that if I continue to attempt to get this MMS information to the world, money will eventually come my way. If not, at least I know that this data is too important to have it under the control of any one person. I am not going to allow that to happen. I will see that it is published to the widest audience that is within my ability to reach.

UNDERSTANDING THE MIRACLE MINERAL SUPPLEMENT

To understand the MMS one must understand chlorine dioxide as that is what is generated and what does the job in the body.

Chlorine dioxide is a high explosive. Therefore, wherever it is used it must be generated on site. It cannot be transported as chlorine dioxide. It will instantly destroy any container that one might try to house it in. It cannot even be moved through metal or plastic pipes. Numerous methods have been devised to generate chlorine dioxide and many different chlorine chemicals are used for that purpose. Chlorine dioxide is used for many industrial processes. It is used in paper mills to bleach the paper pulp white. It is used in cloth mills to bleach cloth. Probably the most important use is to purify water and thousands of water purification systems utilize chlorine dioxide throughout the world. In water purification systems it is selective for pathogens and other bioorganisms that might be harmful to larger animals and humans. It does NOT combine with hundreds of constituents with which free chlorine will combine. Free chlorine will combine with several items found in most water systems and will create carcinogenic compounds. Thus, although the initial cost of installing chlorine dioxide systems is higher, in the long run the chlorine dioxide systems save money and they are much safer from a health standpoint.

One of the most popular methods of generating chlorine dioxide is by various methods of treating sodium chlorite. It is a white or slightly yellow flaky substance. Keep in mind that table salt is not quite the same thing. Note the spelling of the last two letters. Table salt is sodium chloride. We generate chlorine dioxide from sodium chlorite.

Throughout the world today sodium chlorite (the formula is NaClO2) is probably used to generate chlorine dioxide more often than any other method. For the formula for chlorine dioxide we merely remove the Na which is sodium, and we have chlorine dioxide, ClO2. (Don’t worry, you don’t have to understand these formulas to understand the basics of what I am writing here.) There are possibly several dozen methods of using sodium chlorite to generate chlorine dioxide. The FDA approves several methods of just adding swimming pool acid to a watery solution of sodium chlorite for the purpose of making chlorine dioxide which is used to sterilize chicken or beef before it is sold to the public. The acid generates the chlorine dioxide from the sodium chlorite. In many cases of sterilizing vegetables the chlorine does not have to be rinsed off as the chlorine dioxide soon turns into salt but not enough to make the vegetable salty.

Amazingly enough, in a hundred thousand health food stores in the U.S. one can also find sodium chlorite in a watern for form known as Stabilized Oxidized. In almost all cases Stabilized Oxygen is manufactured by simply adding 3.5% sodium chlorite by weight to distilled water, that’s 35,000 ppm. You can do it in your kitchen. Just don’t use any metal pots and pans, not even stainless steel. Use only plastic or glass or Corning Ware. However, you will be much better off making the Miracle Mineral Supplement with my formula or buying it from someone who is using my formula. I’ll tell you exactly how to do that later in this book.

For 80 years hundreds of thousands of people have put a few drops of Stabilized Oxygen into their water or juice and drank it down thinking that it somehow furnished extra oxygen to their bodies. The few that realized that some form of chlorine was generated, mentioned it in passing, but still insisted that the chlorine furnished the body with oxygen. Somehow during all those years, not one of the alternate medicine groups ever decided to have a good chemist look at the formula, or at least not one of them wrote about doing so. The fact is that simple chemistry shows us that no oxygen is generated that the body can use.

Chlorine dioxide is a powerful chemical and it has many uses. It is an oxidizer, less powerful than oxygen, but with greater quantity available for oxidizing. Chlorine dioxide explodes when it contacts certain chemical conditions, and is neutral with other chemical conditions. It is selective. What do we mean when we say it explodes? Well, an explosion is merely a fast chemical reaction, mainly oxidation that also releases energy. In the formula, ClO2, there are two oxygen ions. So why do these not get released these so that the body can use them? It’s because they have a minus two charge. They have already done their oxidizing before they arrived in this position. They cannot oxidize further. But the chlorine combined with oxygen can. When chlorine dioxide touches a pathogen or a poison that is acidic in nature, it instantly accepts five electrons. It destroys anything that it can draw electrons from and generates heat at the same time (this action is called oxidation even when oxygen is not a part of it). The oxygen atoms are then released from the chlorine dioxide, but they are not elemental oxygen. They are ions of oxygen with a negative two charge. They are at the same charge as the oxygen in carbon dioxide, a gas that will kill you if you breathe enough of it. The carbon dioxide is not a poison. In other words it doesn’t do anything to the lungs; it is sort of like drowning. It prevents the lungs from getting the elemental oxygen that they need.

Hydrogen and oxygen mix together becomes water. That’s about all that the oxygen can do at this time. It becomes water or it can become part of a carbon dioxide molecule. The chlorine, after the explosion of oxidation, has also lost its charge and it becomes a chloride which is basically table salt, which again has no ability to oxidize as it no longer has any charge. There is nothing else left to cause any kind of a side effect.

The basic idea is simply that oxygen and chlorine must be charged to the correct number of electrons, or they do not do the job of oxidizing. When oxygen is not capable of oxidizing it simply cannot do the job in the body that is required for oxygen. What sodium chlorite really does for us is it gives us chlorine dioxide, a chemical that is selectively to destroy almost all bad things that might exist in the body. Each tiny chlorine dioxide molecule has tremendous power to destroy those things from which it can draw electrons, but it does not have the power to draw electrons from healthy cells or aerobic bacteria.

Chlorine dioxide does not last forever. It has too much energy bundled into a small area. It begins to lose some of its energy after a few minutes in the body and the same thing happens when it is released into public water supplies. In the body when it has lost some of its energy so that it no longer is explosive (unable to oxidize) it can then combine with other substances. There is some evidence that it helps make myeloperoxidase, a chemical that the body uses to make hypochlorous acid that is then used by the immune system. to further kill pathogens, killer cells, and other things. Chlorine dioxide is the only chemical known that has these qualities and that can do these things in the body without creating side effects. In public water works or the bleaching of paper pulp in paper mills, the chlorine dioxide is generated on the site where it is used. In the body it is also generated on the site where it is used from sodium chlorite.

How to Generate Chlorine Dioxide in the Human Body

All of those people who used stabilized oxygen for all those years didn’t realize the benefits were coming from the chlorine dioxide and thus no one ever tried to generate more of it. They believed that the millions of oxygen ions that were connected to the chlorine were available to the body. Thus, they received the little benefit that resulted from the fact that when a few drops of Stabilized Oxygen is added to water it begins to release chlorine dioxide, but very slowly, too slowly to do much good. It releases a few chlorine dioxide ions per hour instead of per minute. There was always some benefit, but not nearly the full potential. For 80 years they missed it.

So if we are going to generate chlorine dioxide in the body, we need to do it about 1,000 times faster than what is now done when one adds a few drops of Stabilized Oxygen to a glass of water or juice. That gives you about 1 ppb (one part per billion), and often even more than that. In fact, sometimes it takes 1 ppt (one part per thousand). But don’t worry about those figures; one does not need to know all the technical details to make it work. Just know that to cure AIDS sometimes it takes 1 ppt (one part per thousand). But don’t worry about those figures; one does not need to know all the technical details to make it work. Just know that to cure AIDS it takes at least a thousand times more chlorine dioxide than Stabilized Oxygen gives you, actually more like 10,000 times.

As it was mentioned above the FDA authorizes adding swimming pool acid to solutions of sodium chlorite in order to generate chlorine dioxide. All of those public water purification plants that use sodium chlorite to make chlorine dioxide also use acid in various mechanical devices that add the acid at a pre established speed to a flow of watery sodium chlorite. In the human body we have a tougher problem because we want to add a lot of chlorine dioxide, but not all at once. We want to allow it to exist for a few hours so that it can be carried around to all parts of the body. But chlorine dioxide deteriorates in minutes and will not exist in the body for hours if you just simply swallow some. There isn’t any mechanical mechanism that one can use to add acid slowly to a watery solution of sodium chlorite inside the body.

The Importance of Vinegar or Lime or Lemon or Citric Acid

That is where vinegar or lime or lemon comes in. The part that is important is the 5% acetic acid or the citric acid in lime or lemon. (Just recently, 7/1/2007, it has been discovered that pure citric acid works even better than vinegar, lime, or lemon.) When one of these items is added to sodium chlorite it causes the solution to begin releasing chlorine dioxide on a continuous basis for about 12 hours. The addition of six drops of a solution that is 28% sodium chlorite (that’s the Miracle Mineral Supplement) to 30 drops of vinegar or lime or lemon will release approximately three mgs (3 milligrams) of chlorine dioxide in three minutes. That's the reason for the three minute wait, but when you add water or apple juice to make about 1/2 glass of liquid the process slows down to one mg per hour. But three mgs is quite a bit for the body. Thus, these acids have a particular quality that works to create a continuous supply of chlorine dioxide for about 12 hours. In addition to creating the continuous release of chlorine dioxide they also prevent the solution from releasing chlorine dioxide too quickly when the stomach acids mix with it. As the chlorine dioxide deteriorates new chlorine dioxide is continuously being generated in the body. Adding vinegar or lime or lemon to the sodium chlorite does the trick. If you don’t add one of these items, all you have is the same old Stabilized Oxygen health drink, which is interesting, but it really doesn’t get the job done.

You can see from the above paragraph that the MMS starts off with three milligrams of chlorine dioxide and then continues to supply chlorine dioxide to the body for about 12 hours. The initial three milligrams is what the body needs. The MMS works best to destroy pathogens when 2 or 3 mg of free chlorine dioxide are in the solution at the time it is swallowed. It has an immediate effect. We have been talking all along about six drops which is a maintenance dose. If you are treating a disease 15 to 18 drops is a full dose. But read the instructions, you usually start off with small doses and work up.

To give you an idea of what one milligram is, consider a standard U.S. dime. One gram is just about exactly 1/2 of a dime. Imagine 1/2 of dime cut into a thousand pieces. One of those pieces is one milligram. That’s less than a fly speck. That’s how powerful chlorine dioxide is.

One milligram of chlorine dioxide begins killing pathogens in the body. Over a period of 12 hours the body will receive somewhere between 12 and 20 mgs, and there will be about two milligrams of chlorine dioxide distributed throughout the body at any one time, because as the chlorine dioxide is generated it is either used up by destroying pathogens or it deteriorates into other harmless chemicals in just minutes. When the chlorine dioxide degenerates, the final chemicals that are left are either chemicals that the immune system really needs, or the chlorine just turns to a chloride making a tiny insignificant amount of table salt and water. Because of this there simply can be no side effects. There is nothing left to cause side effects.

Make no mistake. Chlorine dioxide ions are extremely powerful. They bundle tremendous energy into a small particle. But they only remain that way for a few minutes. They contain too much energy to last for a lengthy amount of time. In the world of submicroscopic energy particles, they are a torpedo with a selective warhead. The chemical makeup of chlorine dioxide gives it that quality and no other chemical has that same quality.

Some people have taken more than 20 times the amount... of Stabilized Oxygen (sodium chlorite). Perfectly healthy people may have a small amount of nausea for 10 or 15 minutes from that large of a dose, but if they have any bad conditions in their body, depending upon what they are, they might get nauseous for a period.

A few people, including myself, have tried 25 times the recommended MMS dose, and that will make you nauseous but it does not leave side effects. (This has already been tried and it would be extremely sickening to try it.) The point is, chlorine dioxide is not only not harmful, but it is of great benefit to the body. Getting nauseous is the result of the chlorine dioxide attacking some bad condition in the body. In the case of a liver condition such as hepatitis, one almost always gets nauseous. The reason for this is that the liver begins to expel the poisons as the chlorine dioxide begins to destroy them. But it also cures the condition in record time.

One lady with hepatitis C did just what I told her not to do. Instead of taking two drops at first, she wanted to be certain that she killed it. She took 30 drops, added the vinegar, waited three minutes and added it to apple juice. It made her sick for three days. She then put the MMS aside and did not touch it for eight months. She thought because it made her so sick that it didn’t work, but when she finally decided to go to the doctor he could find no hepatitis in her body. Both were amazed.

I have given it to many people with one of the hepatitis diseases A, B, or C. I can guarantee that 30 drops will make any hepatitis patient feel very sick, but it will also cure them. However, that is not the way to do it. A hepatitis patient should never start out with more than two drops. In that case, normally they will not feel any nausea, and if they keep slowly increasing the drops until they can take 15 drops twice a day without nausea, they will check negative to hepatitis of all kinds.

Procedure for Taking MMS for Maintenance

Taking the MMS for longevity is important. I wish I could say for sure that it will give you an additional 25 years of life. I can’t prove it yet, but I believe it. All the evidence points to that conclusion. Dozens of older people are taking the MMS. All those diseases that normally kill older people simply no longer have the sting. The immune system can be 100 times stronger than normal in older people and then pneumonia and flu and other disease just don’t get a foothold that is as long as one is taking the maintenance dose every day.

Younger people can get by with taking the MMS maintenance dose two or three times a week, but older people need to take it at least once a day. When taking it once a day, every day, one can probably get by with taking four drop doses, and be sure to take it with the vinegar and three minute wait and then add the apple juice (see below for exact instructions.) Anyone taking it two or three times a week should always take at least six drops for each dose. Remember, hundreds of thousands of people have been taking this solution for 80 years; all I have done is added a little food acid. No side effects have been reported in the six years since the vinegar was added. Technically there should be none. It has been proven that chlorine dioxide does not attack healthy cells. (That is in the small quantities used in MMS. A large quantity would kill anyone or anything).

Remember how it was pointed out earlier that the chlorine dioxide deteriorates into constituents that are totally nonpoisonous. Nothing is left behind to build up, as is the case in many conventional medicines. The chlorine dioxide lasts long enough to do its job, and then the part that does not furnish the immune system with needed ions becomes nothing but micro amounts of table salt and water. The chlorine dioxide has just a few minutes to do its thing and then it no longer exists. It leaves nothing behind that can build up.

Initial Procedure. Keep in mind that anyone taking the MMS for the first time should start out with no more than two drops for their first dose. The reason is that the two drops will not produce enough chemical reaction to cause bad nausea in those who have some sort of a health condition. If there is some really bad condition in the body, two drops could cause a mild nausea for ten minutes or so. In that case, continue to take only two drops daily or several times daily until there is no nausea. When one has reached the point where there is no nausea from two drops then use three drops the next time. Continue this until you are at 15 drops a day and then drop back to six drops a day. When using for treatment of some serious illness, you will need to progress until you are taking much more than six drops, depending upon the illness.

Keep in mind, that when we refer to drops we always mean that one must add 1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon of vinegar or lime or lemon or citric acid and then wait three minutes before adding 1/2 glass of juice. That’s four ounces of juice for those of you who are more scientific. Without the vinegar or lime or lemon, the whole exercise consists of drinking a nice health drink. But nice health drinks don’t do the job. And remember, DO NOT use juice with added vitamin C.

So the exact procedure is this: Add two drops of MMS to a clean empty dry glass. Then add 10 drops of lime or lemon (if you use citric acid see the instructions in chapter 10). Swirl the glass by hand to mix the vinegar and drops. Wait three minutes. Add 1/2 glass of apple juice. Drink right away. You can substitute grape juice or pineapple juice as long as they are freshly made juices, meaning don’t buy juices with vitamin C added. Do not use orange juice. Orange juice prevents the production of chlorine dioxide.

The reason for using fresh juice is that most juices have vitamin C added for a preservative. It makes the juice last longer and it is good for you, but it inhibits the release of chlorine dioxide. It can even prevent you from getting the results that you want from taking the MMS. If you do use store bought juice make sure that it does not say that vitamin C has been added. If it does say vitamin C added, you can always drink it several hours before or after taking the MMS.

Allowing the drops and vinegar set more than three minutes is not necessarily a problem. The chlorine dioxide in the drops begins to separate and the chlorine goes off into the air and thus the concentrate of chlorine dioxide remains fairly constant for up to 1/2 hour, however tiny amounts of chlorine do remain in the solution. Putting a lid on the container makes the chlorine dioxide much stronger. Some people do this to make a stronger drink. The very best practice is to not allow the drops and acid to go longer than three minutes before adding your juice and drinking it.

To be sure of a strong drink of chlorine dioxide, drink it immediately after adding the juice. (It’s not dangerous to allow it to set longer, just not as effective). You can even let it set an hour or no more two. Juices that can be used are apple juice, grape juice, pineapple juice, and cranberry juice.

Again: Do not try to use orange juice. Orange juice prevents the production of chlorine dioxide and thus prevents the MMS from being effective.

Further technical stuff. This is just to further clarify some points made earlier. There are two levels of deterioration that take place when we are talking about a dose of MMS solution.

1) The first thing that deteriorates is the Sodium Chlorite. After the vinegar is added, the Sodium Chlorite begins to deteriorate releasing Chlorine Dioxide into the solution. Chlorine Dioxide is an extremely powerful ion containing vast amounts of energy in an extremely small area.

2) It is not a stable condition to hold that much energy and it too begins to deteriorate. The Chlorine Dioxide ion retains its ability to destroy pathogens, diseased cells, poisonous substances, and other harmful items for only about 30 minutes. It really begins to lose its energy within seconds of being released from the Sodium Chlorite, but it usually can do its job for up to 30 minutes. By the end of an hour or so, it has deteriorated to the point that it will no longer destroy pathogens but it can still combine with various other chemicals. Okay, so maybe I was over enthusiastic in saying “vast amounts of energy” as it doesn’t sound very scientific. So let’s just say, chlorine dioxide begins to deteriorate almost immediately until it is no longer chlorine dioxide. It separates into its constituents of chlorine, oxygen, and energy and nothing else. The chlorine and oxygen under this condition have lost their charge and thus are not active. As the chlorine dioxide continues to deteriorate, so does the sodium chlorite. The deterioration of the sodium chlorite is at approximately the same speed as the deterioration of the chlorine dioxide. Do you see? More chlorine dioxide is being generated by the sodium chlorite all the time. Thus, as the chlorine dioxide is consumed by killing pathogens or by simple deterioration it is replaced by the continued deterioration of the sodium chlorite.

The chlorine in sodium chlorite either combines with helpful chemicals that the immune system can use, or it becomes a chloride which means it becomes a tiny part of a tiny amount of table salt. Not enough to even record. The deterioration of chlorine dioxide in the human body leaves absolutely nothing behind. The action of destroying any pathogen or other harmful item in the body leaves nothing behind but dead pathogens, and again a chloride and oxygen that can only become a part of the water of the body.

Arnold and I founded the Malaria Solution Foundation. He’s in charge. I withdrew from that foundation when I realized they were not very committed to treating malaria in Africa. They informed me that they had plenty of money and millions to spend treating malaria in Africa, but they continued with mining and rice distribution programs and nothing was happening with the program to distribute the MMS in Africa. If they really were committed, and they were too busy, they could have sent me.

We have the answer to the disease that has been the biggest killer of mankind for hundreds of years. So while millions of people suffer and die, what is my group doing? We’re over in Africa giving out rice bran packets to school children. That’s a nice program. It’s nice to help children, but our organization was formed to solve the problem of malaria. I may be beating this point to death, but there were a number of people who could not see why I left the foundation and concentrated on writing this book.

After several years I finally realized that I could not leave the data of the MMS information in their hands. The world would probably never know about it. It was then that I finally realized that this information simply cannot be owned or controlled by any one person or group. The Malaria Solution Foundation Web Site (malariasolution.com) will also tell you much about the programs that we conducted in Africa and maybe give you some more confidence in what I have been saying. The MMS really works. (This site, by the way, was just finished in the last part of 2006. It was 5 years since I was first told that they were going to put up a good site). Their last trip to Malawi was last year. It had nothing to do with curing malaria in that country. It had to do with distributing rice bran packets to orphans. That is a feel good program; but what we founded the Foundation for is not getting done.

You could also check if you want to, with the Malawi government. They conducted their own separate tests with the Malaria Solution (the MMS) and got the same results as we did in the prison, 90% cure for malaria patients in less than 24 hours and 100% cure in 48 hours. Nothing else has ever even a 10% cure rate in 24 hours or 48 hours.

I have included two pictures of blood [in the book]. These pictures were taken with a dark field microscope that was designed especially for viewing blood. The first picture shows the blood of a person before taking a dose of the MMS. All the cells shown are red blood cells. Notice how the cells are all together touching one another in a clump. This is an unhealthy condition. This person needs more water and minerals. The second picture shows the blood of the same person 1.5 hours after taking a dose of 10 drops of MMS with the vinegar, with the three minutes wait and with water added. Note that the red blood cells are no longer sticking together, but more importantly, the circles show 3 white blood cells moving towards the larger crystalline blood clot. They will ingest the clot trapping the crystalline particles. Although you cannot see the movement in still pictures, these white blood cells are as much as 10 times more active than normal after taking the MMS. The actual video of this blood shows the movement.
The Celestine Prophecy

Why has this book been so life changing, and praised by millions of people worldwide? Because, in a way, it is getting each of us in touch with something we knew already, but didn’t realize we knew.

Without preaching anything religious, the book fills a spiritual void most people have had, by helping each of us determine what our own spiritual mission in life is.

The Celestine Prophecy is not really about making a change in your personal philosophy, as it is about simply shifting our approach to life and how we sense the lives of those around us. Truly, as the back cover claims, “a book that comes along once in a lifetime, to change lives forever.”

The book tells a story of an American, who is adventuring in the rain forests of Peru, and discovers a set of nine manuscripts. These manuscripts, referred to as “insights”, offer ways of discovering a new sense of life.

The first two insights reveal how mankind is currently undergoing a spiritual awakening and touches on how coincidences in each of our lives are more than mere coincidences after all.

The next three insights reveal that many of us may see the world we live in as a material universe, when in fact our universe is one filled with dynamic energy. The last four insights will help you to begin discovering what your own personal, spiritual “mission” in life may be and how each of us can contribute to the world around us. There is a great section about becoming aware of our individual energy manipulations towards other people, and how overcoming these manipulations will help us to fulfill our “missions” in life.

If you’ve ever wondered what crashed into the desert near Roswell, New Mexico, in 1947, this book will give you some startling answers.

Col. Philip J. Corso provides new evidence for the presence of alien intruders. Whether or not you believe his contention, the sheer weight of governmental sources and documentation presented by the former Army intelligence officer is not easily dismissed.

The author asserts that the Cold War was a cover to develop “alien technology” that superpowers USA and USSR could use against the threat of extra-terrestrial invasion.

The Ancient Secret of the Flower of Life
Volumes 1 & 2
By Drunvalo Melchizedek. Light Technology Publ.

Once, all life in the universe knew the Flower of Life as the creation pattern – the geometrical design leading us into and out of physical existence. Then from a very high state of consciousness we fell into darkness and forgot who we were.

For thousands of years the secret was held in ancient artifacts and carvings around the world, and encoded in the cells of all life.

Drunvalo Melchizedek presents in text and graphics the first half of the Flower of Life Workshop, illuminating the mysteries of how we came to be, why the world is the way it is and the subtle energies that allow our awareness to blossom into its true beauty.

From the pyramids and mysteries of Egypt to the new race of Indigo children, we are led through a divinely inspired labyrinth of science and stories, logic and coincidence, on a path of remembering where we come from and the wonder and magic of who we are.

Finally, for the first time in print, Druunalo shares the instructions for the Mer-Ka-Ba meditation, step-by-step techniques for the re-creation of the energy field of the evolved human, which is the key to ascension and the next dimensional world. If done from love, this ancient process of breathing prana opens up for us a world of tantalizing possibility in this dimension, from protective powers to the healing of oneself, of others and even of the planet.
According to Daniel Reid, writing in The Tao of Health Sex and Longevity, the rays from a TV flicker erratically, causing uneven and irregular stimulation of the retina.

“This choppystimulus is transferred directly into the brain via the optic nerve, which in turn irritates the hypothalamus. In scientific experiments conducted in the US but ignored by both the government and the television industry, rats exposed to colour TV for six hours a day became hyperactive and extremely aggressive for about a week. Thereafter they suddenly became totally lethargic and stopped breeding entirely.”

In effect their endocrine systems had been ‘burnt out;’ equally significant was the fact that during the experiment the TV screens were kept covered in thick black paper so that only the invisible rays came through. Thus the damage was done, not by the visible rays, but by the invisible radiation.

These findings were echoed by Dr H.D. Youmans of the U.S. Bureau of Radiological Health, quoted by Associated Press in 1970:

“We found rays escaping from the vacuum tubes to be harder and of higher average energy than we expected. They penetrated the first few inches of the body as deeply as 100-kilowatt diagnostic X-rays. You get a uniform dose to the eyes, testes and bone marrow.”

The same year Dr Robert Elder, director of the BRH, testified before Congress that even very minute doses of radiation, which fall below the legal limit cause damage and that the damage is cumulative.

In fact the evidence is beginning to mount to the point where it can no longer be ignored, unless you happen to watch a lot of TV, in which case you may not have noticed the results of a study by Sally Ward. One of Britain’s leading authority’s on children’s speech development, she completed a ten year study which showed that the background noise in the average two year olds day can delay his or her acquisition of a language by up to a year. Almost invariably the background noise came from television. Amongst other things she found that:

- Children learn to speak from their parents and parents don’t play or talk enough with their children when the TV is on.
- Background noise from TV or radio, confuses infants. In response they learn to ignore all noise and then they ignore speech.
✔ Children of two years or older should not be exposed to more than two hours of TV a day.

✔ Children of one year old or younger should not be exposed to television at all.

Sally Ward is currently preparing to focus on television and the way it affects our attention. In particular she will be looking at Attention Deficit and Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD).

“... A lot of people think it’s chemical,” she says, but in her view “it’s very peculiar that at the onset of children’s television it got a lot more prevalent, and at the onset of children’s video’s it got a lot more prevalent.”

Her concern is being reiterated in America where child psychologist John Rosemond has stirred some controversy by suggesting that ADHD is environmentally created; a suggestion that is completely at odds with the pharmaceutical industry, which maintains that the disorder is genetically inherited and makes considerable profit as a result.

“Ritalin may work, temporarily,” says Rosemond, “but pharmaceutical intervention won’t change behavioural and motivational problems.” And these he blames on television: “the endlessly changing images, flickering like the attention spans of ADHD children.”

Interestingly, Rosemond began questioning the role of TV after his own son began displaying symptoms of ADHD. In response he got rid of his television and within six weeks the boy’s behaviour was transformed. Today he is a commercial airline pilot, a job which requires some concentration.

Still, there may well be a place for television in modern society: in our prisons. No seriously. At a time when its budget is being cut by over 15% you may ask why the prisons service is spending an estimated £5 million on television sets for a third of its inmates. Why? Well, according to David Roddan, general secretary of the prison governors association: “It’s the best control mechanism you can think of.”

To Cook or Not to Cook?

By Zoe Desmond and Chris Carlton

Everyone’s now talking about the benefits of eating more fresh fruit and veg and the toxic truth about processed food. Eating Purely Raw food has been a superhealth secret for much too long. Congratulations! You’ve found something that many wish for daily. You are no longer limited by what doctors, friends and family have told you was inevitable. Whether today is your first Purely Raw day or not, now that you know, there’s no turning back. So from us at Purely Raw… Welcome to Good Health!

Cooking Changes Food

When we heat food above the human body temperature of 38 degrees, it changes. This heated food effects our health much differently than natural, unchanged foods.

Prior to 1930, it was believed that whenever we ate, there was an immune system response as if we were poisoned. An immediate rise in white blood cells, by about 300%. White blood cells are our body’s soldiers, they are produced to fight off threats, like poison, trauma or disease. This reaction to eating was called Digestive Leukocytosis and thought to be normal.

In 1930, Dr Paul Kouchakoff conducted research to compare the effects of cooked food versus raw food. He discovered that Digestive Leukocytosis occurred only when cooked or processed food was eaten. He found that there is no immune system response when we eat our food in its natural, unheated, unprocessed state.

Because of Digestive Leukocytosis, eating cooked food keeps our immune system in a constant state of emergency. Even what we call allergies are just our over burdened immune system literally freaking out when a new irritant is encountered.

Another immune system response to cooked food is mucus. When cooked food is eaten, our bodies try to protect us from this invasion by creating mucus. This mucus makes a wall between the food and our bodies. As a raw foodist now, if I eat any cooked food the first thing I notice is within about 7 minutes my nose will start to run. Then within an hour I feel just a bit knocked off my raw high (that I sometimes can forget that I am on). Isn’t it nice to know that you can get so used to feeling perfect that you take it for granted? You can!

After years of cooked food, our immune system literally gets worn out. We become run down, and illness becomes a normal part of life. We think that we are just ageing. We believe we have no choice other than to be sick.

When we eat Purely Raw foods, our immune system rests and recovers. People who switch to eating only raw foods always experience the same thing. Lifelong problems, conditions and diseases go away, usually within weeks or months.
People eating Purely Raw have experienced complete reversals of cancers, diabetes, heart disease, arthritis, autism, depression, skin disease, etc. The list goes on and on. Our immune system can heal anything, if it’s not continually engaged in a war against cooked food. Our bodies treat cooked food as poison, this of course means, that cooked food is poison.

When food is heated, the enzymes are also destroyed. Enzymes are the life force in food, the magic elixir of Life. They merge with our bodies and tell us how and where to use the food we eat. It’s the enzymes which tell the vitamin C in the orange to go and become part of our skin. Some believe that enzymes are destroyed by stomach acids, but research shows that enzymes are mainly absorbed in the mouth, before our food gets into the stomach.

Our body cannot communicate with the food unless the enzymes are there. Raw food contains its own digestive enzymes and literally digests itself inside you. Raw food breaks itself down and goes where it is needed, and all is well.

Without it’s enzymes, cooked food sits in you like a brick. Your body has to use its own digestive enzymes to deal with the cooked food. Many now believe that humans only have enough digestive enzymes to last them into their 40’s. When they are gone, everything seems to be harder work physically, many become apathetic and lose their zest for life.

Enzymes also allow Transmutation. We can eat one raw substance and turn it into something completely different. This recent discovery shows that when we eat purely raw food we can create things that weren’t there before. It’s like saying that 1+1=3! This is how a 20 foot tall giraffe can build its entire body, bones, muscle, coat and mane whilst eating only a few types of tree leaves. Elephants are Raw Vegan too!

Cooked food changes our pH. It makes us acidic, when we are meant to be alkaline. The pH level of our bodily fluids affect every cell in our bodies. We thrive when our bodies are in an alkaline state. We use alkaloid highs like caffeine, cannabis and cocaine to mimic the feelings of being in an alkaline state. Unfortunately, these drugs throw us into a worse acidic state when they wear off, so we require more of them to get back to the alkaline high we desire.

When we are in an acidic state, we experience many health problems. Acidity constricts us, causing stiffness and tissue degeneration. Alkalinity does the opposite, we let go and our bodies can release tension and stress, and our blood and lymph can flow more easily. Being in an alkaline state is absolutely lovely. Alkalinity soothes away our health problems and we become balanced, calm and peaceful.

Finally, vitamins are destroyed and deformed by cooking. We all know this one! This is why people steam food, rather than boil or bake it. Steaming is a little less damaging for the vitamins, but the enzymes still die, and digestive leukocytosis still occurs. Steaming has become popular now because it is commonly known that the less you have cooked something, the better it is for you.

So, why cook at all?

WHY ONLY PLANT FOODS?

Much of what you are about to read here may come as a shock. The following information is now commonly accepted in the scientific and medical community and can easily be verified. We encourage you to research these facts for yourself.

Our bodies make all the cholesterol we need. Eating extra cholesterol has killed more people than: all the wars, natural disasters and car accidents of the twentieth century added together. Eating Vegan means eating no animal based foods. Plant foods contain no cholesterol.

It’s simple, the extra cholesterol clogs our veins and arteries restricting the flow of blood. Restrict blood flow to the brain and you’ll have a stroke. Restrict blood flow to the heart and you’ll get heart disease. Restrict blood flow to your cells and you’ll get cancer.

Heart disease is the number one cause of death in the UK and US. Heart disease kills one in five men and one in six women. The number two killer of course is cancer. A recent study of autopsies shows that 80% of those over 40 have some form of cancer.

Many people now avoid red meat or beef, thinking that white meat is better. The truth is meat is meat. A 3 ounce piece of beef has 75 mg of cholesterol while a 3 ounce skinless

A 20 foot tall giraffe can build its entire body, bones, muscle, coat and mane whilst eating only a few types of tree leaves. Elephants are Raw Vegan too!
chicken breast has 72 mg of cholesterol. The two are mostly the same.

Many today have given up eating animals and become vegetarian. Little do they know that a glass of milk is the same as 7 strips of bacon. Cheese, eggs, yogurt, it’s all the same. It all contains cholesterol and animal protein, and that is what’s killing us.

We’ve been taught that we desperately need animal protein, but nothing could be further from the truth. Protein deficiency caused by diet is only found in cases of severe starvation. Many plant foods have protein, and plant protein won’t kill you. Both spinach and broccoli have near twice the protein of beef. A diet of nothing but potatoes will give you enough protein.

In the west our health problems are caused by excess not deficiency. Don’t worry about what you are not eating, beware of what you are eating.

There has never been a single case of calcium deficiency from diet in human history. We’ve been taught we need the calcium in dairy products to build strong bones. The opposite is actually true. The animal protein in dairy products makes our blood pH acidic. Our bodies then draw calcium from our bones to balance our blood pH. Yes, that means that milk actually causes bone loss. Osteoporosis is most common in cultures that consume the most animal foods.

Never before have we eaten so much animal fats and protein. Animal foods like meat, dairy and fish only became affordable in the 20th century. In the last half of the century we’ve doubled our meat consumption to an average of 105 kilos per person per year.

We’ve switched from a plant-based diet to an animal based one. This was the biggest diet change in human history and was followed by a huge increase in cancer, heart disease and diabetes. These were previously the diseases of the rich, who could afford to eat a lot of animal foods.

We now grow far more food to feed farm animals than we eat ourselves. 87% of agricultural land is used to raise the animals we eat. Farm animals consume 80% of our corn, 80% of our grain and 95% of our oats. We spend more time, money and resources fattening the animals we eat than we do feeding humans that are actually starving.

Half the fresh water in the West is used to grow crops to feed farm animals. Half of the fresh water wells are contaminated by agriculture, by growing food that is mainly used to feed animals. Pesticides, herbicides, fungicides, and nitrate fertilizers pollute our fresh water. Fertilizers cause algae growth in rivers, which kills water life.

Today’s farm animals are neither happy nor healthy. They are drugged up, disease ridden shadows of the animals our grandparents ate. 80% of dairy cows and pigs have pneumonia. 90% of chickens have cancer. Farm animals live a fraction of their potential life span and many would die soon from disease, if not slaughtered on time.

To keep them alive in their unnatural conditions, farm animals are fed antibiotics. Much stronger ones than we use. These antibiotics remain in the food we eat. Increasing our resistance to them, and annihilating out ability to absorb essential nutrients like vitamin B12 by destroying intrinsic factor.

Finally, we just aren’t carnivores. We’re not even omnivores. All carnivores have short guts, through which meat is eliminated before it putrefies. Human intestines are three times the length of carnivores. Our guts are even much longer than an omnivore’s intestines, but they’re the same length as other frugivores.

Carnivores and even omnivores have higher levels of hydrochloric acid in their stomachs used to digest meat. They also have the enzyme uricase to digest uric acid found in meat. Humans don’t, and this means we cannot digest meat as carnivores and omnivores do. Our blood is alkaline in its optimum state. Carnivores and omnivores blood is acidic. We have no teeth or claws to kill with and no snout to rip out internal organs. Physically, we are frugivores, animals meant to eat mainly fruit and leaves.

12 Steps to Raw Foods: How to End Your Dependency on Cooked Food.
John Trudell

"I'm just a human being trying to make it in a world that is very rapidly losing its understanding of being human." — John Trudell

John Trudell’s double album Madness & The Moremes is available worldwide at www.johntrudell.com
On the subject of his extraordinary and acclaimed work as a recording artist, poet and champion of indigenous issues, John Trudell is as direct and plain spoken as the words he puts to music. A people’s poet in the truest sense of the term, John Trudell’s potent imagery and passionate convictions have established his reputation as a spoken word artist whose international following reflects the universal language of his music … and his message.

Kris Kristofferson once called John Trudell “a crazy lone wolf, poet, prophet, preacher, warrior full of pain and fun and laughter and love… He’s a reality check. Justice is a fire that burns inside him. His spirit cries out for it. It makes him dangerous.”

The dangerous poetry and visionary music of John Trudell was forged by an extraordinary life, lived out in heart of the land and its people. Born on February 15, 1946 of mixed tribal blood (Santee Sioux father and Mexican Indian mother), John grew up in and around the Santee Sioux reservation near Omaha, Nebraska. The struggle against economic and cultural deprivation would, in time, become the raw material for his uncompromising artistic vision.

Trudell, a Vietnam veteran, served in the U.S. Navy in 1963-1967, attended college for a while and then dropped out. In 1969, he participated in the occupation of Alcatraz Island by Indians of All Tribes, becoming a spokesman for Indians of All Tribes. After the Indians of All Tribes occupation ended in 1971, Trudell worked with the American Indian Movement, becoming national Chairman of AIM in 1973. Trudell was chairman of AIM from 1973 until 1979. During this tumultuous period, his work makes him one of the most highly political “subversives” of the 1970s, earning him one of the longest FBI files in history – more than 17,000 pages.

On February 12, 1979, Trudell led a march in Washington, D.C., to protest against the government policy on American Indians. Although he received a warning against speaking out, he delivered an address from the steps of the FBI building on the subject of the harassment of Indians and burned an American Flag. Less than 12 hours later, Trudell’s pregnant wife, Tina, his three children, and his wife’s mother were burned alive in a fire of never discovered origin in the family home in Duck Valley, Nevada.

It was through this horrific tragedy that Trudell began to find his voice as an artist and poet, writing, in his words, “to stay connected to this reality.” “The lines were my bombs,” he says, “my explosions, my tears.”

In April 1979, John Trudell met Jackson Browne. This meeting led him into the world of music. In 1982, with Jackson Browne’s help, John Trudell recorded Tribal Voice, a fusion of poetry and traditional Native music, which was released on cassette. In 1985, he met legendary Kiowa guitarist and songwriter Jesse Ed Davis. Together they recorded Trudell’s debut album, A.K.A. Grafitti Man, with Trudell writing and performing the spoken word vocals and Jesse writing and performing the music. Released on cassette in 1986, it was dubbed “the best album” of that year by none other than Bob Dylan. A.K.A. Grafitti Man served early notice of Trudell’s singular ability to express fundamental truths through a unique mix of poetry, Native instrumentation and unfettered blues and rock.

“When I go around in America,” John Trudell said in 1980, “and I see the bulk of the white people, they do not feel oppressed, they feel powerless. When I go amongst my people, we do not feel powerless, we feel oppressed. We do not want to make the trade… We must be willing in our lifetime to deal with reality. It’s not revolution, it’s liberation. We want to be free of a value system that’s being imposed upon us.

“We do not want to participate in that value system. We don’t want change in the value system. We want to remove it from our lives forever…We have to assume our responsibilities as power, as individuals, as spirit, as people.”

Trudell recorded two more albums with Jesse Ed Davis before Davis’ untimely death in 1988 and would continue the work the pair had pioneered, this time in partnership with Mark Shark, on such landmark early 90s releases as Fables and Other Realities and Child’s Voice: Children Of The Earth.

A touring stint with Australia’s incendiary Midnight Oil and roles in the feature films Thunderheart and Smoke Signals and the documentary Incident At Oglala, produced by Robert Redford, helped spread the word of the artist’s multi-faceted talents, as did a 1992 rerecording of A.K.A. Grafitti Man, this time produced by Jackson Browne. Released on Rykodisc, the album was dubbed by Rolling Stone magazine “a moving, shape-shifting rock & roll treatise on the state of the world.”

Two years later, Trudell would return with Johnny Dumas & Me and, in 1999, released the acclaimed Blue Indians album, once again produced by Browne. The album, remarked Parke Puterbaugh in Rolling Stone, “is an affecting marriage of tribal rhythms, traditional chanting, modern musical backdrops and Trudell’s penetrating poetics.”

His next album, Bone Days (2001), was recorded with Trudell’s longtime band, Bad Dog, and executive-produced by the actress Angelina Jolie. The album became, indeed, a testament to the essential qualities that put Trudell’s art in a category of one.

“Some people call me a poet,” Trudell says. “Others say I’m an activist. Some say my poetry and music is political. Others say it’s about the spirit of my people.” He laughs. “I don’t buy into any of those labels. I may be a little bit of all those things, but I’m more than any of them. We all are. That’s what makes us human.”

In 2005, Appaloosa Pictures and Balcony Releasing released the documentary Trudell about his life work. Cherokee filmmaker Heather Rae has spent more than a decade chronicling his travels, meetings, performances. Trudell steps outside of traditional forms and explores a figure of our contemporary history in a way that fairly represents the evocative nature of his work and life. Asked about the documentary, Trudell says he’s relieved that it’s about more than just him, that it also frames a portrait of the turbulent era of which he was a part.

“I’m very pleased that [Heather Rae] took my history and placed it into the context of the larger history,” he says.

At 62, he has “no major complaints” with the way his life has turned out.

“We made it back to the 60s,” he says with a laugh, referring to his age and his generation. “In the first 60s, we did it all out of emotional beliefs and idealism. Maybe we’ll do things more coherently this time, with more understanding.”

Robert Redford says in the documentary: “Conversations I’ve had with John were explosive, not too dissimilar from what people feel when speaking with the Dalai Lama.”

The film also includes interviews with Wilma Mankiller, the former Chief of the Cherokee Nation and currently an advisor to the United Nations and a Board of Trustees member for the Ford Foundation; Jackson Browne, Fenicia Ordonez-Trudell, Dino Butler, Gary Farmer, Val Kilmer, Kris Kristofferson, Kelly Davis, Manning Family (Duck Valley, NV), Bonnie Raitt, Amy Ray, Sam Shepard, Rick Powers and the Bad Dog band members – Quiltman, Mark Shark and Ricky Eckstein.

Premiered at the 2005 Sundance Film Festival and then presented at more than 40 other film festivals, Trudell received many prestigious awards, including the 2005 Seattle International Film Festival’s Special Jury Prize for Best Documentary and the 2005 Artivist Film Festival’s Jury Prize for Human Rights.

The independently produced double album Madness & The Moremes (“moremes” is pronounced “more meez,” meaning the different aspects of the self) showcases more than five years of new music and includes special Ghost Tracks of old favorite Trudell tunes made with legendary Kiowa guitarist Jesse Ed Davis.

“As a point of reference, did you ever do something that you look back on and wonder, I did that?” John Trudell says. “Or if something comes up and you wonder how you’re going to get through it, and then you get through it. Well, I call these the more mes. The aspects of our personalities that have to deal with life.”

This release offers a full range of classic Trudell poetry – there are lyrics filled with penetrating insight and others with knockout humor, all put to some of the best music Trudell’s band Bad Dog has ever made.

John Trudell says about his poetry:

“When I first started writing, I didn’t consider it in terms of poetry, and I do not consider myself to be a poet. I write what is called poetry, but I do other things.

“It was not till 1979 that I started to write these lines. My wife Tina used to write poetry before she met me. When she met me, she stopped. She never wrote anymore. Within a matter of months after she had left, I started writing lines. That’s how it is…

“Then I put them away. I let some people, who were my friends, see them. It made sense to them, and they encouraged it.

“What the poetry is about to me in my own mind is life and the illusions. What is happening, what the human spirit must go through, what all spirit must go through to some degree. It speaks of experience we all go through at one time or another.”

But as you get away from the “average bloke,” you begin to see that the government of Australia starts to resemble that of America. There is indeed a militant faction that seeks to force its wishes upon the peace-loving people, even when it opposed everything good that embodies the “land down under” and sets it apart from other aggressive countries.

This paradox is exposed in a situation known as the “Australian Apocalypse.” It involves a beautiful collection of 42 islands and islets on the West coast of Australia – called the Dampier Archipelago – that contains the world’s largest collection of rock art comprising at least 600,000 extremely ancient petroglyphs and millions of stone arrangements dating back to the last ice age.

Were this ancient museum of human history located in other countries it might be designated a World Heritage Site or made into a National Park. But the Australian government has chosen to use this site for other purposes. Starting in 1963 and continuing through 2004, the government of Western Australia allowed the islands to be used for huge petrochemical plants and storage facilities, destroying a quarter of the petroglyphs outright and eroding those that remain from chemical residues. Although the actual Dampier site measures just a few square kilometers, they have already crammed explosive material there equal to 1,500,000 tons of TNT or the same potential as 100 Hiroshima-size bombs! New plans, opposed by a majority of Australians, would add an additional equivalent of 1,800,000 tons of TNT, or the equivalent of 120 Hiroshima-size bombs!

Explosive material already at Dampier LNG facility

- 4 LNG tanks, a total of 260,000 m³ of liquified gas.
- 4 condensate tanks, a total of 324,000 m³.
- 1 propane tank with 52,000 m³.
- 1 butane tank with 65,000 m³.

The LNG is stored at -161°C.

Additional explosive material proposed for Dampier LNG facility

- 2 LNG tanks, a total of 320,000 m³ of liquid gas.
- 3 condensate tanks, a total of 120,000 m³.

The combines explosive power will equal 220 Hiroshima-size bombs!

“The gradual destruction since 1964 of the Dampier Cultural Precinct, Australia’s largest cultural monument, is unquestionably the... planet’s most serious case of state vandalism in recent history. It exceeds the extent of cultural heritage destruction caused by the former Taliban regime of Afghanistan.”

FUTURE DISASTER IS FEARED

The concentration of such a huge explosive potential – equivalent to 220 Hiroshima-size bombs – presents a potential danger that boggles the mind. Industry experts claim that LNG facilities are safe and pose a low risk; however, history tells a different story. In the Southern Ural Mountain area of Russia, a blast in 1989 killed 575 people and injured over 700. In Chongqing Province, China, a 2003 explosion killed 234 workers and injured 500. In Skikda, Algeria, a 2004 accident killed 27 workers and injured 72. In Ghislenghien, Belgium, a 2004 accident killed 23 and injured more than 120...

Since these LNG facilities are usually located in remote areas the human damage is small. What worries Australia’s citizens at Dampier is the potential to totally obliterate the ancient rock art.

THE ANCIENT TREASURES OF DAMPIER

In America, our cultural heritage goes back about 400 years, when the first Pilgrims landed from Europe. Our indigenous people, the Native American Indians, have a culture that goes back about 10,000 years to the Clovis People. But all we have of these distant cultures could fit inside a shoebox and consists of fragments of charcoal and a few spear points. We know virtually nothing of their thoughts or traditions – i.e. what makes them “tick.”

In Europe and Asia we have a similar scarcity of artifacts dating back to about 20,000 years, reflected in a few cave paintings and more flint tools. But in the Dampier Archipelago we have so much more. We have art, drawn or pecked into stone for ritualistic, educational and religious purposes. Most has not yet even been evaluated by archaeologists and is a detailed history of the human race waiting to tell its story.

The area where most of the petroglyphs are located is quite small and concentrated. It measures about 27 by 5 kilometers. An examination of the topography reveals that these islands were originally connected to each other and to the mainland of Australia at a time when the ocean level was much lower. Scientists estimate that the sea invaded most of the lowlands some 6000 years ago.

Most likely, the sea now claims a large portion of the petroglyphs, making the remaining glyphs all that more special and valuable to historians and archaeologists.

In 1960 a causeway and rail system was constructed to connect the islands with the shore, but the area has remained largely unstudied and underappreciated. This is largely because the region of Western Australia is itself remote and underpopulated. Archaeologists who do make the effort to visit the petroglyph sites are extremely surprised by the variety, quantity and age of these ancient images.

One way to look at the site is to consider it as a very ancient museum. At a time before humans developed a language or system or writing, pictures were used to record events and express ideas. The area is literally a history book, written upon rock, that tells the story of humanity going back to the pleistocene era. Some sites are from 40,000 to 60,000 years old!

Petroglyphs are made using any of three techniques. The most common in known as “pecking” where a sharp stone has been used to chip away the surface of the granophyne stone (an extremely fine grain ans hard rock compound). The surface is usually a darker color because of atmospheric oxidation, called patination, and the underlying rock is a lighter color, making the petroglyphs highly visible. Another technique is to use a sharp stone to scrape the surface of the stone, revealing the lighter underlying rock. The third method is called “bruising” where a stone is pounded against the surface, compressing it and causing particles to fall away, revealing a lighter color.
Most of the images are of animals, fish, birds, mammals – including some that are long extinct – and spirits. They represent legends, achievements, fantasies and perhaps even music of the earliest human beings. Some of the petroglyphs have repeating images with each image being slightly different. This used to puzzle archaeologists until they realized this was an ancient method of animation. In this way, dances and hunting techniques could be recorded in “steps” that were understood by the viewer.

The earliest recorded inhabitants of the Dampier Archipelago were the Yaburara people. Unfortunately they were killed in a shameful massacre over an eight day period in 1868, a dark episode in Aboriginal history called the “Flying Foam Massacre.”

Modern men have advanced much with our technology and science, but at what cost? So-called “primitive” humans were more in touch with nature, the earth and felt connected to both in ways that modern men have forgotten. Perhaps this art can stimulate some archetypal memories of what it means to be human and part of nature, instead of the creatures that have evolved to manipulate and control it...

In 2001 the Australian government (Western Australia) tried to make reparations by deeding the land back to the Aboriginal people but stipulated that they would have to lease the land back to the government for 99 years. The agreement also stated that the Australian government could do whatever it wanted with the land and was not required to consult or seek approval from the Aboriginal people. This Burrup and Maitlans Industrial Estates Agreement is what prevents the Aboriginal people from protecting their cultural land and artifacts from being destroyed.

Concerned groups of Australian citizens have tried to ban industrial use of the land, but it appears their efforts are too late. The huge complex, containing mostly explosive gas and fuel, is there to stay. Instead, groups have been attempting to ban future expansion of the area. The World Monument Top 100 Endangered Sites now lists Dampier as one of their top priorities. Further, the Australian Aboriginal Heritage Act (Section 18) prohibits the destruction or removal of rock art and this violation is being contested by both sides.

Recently the destruction of the rock art sites by residual chemicals, vapors and byproducts and come to the attention of UNESCO, who declared these acts to be a destruction of International Cultural Heritage (October 2003). Sulphur and nitrogen is rapidly eating away the patina on the rocks, eroding the petroglyphs that have, until now, endured tens of thousands of years!

What can be done? Solutions have been suggested – coating the rocks with a protective resin, moving the rocks to a more accessible and less dangerous location – but time is running out and the funds for such remedies are not to be found. Perhaps extensive documentation with digital technology might be an immediate step to conserving the art for future study. This is an approach that we, at Viewzone, support. But we want you, the reader, to tell us what you think should be done. Please write to us. Our website is at www.viewzone.com.

Dampier petroglyphs.
BRIEF REFERENCE HAS RECENTLY BEEN MADE TO AN incident in 1868 that is known as the ‘Flying Foam Massacre’. It is said to have taken place just north of Murujuga (or Burrup Peninsula), in the Dampier Archipelago of Western Australia. In the interest of clarity it seems requisite that some details concerning what is known about this incident be made available.

The issue is related to the ineptness of successive governments of Western Australia in dealing with the massive rock art corpus of Murujuga, and it seems relevant to consider how this government gained sovereignty over the land it now chooses to call Burrup Peninsula. Moreover, this example is also useful in illustrating the extreme violence with which the Aborigines were routinely ‘pacified’ by the British invaders.

The event that took place supposedly at Flying Foam Passage, located to the north of Murujuga, on 17 February 1868 was only one part of an extended campaign lasting through the rest of February, and continuing in March and May 1868. During this period several massacres of Yaburara took place on and around Murujuga, so it would not be correct to describe this period of systematic extermination as a single massacre that took place in a single locality. It may be more appropriate to speak of the Murujuga Campaign, which was apparently only survived by a few individuals.

The number of Aborigines killed in this campaign is unknown, because the official report is clearly unreliable, self-contradictory and self-serving. It must be appreciated that the hostilities were initiated by a police officer, Constable Griffis, who had apparently abducted a young Aboriginal woman at gunpoint and took her ‘into the bush’. He then arrested her husband, Coolyerberri, on a charge of stealing flour from a pearling boat, on 6 February 1868. That night he and his native assistant, named Peter, camped with two pearlers, Bream and Jermyn, on the west coast of Murujuga, chaining their prisoner by the neck to a tree. During this time he had realised that the campaign had not been handled in a lawful manner, and there is historical evidence that Sholl exercised ‘leniency’ then. Perhaps by that time the rest of February, and continuing in March and May 1868. During this period several massacres of Yaburara took place on and around Murujuga, so it would not be correct to describe this period of systematic extermination as a single massacre that took place in a single locality. It may be more appropriate to speak of the Murujuga Campaign, which was apparently only survived by a few individuals.

The number of Aborigines killed in this campaign is unknown, because the official report is clearly unreliable, self-contradictory and self-serving. It must be appreciated that the hostilities were initiated by a police officer, Constable Griffis, who had apparently abducted a young Aboriginal woman at gunpoint and took her ‘into the bush’. He then arrested her husband, Coolyerberri, on a charge of stealing flour from a pearling boat, on 6 February 1868. That night he and his native assistant, named Peter, camped with two pearlers, Bream and Jermyn, on the west coast of Murujuga, chaining their prisoner by the neck to a tree. During the night they were attacked by nine Yaburara men who, in freeing Coolyerberri speared Griffis to death, also killing Peter and Bream in the ensuing fight.

The Government Resident in Roebourne, R. J. Sholl, examined the site some days later and estimated from the tracks that about 100 Aborigines had been present. He swore in two parties of special constables, totalling nineteen men, and sent them to apprehend the nine Aboriginal men who had been named as the murderers.

One party moved in by land, the other by sea, sailing to the north end of Murujuga on a cutter, ostensibly to prevent the Yaburara from escaping to other islands. No handcuffs or chains to secure any prisoners were carried by the government force, and in fact only two prisoners were taken but they escaped because of this lack of means to secure them. According to the police report, only a few people were killed when the main camp (presumably in King Bay rather than Flying Foam Passage) was located and attacked on 17 February. However, according to David Carly, a settler from Roebourne, about sixty Yaburara were killed on that occasion.

According to an old Ngarluma (or Ngaluma) man, whose information came from the few Yaburara who had survived the campaign, thirty or forty people were killed in that massacre. My own informant quoted a figure of twenty-six, but his account of Griffis’ spearing differs significantly from the police report. Carly reported in 1885 that he himself examined fifteen skulls at the site, three of which were of children, ‘and two of these small skulls had bullet holes in them’.

The indiscriminate killing of women and children, apparently even at close range, combined with the lack of materials to secure prisoners imply that there was no intention to limit the ‘reprisals’ to the apprehension and trial of the nine men accused of killing Griffis and his companions. This is confirmed by the events of the following ten weeks, during which an unknown number of further massacres occurred on Murujuga and nearby. Only a few such events have been recorded officially.

On 19 February, Aborigines trying to cross Flying Foam Passage on logs were chased by a posse in a rowing boat and shot in the water, as were others on land nearby. Another attack occurred on the following day, on either Angel or Gidley Island, as the distraught fugitives tried to escape to other islands. Three Aborigines were shot dead in March at Maitland River, well into the territory of the Mardu-Dunera, presumably trying to escape into the mainland. By this time the campaign was conducted by a police party led by a Constable Francisco.

In May, four more were arrested on Legrende Island, two of whom were sent to Rottnest Island Prison for twelve years. Two more men ‘gave themselves up’ in early 1869, and it is interesting that Sholl exercised ‘leniency’ then. Perhaps by that time he had realised that the campaign had not been handled in a lawful manner, and there is historical evidence that certain Roebourne residents had expressed their disgust with the extermination campaign.

On this basis it would seem that only six Yaburara survived the bloodbath, according to the official records. What was their number before these events? Sholl himself acknowledges the presence of about 100 at the site where Griffis met his fate. There is thus a substantial deficiency between the vaguely implied but unstated numbers of dead in the police records, and the number of Yaburara before the massacres.

Based on the demography of similarly resource-rich coastal environments as that of the Dampier Archipelago... and on historical accounts, I believe that the Yaburara numbered between 100 and 200. Their numbers would have been limited by a shortage of freshwater supplies in the dry season and the need to move seasonally. No doubt some escaped the massacres by being sheltered by pearlers or settlers, and some may even have survived by hiding in the barren boulder piles of the islands, managing to avoid the constabulary.

On that basis the number killed at the initial massacre was probably somewhere between twenty-six and sixty. The number that died in the entire campaign can only be conjectured, but could have been anywhere in the order of forty to 100 (including those who may have perished subsequently, due to injuries, starvation or other circumstances induced directly by the massacres).

After the initial ambush at King Bay, hunting down small groups or individuals in the rock piles and mangrove flats would have been difficult. Perhaps the most successful strategy was to push the scattered groups into the sea, prompting them to cross to the remaining islands of the archipelago. Once in the water they were easy targets and marine creatures would have consumed their remains.

The killing of three people at Maitland River later in the campaign suggests that, once escape to the islands seemed futile, some of the desperate fugitives turned south in a final attempt to break out of their predicament. Significantly, the last contact is reported at Legendre Island, which is furthest out to sea: there was nowhere left to flee from there.

The perhaps most striking aspect of the Murujuga Campaign is the almost complete absence of any captives, in fact the only prisoners seem to have been men: two were apprehended early but escaped, four were taken prisoner at the end of the campaign, and two gave themselves up subsequently. So what was the fate of the women and children? It is not likely that they were perceived as a significant threat by the heavily armed posses, so why were they not spared and captured?

Throughout Australia, the shortage of females in frontier regions led to the practice of ‘recruiting’ Indigenous females, and in fact the Murujuga Campaign was itself ignited by this very issue. The wholesale killing of women and children in this Campaign is therefore particularly important in understanding its agenda. I submit that this is a classical case of premeditated genocide, and that it was committed not by rogue settlers taking the law into their own hands, but by police officers and special constables working in the service of the State of Western Australia. Therefore this seems to be a prima facie case of the state-sanctioned, intentional extermination of an entire division of the Ngarluma people.

The Yaburara occupied a specific geographical area, encompassing Murujuga, the remaining eastern part of the Archipelago, and the coastal mainland region of Nickol Bay, including what today is Karratha. They would have regarded themselves as possessing sovereignty over this land, and the government of Western Australia acquired this sovereignty by an act of genocide.

The current claims of this government over the land, its apportioning a century later of the land to various companies, its collection of royalties from these companies and its systematic destruction of the Yaburara’s cultural remains since 1964 all need to be seen in this light. Not only do these claims need to be tested in an international court of law, there should be no doubt that the Ngarluma have a legitimate basis to seek compensation for the described action by servants of the State in 1868.

Together with interest for the intervening period, such material compensation should be quite substantial. In return, the Ngarluma community should also make reparation to the State, by returning one small bag of flour that Coolyberri is alleged to have stolen.

Matrix of Power
How the world has been controlled by powerful people without your knowledge

Jordan Maxwell is considered to be one of the world’s foremost authorities on ancient religions and modern conspiracies. His work on the true meaning of symbols, logos, and company insignias has also fascinated audiences around the world for years.

He grew up in a family that had high-ranking insiders in international politics and religion, so had access to behind the scenes information that few people could imagine during his early years. This intrigued him, and set him off on a lifetime of investigation.

This book is the result of his many years of investigation.

Who really runs the world? Who controls the money, the politics, and almost every facet of life without you knowing a thing about it? Is such a thing possible?

Explore this fascinating subject with a man who has devoted a lifetime of study to uncovering our “hidden masters.”

Jordan Maxwell has made countless radio and TV appearances including three CBS television specials, and has numerous videos of his work available, many of them at YouTube and Google Video.

His files of documentation are enormous, yet this is his first book as a sole author (he previously appeared in The Book Your Church Does Not Want You to Read and That Old Time Religion, with Paul Tice).

What the Hell Am I Doing Here Anyway?
How an interdimensional race has controlled the world for thousands of years – and still does

We thirst for freedom, yet all the while we are imprisoned by conditioned beliefs and paralysed by fear. Freedom and restrictions do not go well together. They are constantly at odds with one another. And since both are constant companions, the stage is set for a permanent dual. So, like sheep, we suffer, wear ourselves out and eventually die.

Yet like the winged mare, we too are boundless and immortal… That we too have forgotten.

The time has come for us to take the leap, to reawaken to our real nature, to acknowledge our innate divinity!

Children of the Matrix
How an interdimensional race has controlled the world for thousands of years – and still does

There are two things you need if you are to uncover and communicate what is really happening in the world. One is to be free of any dogmatic belief system. The second is not to give a damn what people think and say about you, or, at least, not to let that influence your decisions.

We are born into a world controlled by unseen forces that have plagued and manipulated humanity for thousands of years. No, this is no script from a Hollywood movie. It is happening to you now. You may look around and think that what you see is “real”. But in truth you are living in an illusion – an illusion designed to keep you in a mental, emotional, and spiritual prison cell.

David Icke exposes these forces and their methods of human control and he reveals a fantastic web of global manipulation, orchestrated by forces beyond this physical realm. He exposes the hidden bloodlines, through which interdimensional entities live and operate unseen among us; and he shows how the bloodlines of the royal, political, and economic rulers of today are the same as those who ruled as the kings and queens of ancient times.

Icke takes the story on from his highly acclaimed ...And The Truth Shall Set You Free and The Biggest Secret, and he lifts still further the veil of secrecy that has maintained humanity in manipulated ignorance for so long.

The truth is not only “out there”. Much of it is “right here.”
“True freedom is inside”
(“Inside” is an expression that also means “in prison”)

The author brings us into the heart of the prison system, in the midst of nonsense and violence. Step by step, we follow her adventure as she discovers the way out of human slavery – and finally escapes!

What can bring a 66 year old woman, mother to four children and nine grandchildren, to choose prison instead of knitting in front of the fireplace or travelling the world? She confides: “I had everything: a close-knit family, a respectable profession, success, material comfort, good health. I should have been happy, but a little voice inside me was calling for help. My soul wanted to escape from her prison and accomplish her destiny.”

“I listened to my soul and I discovered true freedom.”
